

LEADERSHIP EDUCATION AND TRAINING III – 1801320

Grades 11-12, Credit 1.0

The third-year students will begin the planning process, decision-making, problem-solving process and opportunities to supervise. Look more into understanding human needs, assume staff positions, start the mentor and teaching process, prepare students to assume key leadership positions through counseling and demonstrated leadership skills. Lead large groups of students in competitions and PT. Third-year students interested in four-year JROTC scholarship will have the opportunity to start the process to compete for a full scholarship.