Ordering Books

MBS Bookstore

Families will receive an email with instructions about purchasing required textbooks in late July of 2020. The online bookstore, MBS Direct opens on August 1st. MBS offers the option of purchasing new or used texts and allows a rental option for several classes. While it is not a requirement that families purchase texts from MBS, the company does offer a “buy-back” feature at the end of each year. Free shipping is available from August 1 through August 14. Please contact Chrystal.Dyess@culver.org if you have questions about the book ordering process.

Scholarship Students

Recipients of certain scholarships MUST order their books via MBS Direct. If your child is one of those students, you will be notified via email in late July. Please make sure you read the details regarding placement of your book order with MBS carefully before placing your order.

Where to ship

We kindly request that you ship books to your home address if you are within driving distance to campus. Our post office works hard to handle all of the incoming packages for students, and it greatly helps with overall delivery when students bring their books to campus.

Of course, if you are flying in to Culver please ship books to:
