Bulletin Information: Please remember the bulletin is prepared a week before the issue date. So many things may change within the week, which is why we are sending out weekly updates.

In preparation for when the bulletin can be produced and given out, some major adjustments are being made. In order to produce the safest bulletin and adhere to strict social distancing guidelines, a smaller bulletin is being made so that the pages can be printed in a single pass to as little as one touch from bulletin submission all the way to your shipping box. Diocesan, our bulletin company, is taking every precaution to prohibit the introduction of the virus within their facilities. The press production staff is required to wear proper safety attire and abide by all sanitization and cleaning policies. As an added measure, we have invested in the same professional-grade, EPA approved chemicals and fogging machines used by the airlines to disinfect our facilities every single night. This ensures that every morning our staff is entering an environment where all surfaces are virus-free. They also are using the standard Diocesan bulletin paper, a 60-pound offset, with a 97/100 on the brightness scale. This paper is both heavier and whiter than traditional copy paper. It is also very eco-friendly as it is harvested from the renewable, highly recyclable, and sustainably farmed Eucalyptus plant. This paper pairs beautifully with our soy-based inks, which is a great environmental solution in a time when we should all be responsive to the care of God's creation.

Vacation Bible School: June 29 - July 2 Goes Virtual!

VBS begins Monday, June 29 and runs through Thursday, July 2, 2020 9am - 12:30pm. Since VBS will be "virtual" this year, we're extending it to include Pre-K through rising 5th graders. We also need to have a minimum of 20 children signed up by June 14. You can sign up on the parish website here: www.olgcv.org/faith-formation/children-youth/vbs

ISOLATION: THE SILENT DANGER – The subject of isolation is seen often in the headlines these days, especially since so many of us have had to self-isolate during the COVID-19 pandemic. But even before the virus arrived on the scene, isolation has been a hot topic and a major issue for seniors. The Shepherd's Center of Oakton-Vienna has made it a focus of its mission; its motto is "A Life Without Loneliness." They work to find new ways to provide socialization and personal interaction with local seniors.

As family-oriented communities continue to change, robot companions are becoming more common for companionship for the elderly. Imagine that! Robotic seals and robotic dogs are two in a range of technologies that have emerged to alleviate the rising loneliness of older populations. Robots can be programmed to fill social gaps that older people might be experiencing. Studies show that interaction with these robots does improve the situation significantly.

About one-third of adults in this country age 45 and older report feeling lonely, and, due to an increased number of aging adults, the number is growing. A survey by the AARP Foundation finds that those who have low incomes are especially vulnerable. People who are lonely and socially isolated are more likely to have health problems, which can have serious implications. Social isolation among midlife and older adults is associated with an estimated $6.7 billion in additional Medicare spending annually. Similar studies are being conducted all over the globe.

For example, loneliness is found to be a big issue in Japan, which has the oldest population in the world. More than six million are over the age of 65, and around eighteen million adults live alone. Modern life there, with its long working hours, leaves people with less time to find partners, have children, and establish families. More and more people cannot find permanent jobs and thus have to work several jobs which leave little time for socializing. So, you can see that while loneliness is a major issue for older people, it also affects those in mid-life. As traditional families evolve, society may not be doing enough to deal with loneliness and isolation, and people may not even want to discuss this issue. (To be continued later this month.)
