

St. Paul's School for Girls

New Teaching Faculty 2020-2021

Jesse Anderson will teach upper school math. He joins the department with 18 years of teaching experience at Baltimore area schools including Roland Park Country School (RPCS), Gerstell Academy, and McDonogh School. Mr. Anderson earned an undergraduate degree in mechanical engineering from Lafayette College and an M.B.A. from Loyola University Maryland. In addition to his experience teaching mathematics, Mr. Anderson served most recently as academic dean at RPCS. he will coach middle school volleyball.

Casey Hill will teach math in the middle and upper schools. Mr. Hill earned his Bachelor of Arts from University of Miami and a master's in teaching from Johns Hopkins University. He has taught previously at Baltimore City Public Schools, Beth Tfiloh Dahan Community High School, and Cristo Rey Jesuit High School. In addition, he has served as an online mathematics instructor for the Johns Hopkins Center for Talented Youth's Distance Education Program and a lecturer in Goucher College's Prison Education Program.

Tamika Joyner-El will teach upper school English. Ms. Joyner-El brings five years of teaching experience in Baltimore City Public Schools, as well as experience developing educational programming for various organizations and institutions including Infinite Transformations, Notre Dame Mission Volunteers, and CentroNia Bilingual Public Charter School. She holds a Bachelor of Arts in English from Shaw University and a master's in education from Concordia University in Portland.

Jeff Sachs joins The St. Paul's Schools as technical director and upper school technical theatre teacher. He holds a Bachelor of Science in theatre and psychology from Northwestern University and a Master of Fine Arts from Arizona State University. He has taught previously at Phoenix Country Day School and Mudlark Theatre, working with both middle and upper school students. He also serves as managing director at Kerfuffle, a theatre program for young actors, and as an education associate at Imagination Stage, where he mentors and directs teenage actors. Mr. Sachs has extensive experience both directing and designing productions for young audiences, including Mamma Mia!, Disney's The Little Mermaid, and The Sound of Music.

Jenne Skove will teach French and humanities in the middle school. Ms. Skove holds a Bachelor of Science in middle school education from Stevenson University and has experience teaching in several Baltimore County Public Schools. During her summers, Ms. Skove volunteers annually at a refugee center in Leysin, Switzerland, and she was a featured TEDx speaker in 2016, highlighting adoption and the role of women in Indian society. Ms. Skove will also coach middle school tennis.

Elisabeth Stiles will teach science in the middle school. She holds a Bachelor of Science in art from Towson University and a teaching certification from College of Notre Dame Maryland. Ms. Stiles joins SPSG with 12 years of teaching experience at Friendship School and, most recently, Legacy School, where she served as both math teacher and science department head.

Jacqueline Wheeler will teach upper school graphic art and digital photography. Ms. Wheeler holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts from Maryland Institute College of Art and has served most recently as the digital art education at The Field School in Washington, D.C. As a STEAM education and program coordinator for FutureMakers, she created original curriculum for students ages five through 15. Ms. Wheeler has experience as a director, cinematographer, and lead editor working with Baltimore Design School and the local non-profit Skatepark of Baltimore.