Click on this link to have a go at a range of interactive activities to help you understand movement and direction: https://nrich.maths.org/13785	Create an ocean themed image. You could create a collage using recycling or other materials that you have access to at home.	Log on to mathletics and complete assigned tasks. https://login.mathletics.com/
Create a poster or fact-file about different mini beasts and their habitats. If you have outside space, you could go on a bug hunt to see what you can find.	Make a birthday card for Captain Tom Moore for his 100th Birthday on 30th April. He raised more than £23m for the NHS walking laps of his garden. You could post it to him or display it somewhere for others to see.	Write a story about the image below with the title 'Friend of Foe'. Which character is good, which might be evil? Remember to structure your story so that it has clear beginning, middle and end.
Create a map of your home. Write a list of directions for someone else to follow to get to different locations from the front door. Remember to use directional and positional language.	Log on to times tables rock stars and see how many coins you can earn. https://trockstars.com/	Read Commotion in the Ocean- a collection of poems about the creatures of the ocean. If you don't have a copy of the book you can view it here: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9pRhgz8Jffs
Build a den and see how many books you can read this week. Create a list of your top ten reads to share with a friend (one the phone) or someone else at home.	Make your own word search using your spelling words. Then have a go at creating your own spelling game to help you remember them.	The start of May is very important to many local people as they celebrate May Day. Research the cultural celebration of Jack in the Green.
