Scope and Sequence

Vision:

At the heart of our Christian faith is the belief that the triune God is a personal God who reveals Himself to humanity through Scripture, His nature, His redemptive purpose in history, and His love for all creation. Central to this faith is the crucified and risen Jesus Christ and our knowledge and belief that the son of God became human so that we could be forgiven and restored to God. It is our conviction that in understanding the incarnate God we come to know our own nature and purpose, for we are created in God's image. Given these core convictions, the Christian Studies curriculum studies Scripture to hear God's truth, encourages a love of learning and the exercise of reason, gains wisdom from the historic voices and traditions of the Church, and seeks to understand our own human experience within this world. The Socratic nature of our classes make them a practical laboratory for discussing and developing their faith in a safe environment. The goals of this curriculum are therefore to (i) allow students to articulate a distinctly Christian worldview, (ii) develop the student holistically, and (iii) encourage students to pursue excellence in order to engage God's world.
