

Quinnipiac
School of Education

Online Certificate in Social and Emotional Learning and School Climate

Summer Start | 15 Credits

Quinnipiac University's online Certificate in Social and Emotional Learning and School Climate is designed to address the current and pressing need for systematic changes to school climate to enhance learning for K-12 students and secure safe schools. The program draws from interdisciplinary expertise and provides the skills needed to affect both the individual and structural changes required to promote a school-based environment that is safe, supportive, effective and equitable.

As a student in the program, you will work collaboratively with other educators and administrators in our flexible online classroom. Your coursework will explore the necessary policy and procedural considerations required for SEL and climate improvement, culminating in the development and implementation of an action plan to benefit your own school environment. Throughout your studies, you will work closely with our experienced faculty, who will mentor and guide you throughout the creation of your plan.

Learn more today by visiting online.qu.edu or calling 877-403-4277

School of Education

Online Certificate in Social and Emotional Learning and School Climate

Total Credits: 15 CR

Sample Pathway

---

Year 1

---

Summer 1 credit

Introduction to Social and Emotional Learning (SEL) & School Climate: Academy/Orientation (Choose One)

Track One: On the ground (3 full days)

Track Two: Online (2 weeks)

Fall 6 credits

Research Deep Dive – SEL and School Climate

Self-Care and Resiliency for Practitioners

Spring 6 credits

Transforming Instruction with SEL Insights

Leadership for SEL School Communities

Year 2

---

Summer 1 credit

SEL Capstone Planning Project

Fall 1 credit

SEL Capstone Implementation Project

Curriculum requirements are subject to change and sequencing may differ based on course availability.

Continuing Education Opportunity

Students interested in pursuing an administrative role within schools may elect to apply between three and nine credits from this certificate toward the completion of their Sixth-Year Diploma in Educational Leadership upon acceptance into the program.

