

ECONOMICS - 2102335

Grade 12, Credit .50

In addition to the material presented in the standard Economics course, the Honors credit places a greater emphasis on essay writing and entrepreneurial problem-solving. For example, Honors students will be required to evaluate international trade policies, identify the difference between short-term and long-term economic consequences, and pitch a business plan.