Feedback	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Provide timely feedback, as it is essential to student learning ● Actively respond to questions and communications from students/families ● Update PowerSchool in a timely manner
Instruction	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Use district approved curriculum and resources to deliver instruction ● Complete a Unit Planning Template for each quarter of Hybrid and Distance Learning ● Post Weekly Agendas on Monday morning to inform students of all assignments/tasks (Gr. 3-12); Post daily agendas/checklists on Seesaw (Gr. Navigating the Online Classroom Guidelines for Teachers

The Online Classroom Environment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Your connection with students is critical, make time to reconnect with them ● Develop class routines and expectations for both in person and at-home learning ● Begin every class with a community building and/or SEL activity ● Maintain the ratio of genuine praise to correction as a target of 5:1 ● Remember your audience may include viewers beyond your students, even though it should not! ● Review online tutorials with students at the beginning of the year and when appropriate ● Take time to review with students how to interact in the virtual environment <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ using the chat feature ○ using the mute button ○ actively listening to their classmates ○ exiting the meeting immediately when it is finished ● Parents should be invited as guardians, not as students on Google Classroom ● Protect student privacy especially identifying any special services ● Carefully plan core and supplemental learning sessions to protect the identity of students with 504s and IEPs ● Remember Tier II and Tier III instruction is part of the general education program and not special education, but parents may be sensitive about the visibility of their child receiving “extra help”-those sessions can be by small group google invitation ● As a mandated reporter, if you see/hear something in the background, it must be reported ● Do not record any meetings involving students ● Be the last one to exit a Google Meet session and delete the session code when the meeting is finished
The Online Content	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● For younger students new to Seesaw or Google Classroom, plan an activity such as a scavenger hunt, for them to demonstrate their ability to navigate within the platform ● Be explicit with students about the “why” of what they are learning. Give them examples of when they will draw upon this learning. ● Consider Universal Design in planning your lessons to provide access for all students. IEP/504 modifications and accommodations remain in place. Program managers will maintain an active role in planning ● Provide opportunities for your students to respond just-in-time ● Plan reciprocal learning experiences (e.g., students respond to a video clip they watched, a reading assignment they read, a question you posed to assess prior knowledge.) ● Provide “chunked” assignments, checklists, timetables for students ● Include clearly descriptive directions that outline the specific learning target for the lesson
Assessing Student Learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Build in some time up front to assess prior knowledge ● Allow for student choice in their demonstration of understanding-this is not only motivational for all learners, but builds in differentiation ● Design learning opportunities and assessments centered around student interest ● Provide opportunities for ungraded practice and feedback before assigning graded tasks

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● Provide feedback and time for editing written work with deadlines for each benchmark of the assignment● Consider and assign extended due dates to allow for flexibility● Use multiple online resources to support student learning● Include clearly descriptive directions that outline the specific learning target for the assessment
Managing Your Time	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● Work with your IC, Coach, or Coordinator if you need any support with content, lesson planning, or resources● If you're feeling stressed, overwhelmed, or just need to talk, reach out to a colleague, mental health staff, or administrator● Stay healthy and schedule time to talk a walk or run, play a game with your family, or take a drive along the coastline
