

This document provides a summary of scholarships that have been offered over the last several years but does not guarantee that the scholarship will be available for the current year. The most accurate and complete listing is always available in Naviance.

Scholarships are for seniors only, unless otherwise noted.

Purple titled scholarships are indicative of those available for technical, trade, vocational and 2-year programs.

Scholarship Guide

Local Scholarships are available to Mt. Lebanon students only or students in the South Hills area and are typically presented at our Awards ceremony in May. All scholarships are subject to approval of the scholarship committees and are offered on an annual basis.

Pittsburgh Foundation Scholarships are those that apply to Mt. Lebanon students or include Mt. Lebanon students in their criteria. There are many other scholarships available on this site and students should look for other scholarships that pertain to their course of study and/or circumstances.

Other Scholarships include national, regional or other programs that are available to the general public. MTLSD does not endorse or guarantee these scholarships.

LOCAL SCHOLARSHIPS

WYONA COLEMAN SCHOLARSHIP

Sponsored by: PA Chapter of Sierra Club

Wyona Coleman spent her childhood on a farm, and developed a love of the outdoors early on. She joined the environmental movement during the first Earth Day, 1970 and was instrumental in starting her own Sierra Club Group and then the Pennsylvania Chapter. Her concern about surface mining destroying farms and forests led to her work on the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act, which was passed in 1977. When emphasis changed from surface mining to longwall mining in southwestern Pennsylvania, she organized the Tri State Citizens Mining Network (now the Center for Coalfield Justice). Wyona's other love was reading. As a librarian, she held learning in high esteem. It is a fitting tribute to her memory to encourage students to pursue environmental education. The scholarship is open to all Pennsylvania residents who are seniors in high school or above and accepted or enrolled into any college-level program in environmental studies. Applicants should have a 3.0 cumulative GPA or higher.
