Mount St. Dominic
ACADEMY

DEAR FRIENDS,

In a bit of serendipity, just before sitting down to write this letter to you, I read a news item about the 50th Anniversary of the launch of the Apollo 11 mission – half a century to the day that the world stood still to watch three astronauts blast off for the moon. But the article wasn't about them, their bravery or the space race, it was about the one and only woman in the firing room that day at Kennedy Space Center – 28-year old instrumentation controller, JoAnn Morgan.

Despite being viewed by her superiors as the best communicator on the console at NASA, her participation needed to be cleared by the higher ups, approvals her male counterparts were not subjected to. In a building where there weren't any restrooms for women, the first female engineer at Cape Canaveral began her journey – not to the moon, but through the glass ceiling. Her fearlessness and bravery paved the way for women in the space program and marked her 40-year career at the Space Center.

JoAnn was a changemaker.

Fifty years on from the day that shifted mankind's comprehension of what was possible, the young women of the Mount today and the women whose footsteps they follow in, are pursuing their passions, leaping over obstacles and being the change they want to see in the world. Those changes can take place close to home – like helping institute a new service project (page 15) or club (see below) – to more far reaching endeavors like lobbying for immigration reform and building businesses (pages 8-9). Each has the underpinnings of a philosophy of empowering young women – itself a pioneering and “out of this world” mission, 127 years in the making.

We hope you enjoy The Mount, and wish you and your families a fun and restorative summer.

Kate Sullivan '88

Director of Alumnae Relations

“The young women of the Mount today and the women whose footsteps they follow in, are following their passions, leaping over obstacles and being the change they want to see in the world.”

THIS PAST SCHOOL YEAR, I HAD THE PLEASURE OF SERVING AS THE MODERATOR OF THE MOUNT'S NEWLY MINTED “PADDLE CLUB.” Tess Lucanie '20, a nationally-ranked competitive platform tennis player, presented the idea of bringing the sport she loves to the Mount to Sister Fran and Athletic Director Lorenzo Sozio, who empowered her to create the framework for the club and see if it would take off. With several students at nearly every practice held at Essex Fells Country Club, the new endeavor was a hit. From experienced racquet athletes to those who had never held one, the Mounties rallied around each other, played hard and had a great time. This photo was taken at the first-ever NJ High School Paddle State Championship 2019 where the Mount team (along with their partners from MKA) captured 2nd place overall and 1st place non-public. Kelly Sullivan King '84 was instrumental in helping Tess bring her vision to life, and creating a new opportunity for Mount students.

CELEBRATING SENIORS 2019!

The feting of the Mount's Class of 2019 began 100 days before graduation with a rousing "100 Wishes Celebration" that started with a spirited procession of seniors to the tune of "High Hopes" by Panic at the Disco, into the Doris M. Byrne Performing Arts Center stunningly illuminated by cell-phone flashlights.

Alumnae offered their wishes for the soon-to-be-graduates via video, and current Mounties wrote their hopes for them on a 2nd floor banner, as the countdown to graduation officially began. The Mount's 127-year history serves as a solid bedrock from which to launch fresh and modern traditions - including those that celebrate the newest class of alumnae who carry on the school's enduring legacy.

2019 BACCALAUREATE

BEFORE BEGINNING THE MOUNT ST. DOMINIC ACADEMY BACCALAUREATE MASS in honor of the Class of 2019, Father Mike Hanly extended a warm welcome and special recognition to the members of the Class of 1969 in honor of their 50th reunion milestone. A beautiful Mass, which included an inspiring reflection by seniors Brooke Ramos '19 and Leah Toomey '19, was followed by the annual Senior Awards Convocation and family luncheon at Mayfair Farms. The senior class presented the school with a thoughtful gift – a scholarship award for a member of the Class of 2020 to use for their senior trip to Disney.

THE CLASS OF 1969 HONORED

The class that holds the distinction of “most Mounties ever” – the MSDA Class of 1969 – celebrates their 50th reunion in 2019. To mark the occasion and join together in celebration with the Mount community, members of the Class of 1969 attended Baccalaureate, and shared memories of their alma mater while looking forward to their “Summer of ‘69” Reunion at the Shore, planned for the weekend of September 6-8, 2019.

2019 MSDA Commencement Building Bright Futures Brick by Brick

In a week that saw a tornado touch down in New Jersey and golf-ball sized hail falling from the sky, it was the excitement of Mount St. Dominic Academy's 2019 Commencement and the accomplishments of the 71 graduates that made for headline news among the Mount community.

As the graduates arrived at the Doris M. Byrne Performing Arts Center on the morning of June 2, with their crisp white graduation caps and gowns in hand, they began preparations for their final walk through Pettengill Hall as students of the school they had called home for some of the most formative years of their lives. With pride and exuberance, the seniors gathered for photographs grouped by hometown, showcasing their beaming smiles and unmatched acumen for striking just the right pose, a skill perfected as members of the social media-savvy Generation Z.

Awaiting them across the campus at the Mount's Athletic Center, were the excited families – each as much a part of the Mount family as their daughters and deserving of sincere gratitude and applause. The faculty members, coaches and administrators who had closely guided the students' academic, athletic and artistic journeys, who for four years had a front row seat to 71 blossoming personalities and burgeoning intellects, took to that perch one final time to watch the graduates cross the stage to accept their diplomas, and make the transition from high school senior to Mount alumna with the turn of a tassel.

The traditional welcome by Sister Elsie Bernauer, OP, of the Sisters of St. Dominic, was made all that more special with the welcome of a VIP guest – Mrs. Jeanne Cooney Dwyer '50 – alumna from the MSDA Class of 1950 and grandmother of graduate, Lauren Helen Dwyer '19. Lauren will be a freshman at University of Notre Dame in the fall.

Emily Ruth Sartori '19, the 2019 Salutatorian who is headed to Bucknell, offered a reflection in prayer that began by crediting God as “the main proponent in our journey here together at the Mount.”

Emily continued, “Lord, we understand that as long as we embrace you, you will always be an unstoppable force in our lives, one whom we can attribute all of our successes and joys to. Open our hearts to your presence and to the love and excitement that is so abundant here today. Let us recognize that our time here at Mount St. Dominic Academy has helped us know and understand You better. It has opened our minds to acknowledge and appreciate Your divine influence in our lives and our future. Please help the graduating Class of 2019 continue to follow the beautiful plan you have laid out for us and stay true to your likeness which you have created each one of us in.”

Sister Fran Sullivan, OP '60, Jessie Garcia '08, Alissa Sebastian '19, Emily Sartori '19, and Marissa Muoio '08, Ed. D.

The Honorable Madeline Cox-Arleo, P '16 and chairperson of the Board of Trustees, welcomed the 2019 Commencement Speaker, Jessie Garcia '08, founder and CEO of Tozuda. Recalling Jessie's days as a student, Judge Arleo mused at the predictive nature of a photo from the 2008 Lumen yearbook that captured Jessie throwing a Barbie Doll from the roof of the school as part of an experiment in Mrs. Rogacki's physics class. Illustrative of her passion for figuring out how things work and building solutions to problems, Jessie encouraged the graduates to always try. She noted that her biggest regret to date was not showing up for a walk-on softball tryout during her freshman year at Lehigh, having let self-doubt and fear of failing drive her decision to not even try.

“My message to you graduates is, don't be afraid to fail fast, and fail often. Fail fast, because there is no better time than the present to try something new and it's rare to ever feel fully prepared for something. Opportunities will pass you by if you don't jump at them. Fail often, because every time you fail, that means you are pushing yourself out of your comfort zone, and getting closer to your goal.”

After the presentation of candidates by Dr. Marissa Muoio '08, and the conferring of diplomas by Sister Fran, 2019 MSDA Valedictorian, Boston University-bound Alissa Sebastian '19, addressed her classmates. Alissa recounted some of her fondest memories of the Mount including their sophomore retreat, Disney trip and field days. She also reminded her friends that their time at the Mount has helped give them a passion for learning, along with skills needed to succeed in life.

“As the Sisters of Saint Dominic of Caldwell built this place that we can now forever call home, by carrying bricks up the hill, I implore you all to build your futures, brick by brick, and know that each and every one of you has the potential to achieve greatness. As Saint Catherine of Siena said, 'Be who God meant you to be and you will set the world on fire.'”

Sisters Follow Their Passions Down Different Paths

RISK-TAKING MSDA ALUMNAE ADD
ENTREPRENEUR TO THEIR RESUMES

Dictionary.com defines entrepreneur as “a person who organizes and manages any enterprise, especially a business, usually with considerable initiative and risk.”

And while Brett Nelson, executive editor of Forbes and co-founder and CFO of tech-startup Eyes/Only agrees, he takes it a step further: “Entrepreneurs, in the purest sense, are those who identify a need – any need – and fill it. It’s a primordial urge, independent of product, service, industry or market.”

The Mount alumnae community has among it several entrepreneurs - from women who operate small businesses to others developing new technologies. Two such alumnae who represent different sides of the entrepreneurial spectrum but share an intense desire to follow their passions, happen to also be sisters.

Cristy Garcia Rivera '05 and Jessie Garcia '08, each went on from the Mount to receive undergraduate and graduate degrees and saw early success in the fields of marketing and promotion. But they both felt the desire to do something slightly off the beaten path, something completely their own.

ARTS

Cristy - Owner / Operator of the CMG Dance Project

As a successful marketer leading a team of more than 20 professionals with experience representing brands like Colgate Palmolive, Cablevision and Wakefern, Cristy has also had a lifelong love of dance and along with her advanced academic degrees from the University of Pennsylvania and the IESE Business School, earned her Dance Educators of America faculty certification. She has taught dance for more than ten years in varied disciplines representing classic and Latin styles, and has danced competitively in the United States and abroad.

But amidst her successful professional life and after much thought and deliberation, Cristy decided to pursue a lifelong dream of owning her own dance studio. CMG Dance Project opened on December 1, 2018 in Lyndhurst, NJ. Pursuing that dream was an impulse she used to fight against - thinking that to be successful she needed to be in “corporate America.” But, she finally realized that this was what she was meant to do.

“From my days on the Mount dance team, to college dance companies, through my MBA, and my professional career, dance was always an integral part of my life. Opening the dance school is the perfect combination for my creative mind as well as my business knowledge. And this is how the CMG Dance Project was born!”

Cristy has since brought her passion back to the Mount campus, first as the featured speaker during National Hispanic Heritage Month in November 2018, and more recently to host the first ever CMG Dance Project recital in the Mount’s Doris M. Byrne Performing Arts Center on June 9. The highly entertaining show – “Dance is in Session” – featured more than 30 thrilling performances, made all that more impressive given the school is less than one year old.

TECHNOLOGY

Jessie - Founder & CEO, Tozuda

A career as a doctor was what Jessie envisioned as she entered Lehigh University as a freshman. While she quickly learned classes like biology weren’t necessarily her forte, she was excelling in her labs – working with her hands, building things and taking them apart to figure out how they worked seemed to come naturally to her. Jessie went on to earn her bachelor’s degree in global studies in 2012 and her master’s degree in engineering / technical entrepreneurship (TE) just one year later - a precursor to where she is today.

Jessie traded in the stethoscope and scalpel for a 3D printer and a plastic injection molding machine, and founded tech-startup Tozuda, creator of a revolutionary mechanical head impact sensor which can detect whether a hit is hard enough to cause a concussion. Driven by her own personal experience with complications from an untreated concussion sustained while playing collegiate Cristy and Jessie are successful entrepreneurs but always keep the Mount top of mind. Cristy's return to the Mount for National Hispanic Heritage Month featured a 250-student salsa lesson, and Jessie has now hosted two years of Capstone students at her Tozuda maker-space headquarters in Philadelphia, PA.

rugby, coupled with her innate desire to physically build solutions to solve complex problems, Jessie identified a void in the market and after several iterations and sleepless nights, created an affordable sensor that makes injury awareness accessible for any activity or level of play.

"Tozuda officially went to market with our sensors in 2018 after a successful Kickstarter capital fundraising campaign attracted more than 150 backers," said Jessie. "It's been amazing to see the support for our tools that will help keep athletes and others safe by giving them the information they need to make informed decisions to protect their heads. Don't forget - if it's red, check your head!"

In yet another full-circle moment, Jessie returned to the Mount during the 2017-18 school year as one of the first ever Capstone Alumnae Mentors, and inspired this year's graduates as the 2019 MSDA Commencement speaker.

Two sisters - two dreams realized, each returning to the Mount to delight, inspire and captivate. Final result - two standing ovations.

MSDA Students Dive into Immersive Cultural Experiences at Home and Abroad

"I HEAR, I KNOW. I SEE, I REMEMBER. I DO, I UNDERSTAND." - CONFUCIUS

According to the Chinese philosopher Confucius, to truly understand something you must immerse yourself in it. That's precisely what happened this spring at the Mount and brother school, Seton Hall Prep, when students from Chongqing, China, were invited to New Jersey to experience what it means to be a "Mountie," a "Pirate," and generally speaking – an American teenager. Three young women, Daphne, Sue, and Zoey, were hosted by the families of Mount students Victoria Lee '21, Jacqueline MacStudy '20, and Emma Trautfetter '20 during their two-week stays, attending classes, assemblies, and social events (including snow tubing and a visit to the Whitney Houston '81 Exhibit at the Grammy Museum in Newark) to gain a deeper understanding of American culture. This type of immersive exchange program is popular among international students to aide them in deciding whether they'd like to attend university in the U.S. According to the Institute of International Education, there were more than 360,000 Chinese students enrolled at schools in the United States during school year 2017-18.

Not long after the departure of the visiting students, three sophomores from the Mount – Louise Adillon '21, Victoria Lee '21 and Elena Tyndall '21 – set off on their own international adventure. Accompanied by Dean of Academics, Dr. Marissa Muoio '08, the Mounties joined a group of students from Seton Hall lead by Mandarin teacher Mike Hegedus and embarked on their 15-hour flight to China. More than a "trip," the excursion was a true journey of exploration and discovery, along with social immersion and gained understanding – insights that can only be attained by seeing, smelling, tasting, feeling, hearing and experiencing a new culture as the local people do.

"Educating and enlightening our students about the world around them and their role in it is a core component of our curriculum," noted Dr. Muoio. "The Council on Foreign Relations characterizes the US-China relations over the past 70 years as 'having evolved from tense standoffs to a complex mix of intensifying diplomacy, growing international rivalry, and increasingly intertwined economies.' In contemplating the world's second

After their visit to the wall, they learned to create a well-known craft in Hutong culture called, "Hairy Monsters." Later, they finished the day with a walking tour of Hutong Architecture.

School Day – Students spent the day at the High School affiliated to Southwest University, where they attended a few academic classes and participated in a Chinese painting class. The group learned the martial art of Wushu from a sixth generation Wushu Master. They ended the day with "English Corner," where students from the host school had the opportunity to chat with the group to practice their English!

Chengdu Visit – On their final day in Chongqing, the group explored an ancient town of Chengdu and visited the Dazu Rock Carvings which depict the harmonious combination of three different religions in China at once (Buddhism, Taoism, and Confucianism). After the carvings, the group gathered together for a beautiful Chinese dinner banquet with their host families.

We look forward to providing our students with increased opportunities for immersive and globally enlightening experiences in the years to come."

“I had an incredible time exploring the sights, sounds and tastes of Chongqing! Once the de facto capital of China during WWII, it was an amazing city filled with history along the Yangtze River. I loved meeting the welcoming people, checking out the Dazu Carvings, exploring Wulong Karst and trying the infamous spicy hot pot.”

- Dr. Muoio

“As schools flooded in, it was so interesting to even view from the outside, how people my age from around the world act and dress. When the ceremony opened up I was so impressed, and genuinely inspired. The discussion we had on education, how it can improve, and the role we as students have in the process of connecting our world and moving forward in education truly made me think.”

- Elena Tyndall's '21 glimpse into world cultures at the US-China Youth Forum on Global Education sponsored by Alpha Partners Education at Keystone Academy.

“Before traveling to China, my knowledge of Chinese history and culture was composed of a lot of different puzzle pieces that I had gathered from learning about world history in school and spending time with my Chinese American friends. These pieces started to fit together as the trip progressed; every day I learned something new about daily life in China, from how geometry was taught in schools to what types of food people eat for breakfast. There was definitely some culture shock at the beginning - hot pot was a very spicy experience - but as I grew more comfortable with my Chinese family and my surroundings, I developed an appreciation and admiration for Chinese culture that I didn't have before this trip.”

- Louise Adillon '21

“Whenever I told someone that I was going to China, they always had one of two reactions. The first being “Woah, that's so cool!” and the second being “Oh wow, I'd be so scared.” I never really understood the latter reaction. Over the course of the trip, I learned about my Chinese-American identity, debunked some myths about China's Communist government, and discovered why the Great Wall of China is one of the Seven Wonders of the World. However, my greatest take away from China was about how friendly and culturally aware the Chinese students were. From a young age, they are taught English and the history and culture of other countries.”

Rigorous and Innovative Curriculum + All Girls Environment = Leaders of the Future

Founded by the trailblazing and bold Sisters of Saint Dominic, the Mount focuses on providing students with a safe academic environment that supports self-discovery, requires participation and prepares them for life well beyond high school. According to the National Coalition of Girls Schools, which the Mount became a member of in 2019, research indicates that almost all students at all-girls schools intend to earn an undergraduate degree with more than two-thirds setting their sights on graduate or professional degrees. The rigorous curriculum at the Mount is developed and taught by educators who specialize in the education of young women, and is iterated with an eye toward readying students for the pursuit of undergraduate and graduate degrees as well future careers in a modern and ever-evolving world.

"A yearly course selection process allows us to continuously evaluate our academic offerings and add creative and unconventional classes to the curriculum like our Senior Capstone, as well as new programs for the 2019-20 school year – the Leo Program and our Health Sciences and Social Justice Endorsement Programs," said Kristen Zosche, Director of Curriculum and Instruction at the Mount. "Our students receive solid grounding in the fundamentals and are empowered to apply their academic experiences in authentic, "real world" contexts, and graduate with the conviction that learning is a lifelong endeavor."

Learning to Lead

Very much unlike the Mount, where young women hold all of the leadership roles – from student council president to captain of every sports team – women currently hold just 6.6 percent* of Fortune 500 CEO roles. A new signature program added to the curriculum for the 2019-20 school year aims to disrupt that trend.

The LEO Program (I & II), a two year intensive program during junior and senior year, is designed to get students excited about becoming entrepreneurs by giving them the opportunity to create and fully develop their own product or service. Professional entrepreneurs and business experts will mentor student teams through the process of ideation, market research, and business plan development, and lectures by leaders of business and government will explore relevant and wide-ranging topics. This innovative and forward-thinking program was created in honor and memory of Leonidas "Leo" Vagias, who was tragically killed in a car accident, alongside his friend Samuel Cali, in 2016. Leo was a Don Bosco

Preparatory School alumnus, and brother of Alexandra Vagias '18. The Leo Program was first instituted by Don Bosco in 2017, and the Mount is the first and only girls school to offer the program in New Jersey.

Special Endorsement Programs

The Mount has instituted two brand new "endorsement programs" focused on Health Sciences and Social Justice. These programs are specifically designed for students interested in pursuing careers related to these fields of study, and will provide them with in-depth knowledge of those subject areas, similar to selecting a major in college. The two-year programs require students to complete a series of intellectual pursuits, commit to and complete a specified number of service hours related to that field of study (such as in a medical setting or with a non-profit or advocacy group), and participate in a senior seminar focused on global studies and public health respectively.

"We encourage our students to take intellectual risks on their path to self-discovery," Ms. Zosche continued. "Providing them with myriad opportunities to explore their passions in both traditional and non-traditional academic settings helps them become aware of the world around them and arms them with the tools they'll need to face today's challenges while accomplishing their dreams."

The Desire to be of Service Remains a Lifelong Value for Mounties

Alumnae and Student-run Red Cross Blood Drives Help Save Lives

"MIND, BODY AND SOUL" IS A FAMILIAR PHRASE INTRINSIC TO THE SELF-CARE ZEITGEIST, BUT IT IS ALSO THE FOCUS OF THE BREADTH OF THE CURRICULUM

AT MOUNT ST. DOMINIC ACADEMY.

With a focus on building students' minds through rigorous academics, and nourishing their bodies through physical education, health sciences and competitive sports, the soul of a Mount student is nurtured through emphasis on being of service to others and learning how they can make a positive influence as a citizen of the world. The Siena Community Service Program provides students with a structured introduction to social justice and community outreach, enabling them to identify areas of need and harness their compassion for the benefit of the world around them. And, perhaps unlike some algebraic algorithms or certain French verb conjugations, the deep rooted desire to be of service and understanding of the impact one person can make, are carried on with Mounties for life and well beyond the walls of Rosary Hall.

MSDA '10 Alumnae, Helping Return the Favor

When a loved one of members of the MSDA Class of 2010 was in serious medical need, the life-saving benefits of the efforts of the American Red Cross came into sharp focus. To give back to the community of compassionate blood donors and help replenish the blood supply, MSDA alumnae Amanda Azzinnari '10, Sarah Kinslow '10, and Allison Zabady '10 organized and hosted a drive that was held at Our Lady of the Lake School in Verona on Sunday, March 17, 2019. With a goal of 30 donors, the alumnae recruited nearly 50, and though eight were unable to complete the donation process, a few did the double procedure so 41 precious units were collected, which helped over 120 local hospital patients.

"We've all had a family member or friend who has benefited directly or indirectly from a blood donation," Amanda noted. "We wanted to find some way to return the favor to those anonymous individuals who gave our friend the gift of life. Bringing the community together to help the Red Cross was an immediate and impactful way for us to pay it forward."

Amanda, Sarah and Allison have already started planning a fall 2019 blood drive to be hosted again at OLL. (Stay tuned to the Mount's social media channels for up to date information.)

Mount Student Goes for the Gold

Jacqueline MacStudy '20, is an active member of the Girl Scouts of America. In pursuit of her Gold Award – the highest achievement in Girl Scouting which recognizes young women who "demonstrate extraordinary leadership through remarkable Take Action projects that have sustainable impact in their communities-and beyond" – Jackie planned and hosted the Mount's first ever American Red Cross Blood Drive, held on April 11, 2019 in the MSDA Athletic Center.

Inspired by members of her family who work in the medical profession, as well as the knowledge that the need for blood in the U.S. greatly outweighs the supply, Jackie's "Be Your Own TYPE of Hero" event provided a comfortable environment for many students 16 and over to donate blood for the first time. Mount students, families, faculty and staff were on hand to donate, and local television station WMBC, stopped by to cover the event.

Because of the Mount's focus on service, Jackie knew her fellow students and others within the school would support her project and the efforts of the Red Cross. "I wanted our Mount community to not only help those who are in close proximity, but I am proud to say that we have helped on a national level. With our drive, we helped save 96 lives as well and put a dent in the national blood shortage. This was the best project I have ever taken part in and I would do it again in a heart beat."

The Arts at MSDA

HAIRSPRAY HITS THE HIGH NOTES

The only thing that rivaled the height of the hair and the rhythm of the 41 performers during the 17 dance numbers, was the volume of the applause during the MSDA spring 2019 musical – Hairspray. With a message of inclusion that resonates in modern society, the students on stage and the 22 behind the scenes devoted countless hours to study and rehearsal, and put on three rousing performances to the delight of fellow students, faculty, staff, friends, families, alumnae and community members. The shows were spirited, engaging and highly professional, carrying on the impressive legacy of the students and staff that create the magic of the performing arts program at the Mount and fittingly showcasing the splendor of the Doris M. Byrne Performing Arts Center.

THE MOUNT WINS AT THE FOXY AWARDS

With their own take on the Tony Awards, each year the Montclair State University Department of Theatre and Dance honors the accomplishments of middle and high school students and educators with the FOXY Awards. Categories include performance, direction, design and technical theatre, as well as outstanding productions in the following genres: Drama, Comedy, Classical and New Work. This year, with a record nine nominations, the Mount's fall performance of A Midsummer Night's Dream, was awarded a FOXY in two categories: Outstanding Ensemble in a Classical Play and Outstanding Choreography/Movement. See these amazing student performers take to the stage during the 2019-20 school year – the MSDA fall drama and spring musical dates are on the back cover of the magazine. See you in the PAC!

Honoring Mount Family Legacies

THE CONCEPT OF "LEGACY" IS VERY IMPORTANT WITHIN THE MOUNT ST. DOMINIC ACADEMY COMMUNITY. Throughout the school's 127-year history, many families have been a part of the Mount family over multiple generations - including the Dwyer family legacy, which spans nearly 70 years, and is highlighted in the Commencement article on pages 6 and 7. The Mount legacies represented by the daughters, granddaughters, aunts, nieces and sisters that become Mounties themselves help to strengthen the school community, and enrich an already bountiful history. The school is grateful to all of the families who choose the Mount for their daughter's education, and particularly acknowledge the commitment and sacrifices made by the families that send multiple sisters, sometimes all at once.

Several legacy families were represented at this year's Commencement, with those here serving as examples of the Mount's far-reaching and deep bonds of sisterhood.

Three '19 graduates, three '16 alumnae, three families! Sisters celebrate Baccalaureate! Gabbie '16 and Brooke '19 Ramos; Fran '19 and Gabby '16 Orsini; and Giuliana '19 and Livia '16 Seymour.

Sisters and cousins from the Garcia family were out in support of the commencement speaker Jessie Garcia '08 - Reana '10, Andrea '18 and Cristy Garcia Rivera '05 joined by Sister Fran.

Seeking Mountie Mentors

The Mount is seeking alumnae mentors as well as alumnae-related volunteer/service opportunities for the Senior Capstone and Endorsement programs (see page 14) being offered for the 2019-20 school year. Capstone research topics will be published in the next several weeks and alumnae mentors are needed for each student. Students enrolled in the Health Sciences and Social Justice Endorsement Programs are required to volunteer in related work environments, so the Mount is seeking service opportunities in both medical and non-profit or advocacy-related settings. If you would like to help a Mountie through Mentorship, please reach out to the alumnae relations office at alumnae@msdacademy.org.

When the houselights dim and the curtain rises on the 2019 fall drama – “You Can’t Take It With You” – the Doris M. Byrne Performing Arts Center will officially begin its 10th Anniversary Season at Mount St. Dominic Academy. Much more than a state-of-the-art theatre, the PAC in many ways serves as the heart of the Mount. It is a place where students perform to the delight of their peers, families and community members; where the Mount community joins together in prayer and worship; where distinguished guests and faculty members enlighten and inspire; and where many of our young women find their passion.

In honor of this show-stopping anniversary, the Mount is hosting two special events: Taste of Broadway – an evening of fine wines, delish dishes and lyrical lines performed by some of Broadway’s best; and Take A Seat – an opportunity to support the Mount and leave a lasting legacy in the PAC!

This permanent tribute and your support of the Mount will have a significant impact on the Mount, long after the final curtain call.
