

What does the word 'equality' mean to you? You can express or show this in a way you feel confident e.g. a poem, recount, explanation etc.	Create a word search of the counties that make up Britain.	Write a fact file about Jane Goodall. Who is she? What was her contribution to science?
Choose a landform or landscape and write a poem about it. Remember to think about your ambitious vocabulary.	Create a piece of artwork depicting a famous landmark that can be found in Britain, using a technique of your choice (painting, drawing, collage etc).	Design a webpage that could be used to promote tourism in a coastal town/city that is NOT in the UK.
Write a story linked to global warming. It could be anywhere in the world.	Create a geography dictionary on the different physical features that can be found in the UK, which could be used to teach a future class.	Last year, there were 3,594,496 visitors to Edinburgh Castle. On average, how many visited each day?
Mrs Wright & Mr Gerrard go to the beach and have to put up a windbreak at 80 degrees to avoid sand getting in their picnic. Can you draw what this would look like?	Create a 3D model of a plant and its reproductive features. Label each part and explain what it does.	Two men decide to sail round the coastline of mainland Britain, which is 11,073 miles in total. If they sail at a rate of 85 miles per day. How long will it take them to complete a full circuit?
Find out about the different species that live on a moor. Create a fact file for a moorland animal of your choice.	Research how the coastline of Britain has changed over the last 100 years.	Bake your own cakes or biscuits and decorate them with different stages of a lifecycle.
