

Weekly Wins

Elementary Win: Many of our elementary classrooms have had all students successfully signing in daily and taking part in the live lessons, learning how to use Teams and Schoology, and getting to know their teachers and fellow students.

Middle School: Many middle school students shared that they were overly excited to see their teachers and classmates for the first time. The teachers and students also worked on adjusting to their new schedule, familiarizing themselves with technology tools, and learning the overall format of the the Committed Distance Learning program.

High School: High schoolers spent the first three days acclimating to distance learning, experiencing the various technology platforms, getting to know each other and the teachers, and focusing on student well-being.

Tech Tip(s) of the Week

TIP 1: Students should always open Schoology first each day. This is the landing page for all online learning, and sets the stage on what the student will learn each day.

TIP 2: Students must be signed into Chrome correctly. Olentangy Schools has step by step instructions on How to Log In to Chrome.

TIP 3: Be sure to install and log into the Teams app. Our Technology Troubleshooting cheat sheet offers helpful video tutorials.

Reminders & Announcements

School discipline and the Student Code of Conduct are still in effect for Olentangy students in Committed Distance Learning. Please review the Student Handbook\(s\) with your child regarding appropriate behavior.

If your student will miss classtime, parents should complete the CDL Student Absence Form.

Middle Schoolers will receive information regarding Unified Arts (electives) next week. A survey will be sent to parents on Wednesday, September 9, and students will be able to sign up for electives between September 9 - 13. Students can choose up to two electives.

Once middle school elective information is collected, we will enroll students in these classes. Please be patient, as this process will take time. Students should expect to start their unified arts classes by September 28, and will have the entire first semester to complete these courses. Elective courses will be courses taken through Apex. Students will receive communication from the class teacher, and will complete the content during their independent work time.
