

May 4, 2020: District Email

As we begin another week of distance learning, I commend our students, teachers and families for their continued efforts in navigating this new educational model. We've got this, Bears!

Our principals and teachers have been working the past two state-wide planning days to fine-tune our district's Distance Learning Plan. Discussions and enhancements have centered around communication with students and families, feedback around learning and progress, and student engagement. While this spring hasn't looked the way we expected it to when we began last September, we look forward to ending the year "virtually" together and celebrating all that our students have learned throughout the year.

For those who are interested in learning about the district's overall distance learning plan, which was updated during these two planning days, see the Distance Learning Info page of the district's website.

Thank you,

Dr. Wayne Kazmierczak, Superintendent
