

The Ones with the Brave Souls

By Ellie McGinty

Two young nurses in the warehouse cry how horrible war is.

The war is getting very brutal.

The young girls sob over the awful scenes,

Dying soldiers everywhere, no end in sight.

The young nurses try their best to save the soldiers in need,

Before it is too late.

Their skin crawls once they see the bodies.

They try their best to save the suffering soldiers.

Women are the ones with the brave souls.
