

Celia Schweizer

My name is Celia Schweizer, and I arrived in Moscow in August, with my husband, Nick, and our two daughters, Olivia (Grade 2) and Agnes (Grade 1). We are originally from the United States but moved to Moscow from Heidelberg, Germany where our children attended another IB school, Heidelberg International School. I served two years in various roles (including Communications, Treasurer, and Vice President) for the PTO executive team at HIS. I hope to fill the position of Committee Secretary for the PTO at AAS.

I earned a BA from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and an MBA from The George Washington University. I spent nearly a decade working in corporate philanthropy for a Fortune 200 company, where I managed multimillion-dollar philanthropic programs and coordinated the participation of thousands of employee volunteers. I took a break from full-time work to start a family, and to embrace life as an expat. Since starting a family and moving overseas, I have completed freelance research and writing projects for colleagues in academia, and worked part-time in graduate program admissions at the University of North Carolina Kenan-Flagler Business School.

I look forward to leveraging my skills and experiences as a former corporate funder and PTO leader in service of AAS, and to contributing in meaningful ways to the school's community.
