ALUMNI PRESIDENT'S LETTER

The Memorial Plaque pictured on the front cover of this Bulletin was erected by the Alumni Association in the Common Room of the School last summer. Current world events have increased the impact and significance of this permanent memorial even beyond the thoughts of those who planned it early this year.

Your contributions (called dues) made this memorial possible. In fact they cover all Association expenditures including publication of this Bulletin, maintenance of the Alumni Room in the school and our annual contribution to the Scholarship Fund.

Donation of scholarship money is the one Alumni Association effort from which the School derives the most direct benefit. We are delighted to announce that starting this year we will be able to contribute $500.00 instead of $400.00 as in the past.

However, no material contribution we might make can compare in value to the School in its plans, objectives and hopes for the future than your personal active and continuing interest. It is the purpose of this Bulletin to engender and increase such interest throughout the Alumni body both in the affairs of the School and in the activities of the Alumni Association.

Both the Upper and Lower Schools are operating at the top limits of their physical capacities under the ablest of management and leadership. If you have "lost touch", visit the School and get reacquainted. There are changes and improvements each year.

Come to the banquet on the 20th!

Dudley Shoemaker, Jr.

SEVEN YEAR'S GROWTH

The statisticians tell us that 48 per cent of the population of our Country do not remember what conditions were like before World War II and that out of the 140 odd million people in the United States today, 63 per cent do not remember World War I. It occurs to me that there are many Gilman Alumni who cannot remember Gilman prior to the Headmastership of Henry Callard and that an even larger group may not have had the opportunity to be brought up to date on the recent development and present status of Gilman.

The most noteworthy and, to me, the most exciting progress has been in the field of innovations and wise experimentation in the curriculum and new educational methods which have been introduced. However, I understand that our Headmaster will report to you in this issue on this aspect of the School and I will only comment that I hope his usual modesty will not obscure the achievements. My comments are to be directed to the material side of the picture.

Gilman is now entering its eighth year under Mr. Callard, who came to the School as Headmaster for the school year 1943-1944. Expressed in business terms, the results during this seven year period have been remarkable: without expanding plant, output has almost doubled and product improved.

Seven years ago the School's enrollment stood at 258. Entering its eighth year under Mr. Callard, it has increased to 501. (September 1943 the Lower School stood at 93, Upper School 165 and there were 23 boarders; in September 1950, Lower School 199, Upper School 302 and there are 50 boarders.)

To assure that the larger output would not be at the sacrifice of quality, our Faculty has kept pace with the growth in the student body. There were 29 Faculty members in 1943, there are 43 on the Faculty now. Our ratio is approximately one Master to eleven boys.

The record enrollment, which has been consistently increasing each of the past eight years, has utilized our School plant to the full but the development of the cultural, aesthetic and spiritual side of the life of the School has been balanced with a steady strengthening of the practical business side of the School's existence. The fine Upper School building, now forty years old, has received a step up in maintenance and has been substantially improved. This, together with upkeep of the Lower School, other buildings and the School's 65 acres of land, has required substantial expenditures, progressively increasing from $11,000.00 per year seven years ago to $42,000.00 during the last year. Maintenance expenditures during the seven years total approximately $165,000.00. Much of this has been required for normal upkeep such as plumbing repairs, replacement for worn-out boilers, painting of classrooms and buildings, and for copper gutters to replace those which developed rust holes during their forty years of existence. The list would be too extensive even to mention. Furthermore, it should be emphasized that wherever repairs and replacements have been made, the best obtainable materials have been used. For example, 20-ounce copper was used instead of lighter, cheaper and less durable material for the roof gutters, automatic stokers for the worn-out hand fired furnaces, the best tiling and fixtures have been used in renewal of the now antiquated bathroom facilities.

Recent Improvements

It is important to note further, that the real concern of the School's organization has not been directed at simply maintaining the School. Improvements have been substantial. Among the outstanding physical improvements have been the following:

Installation of the best possible and most modern lighting facilities in all classrooms, laboratories and library spaces.

Installation of a new study hall for the Second Form of the Upper School alongside the First Form Study Hall, thus constituting an area which might be thought of as a Middle School.

Installation of a new library for use by Sixth Formers only, thus filling the long-felt need of a proper study area for the graduating class.

The building of one new Faculty residence on the campus.

The setting up of two buildings, brought down from Aberdeen, Maryland, which provide excellent facilities for Shop and Art work.

The installation of four hard surface all-weather tennis courts which permit much greater practice than has heretofore been possible on the clay courts alone.

The last two above listed projects were largely accomplished with volunteer labor of students and Faculty during summer vacations.

An impressive part of all the foregoing in regard to greater staff and very substantial expenditures for maintenance and improvement, is that their costs have not been covered by means of increases in price. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York Cost of Living Index shows approximately a 60 per cent increase in the past 15 years as contrasted with an increase in our tuition charges of a little less than 25 per cent.

Thus the heavy increases in costs incident to all the teaching and plant improvements at Gilman have been met largely through its greater volume of business and its efficient management. At the same time, the School's financial position has been strengthened.

It is obvious from this brief resume of the last seven years of growth, that Gilman is being run by a man who possesses a most unusual combination of the best imaginative and spiritual qualities with the more sternly practical and realistic faculties, and that he is building a strong and well-rounded Faculty. The summation of the School's seven years of growth and improvement is not intended to imply that its organization is satisfied with its present stage of development. Much more is needed. Constant curriculum experimentation will continue. Faculty improvement will continue both by on-the-job training and by additions. Facilities and plant and athletic fields will be added to and bettered. Effort will be made toward complete elimination of the School's indebtedness. It is hoped that somehow, in some way, many more houses for Faculty members can be provided. This is recognized as one of the School's greatest unmet needs. There are many, many other needs on which the thinking and active help of the Alumni and the public are anxiously desired. With that help and backing behind our Headmaster, there is no doubt that the great advances made under him during the last seven years will, being projected another seven years into the future, place the Gilman Country School on that eminence which is occupied by only a very few schools in history: that of being a truly great School.

EDWARD K. DUNN,

HEADMASTER'S LETTER

October 1, 1950

To the Gilman Alumni:

I am happy to have this opportunity through the Bulletin to report to you on the state of the School, for I know of your eagerness to have recent news of what we are doing and of plans and developments. We have started the 54th year of the school with 501 boys, of whom 86 are sons of Alumni. Thus far we have been fortunate in retaining intact the Upper School staff, but we have lost Mr. Jones and Mr. Robinson of the Lower School who have been called into the Service with their Reserve units. We miss them greatly in many ways. Since Mr. Jones' departure I have been substituting for him in the Lower School.

With the growth of the School, we have had to convert for classroom and study use in the Upper School space occupied as living quarters by Mr. Hausmann and Dr. Oscarson in recent years. We now have enlarged library facilities, which have been steadily improved and more extensively used in recent years, under the excellent leadership of a fine librarian; and the Sixth Formers have an ideal library-study room where they do their daily preparation. The size of the First and Second Forms of the Upper School has made it desirable to develop a middle school and to provide for these boys more guidance and direction than in the past. This group of nearly 120 boys have particular needs and problems which we are seeking to handle more wisely by a different approach from that of the older boys. Some masters are specializing in the teaching of these forms, and a committee of these men handles quickly individual and group problems as they arise. I am very hopeful that this development will result in our work with younger boys being more effective because our approach to them through a middle school faculty will be more skillful and pertinent to their age and their needs.

We continue to have very fine academic material, and the scholastic attainments have been satisfactory as there is every reason for them to be. Last year all of the graduating class, numbering 43 members, were admitted to four-year colleges of good standing, as evidenced by the complete list of colleges which our graduates entered, in descending order of the number of graduates entering: Princeton—12; Yale—6; Hopkins—5; Virginia—5; Washington and Lee—3; Cornell—2; Harvard—2; Columbia—1; Dartmouth—1; Denison—1; Haverford—1; M. I. T.—1; Trinity—1; William and Mary—1; Williams—1.

Our great concern in recent years has been an increasing awareness of the importance of the non-academic education of boys. With a high average intelligence among the student body, good scholastic achievement is not difficult to accomplish. But we know that this is only a partial though important part of the total educational process for every boy. We have had a growing realization of the transcendent need for developing in boys socially desirable attitudes and a disposition to be constructive, useful citizens with moral purpose, spiritual resources, and firm convictions of right and decency in all their relationships. These elements have often been neglected because their attainment is less certain, the methods of education are less well developed, and the results are less sure and measurable. We have spent a great deal of time thinking of ways by which we can contribute to this fundamental part of the education of young people, which is shared with the home and other agencies. We know the immensity of the task and the difficulties to be encountered, but we are more than ever convinced that it is both our great responsibility and our great opportunity.

We have always done a great deal in meeting this problem, often unconsciously and not deliberately; but we are seeking to meet this growing educational need in a number of additional ways. One approach recently tried experimentally has been a program of experiences for Sixth Formers in the field of civic education. I hesitate to attribute too much to the program at this time, but through a first-hand study of various areas and agencies of community life boys have acquired a greater knowledge and interest in civic affairs and, we believe, a feeling of obligation and responsibility which many of our citizens have lacked. Whether or not their present attitudes will persist, the course of time will tell; and unfortunately the effectiveness of what we are trying to do now in this and other ways cannot be known for many years to come. But I speak of this aspect of the School's work because I believe in its great importance to this generation of boys and because we are constantly thinking about it and seeking new and better means for achieving it.

In closing I would like to mention our recent consideration of the School and the relation of its program to the needs of older boys living in an atmosphere of approaching military service. We have considered many suggestions and our conclusion briefly stated is that we feel that we should do everything possible to strengthen their conviction in the hopeful destiny of the world and the part that they as individuals can play in it. More important than any particular skill, in our judgment, are qualities of physical and spiritual stamina, attitudes of confidence about the future of society and of our country, and a willingness to meet the uncertainties and the probable trials of life with cheerful courage and a feeling that life owes them nothing but an opportunity to show that they can take whatever comes to them and prove their worth by being able to surmount difficulties as great people have done before them. This means doing better what we are already seeking to do and adapting our program in various ways as conditions arise, such as full participation in the developing plans for civilian defense.

I hope that you will keep in touch with us and give us the help of your thoughts and suggestions in any aspect of our work.

With best regards and good wishes, I am

Faithfully yours,

HENRY H. CALLARD,
Headmaster.

ATHLETICS

Football '49. Although hampered seriously by injuries to key players during the latter part of the season, the Varsity football team almost broke even, winning 3 games and losing 4. With all but one of last year's starters graduated and with only two returning lettermen, the opinion of most observers was that Gilman was in for a rough season.

GILMAN 14 CALVERT HALL 6

Entering the first game a two to three touchdown underdog against a beefy Calvert Hall eleven, Gilman won in an upset 14-6, which turned out to be the only real bright spot in the season. Coach Carter's team, operating from a single wing back formation, powered to a first period touchdown, sparked by the running and passing of tailback, Hugh Young. From the six yard line, Bobby Russell bulled his way through for the score and from then on, despite the apparent closeness of the score, Gilman was in complete control of the outcome.

POLY 20 GILMAN 6

Poly handed Gilman its first defeat the following week 20 to 6. Recovering a Poly fumble early in the game, Gilman took advantage of their opportunity, scoring on a reverse, with Sam Lumpkin going over for the score and held their lead of 6 points at the half. Disaster struck in the second half, however, as the Engineers ran back the opening kickoff to the 12 yard line to set up their first touchdown. Poly scored twice more to make the final score, Poly 20, Gilman 6.

GILMAN 34 SEVERN 0

Tallying almost at will, Gilman, playing at home, scored an easy 34-0 triumph over the Little Admirals from the banks of the Severn on October 14. Severn was never able to get sustained drive under way on the soggy, rain-drenched gridiron, but the Blue backs picked up considerable yardage as almost every play seemed to click. Russell, Young, Brown and Eastman all tallied for Gilman, with the latter hitting pay dirt twice on deep reverses around his own left end.

EPISCOPAL 14 GILMAN 0

Episcopal High School of Alexandria, Virginia, journeyed to Roland Park next and for the second straight week the play was hampered by rain. The game was marred by numerous fumbles by both sides, but Episcopal seized the forcing hand early in the game by running back a punt 60 yards for a touchdown. From then on, they played very conservatively, using safe slant and inside plays. Gilman tried desperately to get back in the game in the third quarter but between the powerful Virginians and the slippery pigskin, their efforts were thwarted. Episcopal recovered a fumble deep in the Gilman territory in the waning minutes of the game and pushed over another touchdown for insurance, making the final score 14-0.

GILMAN 18 LANDON 0

With a balanced ledger of two wins and two losses, Gilman traveled to Bethesda, Maryland, to edge a stubborn Landon team. After a scoreless first period, Bob Russell broke loose for 55 yards and a touchdown. Russell tallied again in the third period, going 45 yards for this one, and Carroll Waters completed the scoring with a 30 yard touchdown dash. The victory proved costly, however, for Russell sustained a broken wrist which sidelined him for the rest of the season.

ST. PAUL'S 18 GILMAN 0

For the third year in a row, St. Paul's shut out our team. Although scoring in each of the first three periods, the Crusaders had their hands full. Hampered by the loss of Russell and Young in the backfield, the Blue and Gray eleven could never put together a sustained drive. However, Bobby Stinson came into his own in this game with his hard running from the full back position. But the Saint's were not to be denied. They displayed a powerful attack, mixing pass plays with charges through the line to good advantage.

MCDONOGH 32 GILMAN 0

The final game of the season was indeed painful for the "Gilmans". Playing in John McDonogh Stadium, the Cadets trimmed their oldest rivals 32-0. The overwhelming score can be attributed to the determined play of the Cadets plus the fact that our team severely felt the loss of key players through injury. McDonogh got the jump and never let up. Sweeping our ends and running almost at will, the partisan Blue and Gray spectators had very little about which to cheer.

CARTER SWITCHES TO SPLIT T!

Football '50. Coach Nick Carter has switched this year from his usual single-wing back formation to the much publicized split-T formation. He reasons that he can utilize his material better and put more scoring punch in Gilman's attack. (He says that the basic difference between the split-T and the conventional T are: (1) Your linesmen are spaced wider apart for better blocking angles. (2) Your quarterback, instead of wheeling in place for his pitch-outs and hand-offs, moves laterally along the line.)

GILMAN 21 ST. PAUL 0

And for the moment it looks like the change is paying off as Gilman opened its season with a sound shellacking of St. Paul's 21-0.

GILMAN 23 CALVERT HALL 6

Again this split-T formation produced sudden scoring power, as Quarterback, Bobby Russell broke through tackle for 58 and 45 yard touchdowns. If the Blue team continues to operate as smoothly as in these first two games, there is a good chance that it will enjoy it's best season in many years.

Basketball '49-'50. Under the New League arrangement of two Divisions, Gilman was placed in Division II. The Blue team breezed through all their league games to reach the play-offs against Towson Catholic, Division I winner, only to lose in a hotly contested 27-18 battle. However, winning the Division II title automatically boosts Gilman into Division I this year, where the competition is much keener. And with only Bob Stinson, Bob Russell and Jimmy Menton returning from last year's 16 man squad and Coach John Robinson being called to active duty by the Army, this year's team will have a hard job to try and equal the past fine season.

GILMAN 41 ALUMNI 27

During the Christmas holidays the varsity avenged the previous year's defeat by trouncing the Alumni with a last quarter rally to humble the former prep stars 41-27. The Alumni made it a real home-coming as 22 of their number were used in the line-up.

Gilman, paced by Elmer Dunkak, trailed by one point, at 22 to 23, after three periods, but as the fourth quarter began, the varsity stepped up the pace and pulled away to win easily.

This winter the Varsity-Alumni game is tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, December 20, 1950, and because of the large turn-out of Alumni players and general interest last year, there will be two games, beginning with the Junior Varsity playing one group of Alumni at 7:30 P.M. and the Varsity playing another group at 8:30 P.M. All Alumni will receive notice by mail about two weeks in advance so that they can pace themselves to insure perfect condition for the night of the contest.

Wrestling '49-'50. This past season in face of stiff competition the Varsity wrestling team won four meets and lost a like number. The team at times flashed brilliant form and never lacked the fighting spirit which has always been associated with Gilman teams. The results were:

Gilman 33	St. Joe	3
Gilman 11	Lawrenceville	27
Gilman 15½	Poly	24½
Gilman 28½	St. Albans	7½
Gilman 9	McDonogh	25
Gilman 3	Princeton
	Freshmen	23
Gilman 33½	Patterson	4½
Gilman 24	City	6
Gilman 4th Place—Interscholastics

This year, Gilman should be a top contender for the championship. With John Gettier, George Callard, Tommy Waxter, Dick Johnson and Dave Holben as a strong nucleus, Coach Ed Russell should give the defending champions, McDonogh, a real race for the laurels.

Lacrosse '50. Fourth straight Maryland scholastic championship for Gilman. Coach George Chandlee and his team have done it again. Four years as coach—four championships, certainly par for any course. And if ever there was a case where the coach made the team, last year was it. The previous three championship teams, while great, didn't have the teamwork shown by these fourth champions. As Coach Chandlee put it, "This last year's team depended more upon finesse and condition, lacking the striking power of a Tucker, Willis, or Boyce."

Gilman's line-up was: Charlie Brown, Bruce Lloyd, Bruce Turnbull—ATTACK: Hugh Young, Sam Lumpkin, Bob Russell—MID-FIELD: and Furlong Baldwin, Jock Bergland, Elmer Dunkak—DEFENSE.

Of that starting team, only Russell is left, so once again this year Coach Chandlee will have to work with only a limited amount of his championship squad. Seven out of the 22 man squad are returning, indicating a lot of junior varsity players should break into the line-up. Whereas a fifth straight championship looks doubtful, the Alumni wishes Coach Chandlee and squad the best of luck in '51.
