

Kindergarten Parent Connection

We continued our partnership with Renton Park teachers this week. We hope your students are gaining some independence with their learning through watching those videos. We provide several activities for each day in order to meet the various needs of families, but if you are feeling overwhelmed with what is provided, try having your student focus on just one subject a day. We understand the difficulty of managing your home lives, working from home, and needing to be the educational support for your students. Teachers will continue to contact you weekly through phone calls, emails, or class sites like Seesaw and Dojo. A quick response back from you lets us know messages are getting through. We are here to help!

Daily Routines

We encourage you to read each day and work on Dreambox 3 times a week, but if your daily routine needs to be focused on just one subject area a day that is fine. Try to get all subject areas (Reading, Writing, Math, Science, Social Studies) covered at least once through the week.

Hello Kindergarteners!

This week in Reading you will be remembering that when something doesn't seem right, you have to stop and fix it up! In Writing, you will use your tools to write sentences and remember to include punctuation. In Phonics you will listen for vowel sounds in words. In Math you will practice counting to 100, will count another collection, play 2 new games and draw with shapes. In Science you will observe leaves and learn about salmon. In Social Studies you will celebrate Mom or another special person in your life. You will also practice calming down strong feelings with Second Step.

Remember to check your reading!
