

Technical Colleges

There are five technical colleges in the state of Washington. The two closest to PHS are Bates and Clover Park. If you are not interested in a four-year college you might want to explore the many two-year training programs they have at technical colleges. Many of the programs are hands on and you learn by doing.

If you are interested in applying to a technical college it is highly recommended that you make an appointment to attend one of their Information/Orientation Sessions to get information about their programs and next steps to apply. It is highly recommended to start this process early in your senior year as many of the programs are very popular and fill up quickly. First step is to apply online then you need to attend an information session. You will then make an appointment to take their placement test and once you have completed that you will meet with an admissions counselor. Once you have completed all of those steps you can officially apply for a program starting in the summer or fall after your senior year.

I am attaching Bates and Clover Park's admissions information websites for more specific information.

Bates- <https://www.batestech.edu/getting-started/>

Bates Admissions Video-

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0MKpMVYFIds&list=PLew36pszZnvjW_1voZ-bSm52-1n8s8KQ6

Clover Park- <https://www.cptc.edu/admissions/new-student>

CP Admissions Video- https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Bh1EA-fNw_w&list=PLew36pszZnvjW_1voZ-bSm52-1n8s8KQ6&index=7