The heel slip

My product keeps a heel clean vs. dirty

My invention is the heel slip

When you go to wedding you wear your nice shoes but they often the heel sinks into the mud or grass and no one wants that so if you put a slip over your heel it will cover up all the material and then you will have a heel good as new.

My product helps the owner of the heels by keeping the shoes clean so the owner doesn't have to buy a new pair

Why is my product is better than what already exists because well nothing else like this exist?
