

K-5 DISTANCE LEARNING SURVEY PARENT RESPONSE RESULTS

(689 Responses)

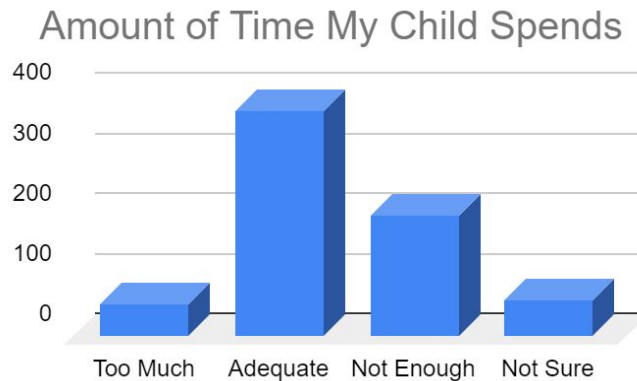

My child's classroom teacher provides satisfactory and meaningful academic experiences.

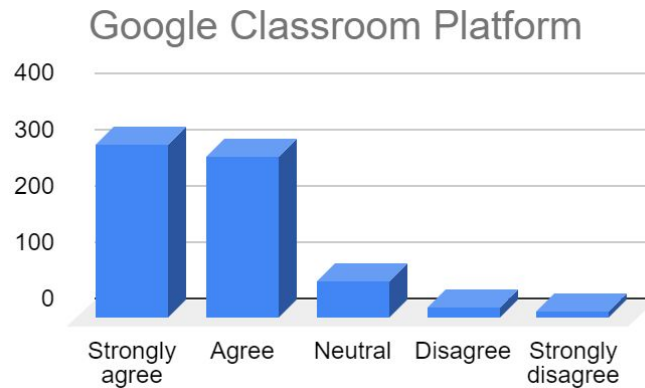

The grade-level core lessons provide experiences that are reasonable for children/parents to execute given the constraints of distance learning (Math, Science, ELA and Social Studies).

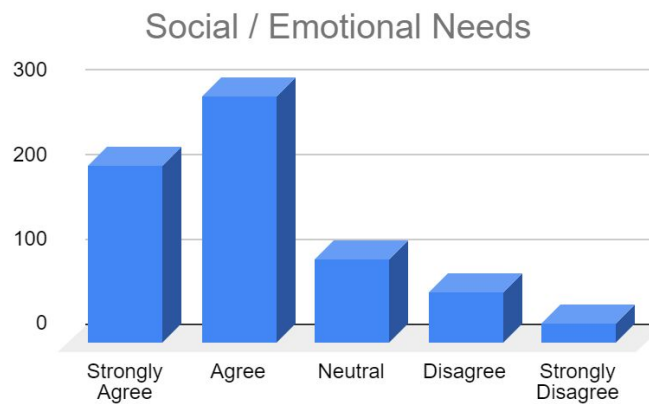

The amount of time my child spends each day on academic work is:

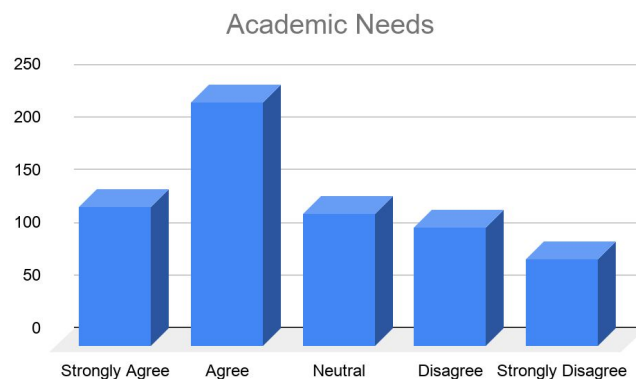

The Google Classroom platform provides a better experience for learning than the initial 10 days of distance learning (via the Google doc):

The Morning and Afternoon Meetings with the classroom teacher support my child's social/emotional needs (with email exchanges and Google Classroom communications).

The Morning and Afternoon Meetings with the classroom teacher support my child's academic needs (with email exchanges and Google Classroom communications).

I rate my family's overall experience with Distance Learning as:
