

Week ending: 8th May 2020

"A time of Remembrance and Reconciliation for those who lost their lives during the Second World War."

Welcome to this week's parent and student newsletter and happy Bank Holiday! ... although the relevance of a bank holiday in the present climate is rather out of kilter. However, what is particularly uplifting and celebratory about this particular bank holiday is that it commemorates 75 years of VE day. Whilst we cannot celebrate in quite the same way that perhaps we had planned, like many occasions at the moment at Bilton we are marking VE Day in a more virtual way. The history department has been leading the charge with a number of challenges and tasks to help us remember and reflect on this important event in our history. Happy bunting hanging!

Tim Chambers, Headteacher Bilton School

The next phase

The briefing this Sunday from the Prime Minister marks the end of our current three week lock-down period and is expected to set out the framework for the next phase of how deal with the virus. Aside from speculation from other Headteachers and from within the Trust I have been given no definitive idea as to what this will look like for schools, or indeed for Bilton school at the moment. Once the guidance is forthcoming we will formulate a strategy and communicate this with all of the Bilton community in due course. I suspect that there will be much speculation, rumour and comment through the various social media outlets and forums. However, I would urge you to wait for such time as I and or the Trust send out an official communication as to how we will interpret and move forwards in light of the guidance.

Bilton Challenge

In this weeks Well-Being newsletter (see the website for back copies) the challenge this week is cake baking!! Who doesn't like cake?!

Challenge for week commencing the 11th May

Bilton Lockdown Bake Off.

Simply take a picture of your bake and email it to louise.ansell@biltonmail.com. Use your imagination. Have fun!

Entries must be submitted by 12 noon on Monday 11th May to

Louise.ansell@biltonmail.com

Family Information Service newsletter

Warwickshire's Family Information Service are here to help families, parents, carers and professionals with advice and one-to-one support on issues including family relationships, housing, parenting support, health and wellbeing and much more. Click on the link below for further information: <https://us5.campaign-archive.com/?u=a24b439ef7022ae0d86f9ca6e&id=ab9a3ece95>