Keep logging on to Mathletics and Times Tables Rock Stars to practise your arithmetic. It is fantastic to see what you are all getting up to on Twitter. Remember to use @MrsTanner_RSW, @MrsNeill_RSW and @MissDegg_RSW

Carry out some research into magnets. Can you explain how magnets work, discover which materials are magnetic, find out about different types of magnets and the poles of a magnet? You could use your research to create a fact file all about magnets!	Here is a picnic that Petros and Michael are going to share equally. Can you work out what each of them will have? This problem can be viewed online (click on the link) https://nrich.maths.org/2361	Investigate surface friction by comparing how objects move on different surfaces. You could carry out an investigation using ramps covered in different materials, predicting which would allow a toy car to travel the greatest distance.
Design your own character for an adventure story. Perhaps your character could be an explorer. Where might they be going?	Draw a map of your local area and highlight interesting landmarks. Can you add more information e.g. dates that the landmarks were built, what they have been used for	Use this image as inspiration for a story or poem.
Imagine that you are an explorer going on an expedition. What would you take in your rucksack? Draw a picture of your rucksack and explain why you would need each item.	Build a cosy reading den to enjoy a story. Send us pictures of your reading den. What books have you read in it?	Make your own set of Top Trump cards – they could be based on any subject that you like!
Write a message in a bottle to describe what it is like to live in Hastings.	Complete two pages in your Penpals Handwriting workbook. Is your handwriting improving?	Create your own song and dance to help you to remember one of the times tables. Here is an example (click on the link) 6x table
