From the Director

Dear HIS Community and Friends,

We welcome you all back in this edition of the HIS DragonNews, a quarterly communication that focuses on initiatives, celebrations and the joys of teaching and learning at HIS. In the first edition of DragonNews, we introduce our faculty and other 'Essentials' for the 2020-21 school year, our nineteenth year as the international school of choice in the wonderful city of Hangzhou.

With now over 650 students from over 50 nationalities enrolled at HIS, there is an increasingly wonderful diversity of language, culture, host-country heritage and international experience. This diversity is celebrated as we nurture a multicultural learning environment where students and teachers value the contributions of our different identities and backgrounds. In order for students to feel free to express themselves, develop their potential and engage in rigorous learning, a school must have a strong transition program that ultimately establishes a safe and supportive learning environment for all students. The HIS Transition Committee makes this a top priority given the diversity and transitory circumstances of many of our families. Even with all this diversity, HIS really feels like home for its teachers, parents, and students. At HIS, we celebrate what makes us unique as much as we value what brings us together. We work hard to appreciate both what makes us different and what makes us one. The result of these efforts is evident as soon as one enters our school. It is truly an exceptional experience to be a part of such a diverse center for community activity and involvement, and much of this should be credited to our PAFA volunteers, country ambassadors, and event coordinators.

Our focus in maintaining a strong caring community throughout our growth has also enabled HIS to continue expanding educational choices to its students. Our robust academic and extracurricular programs allow students of varying backgrounds and talents to further explore and develop their strengths as unique learners. In addition to a strong core academic program, we also expect our students to be musical and explore other visual and performing arts, to widen awareness and appreciation for the host country, and to develop an appreciation for fitness and health. We also believe that students need opportunities to give back and apply themselves to the wider community through service learning. While the unique and diverse learning environment within the safety of the school walls allows for students to develop their skills, take risks, and explore new concepts, it is important that they learn to apply these skills to the world outside those walls so they may become the problem solvers and leaders, not the contributors, to the global issues and concerns of our future. It is really a wonderful time to be at HIS, and a wonderful place to learn.

Again, we welcome the 2020-21 school year and congratulate our entire community for supporting a great start. Enjoy the Dragon News and GoooOOO Gold Dragons!

Monitoring your child's health

It is important that you pay particular attention to your child's health at this time and ensure that your child does not come to school when they are sick. While we know that young children become ill regularly and for a variety of reasons, we are currently obliged to lockdown any class/grade level on the discovery of a fever; and/or other COVID-19 symptoms at school. If you suspect that your child may have a fever, please double-check their temperature with a mercury thermometer as follows:

- Lightly press the tip of the thermometer into the center of the armpit.
- Hold your child's arm, close against the body so the thermometer stays in place.
- Wait for the thermometer to take its reading. This will take about 5 minutes.
- Remove the thermometer from the armpit and read the temperature.
- Clean the thermometer and store for its next use.

Any fever measured by infrared handheld forehead thermometer should be considered only reliable under good operating conditions. Please only report a fever if measured under arm by mercury thermometer three times in one hour (1st measure 37.3 or higher; 2nd measure 37.3 or higher after 30 mins, 3rd measure 37.3 or higher after one hour). In this situation, please keep your child at home and take them to fever clinic on your own or as advised by the school nurse.

BIRTHDAY PARTIES :

Birthday celebrations may be held in addition to classroom parties but are restricted to no more than 30 minutes time within with the snack period or the lunch period. Invitations to private birthday parties may be distributed at school only if all children in the class are to be invited. The giving of gifts is prohibited, including goodie-bags or party favors. Birthday cakes should not be brought to school. Please do not send birthday cake or other treats in. Don't worry teachers will do their best to make the day special for your child.

FOOD SERVICE :

A weekly menu, along with nutritional information, can be found on the school website www.his-china.org under the Inform tab. Please tell your child's teacher if he or she has any special dietary needs.

TRANSITIONS

Hangzhou International School is committed to supporting students, parents, and staff with mobility within and between schools. We are sensitive to the difficulties faced by our school community during transitions. We endeavor to support all members of our community to ensure that they arrive, orient, integrate, and depart well.

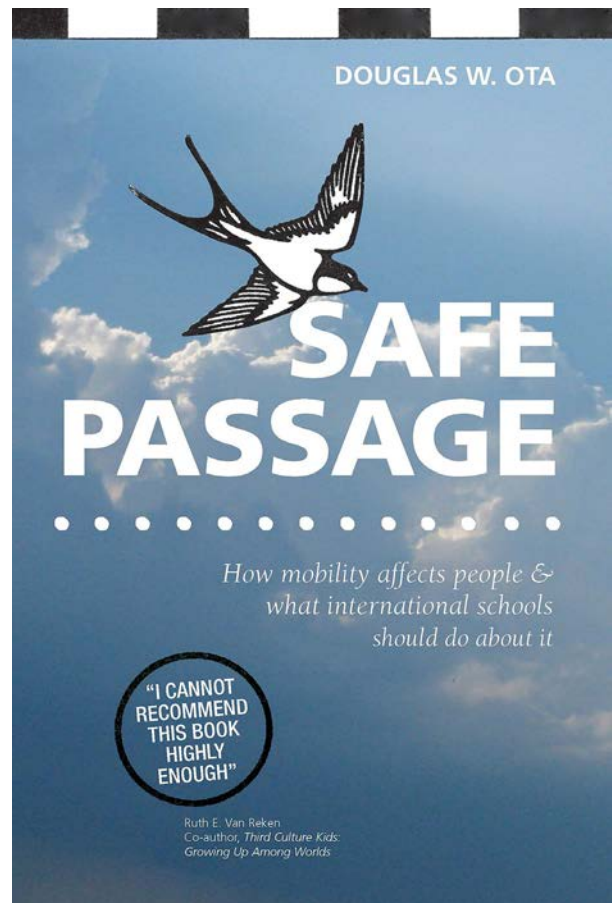

We are partners with SPAN (Safe Passages Across Networks), FIGT (Families in Global Transition), and Globally Grounded, who guide our organization and procedures relating to transitions. These organizations create a network between international schools to address the emotional issues and needs of individuals. People learn best when they are safe and emotional issues extend from within schools to between schools. As such, Hangzhou International School is one of the first three pre-pilot schools to participate in becoming a certified Safe Passage School.

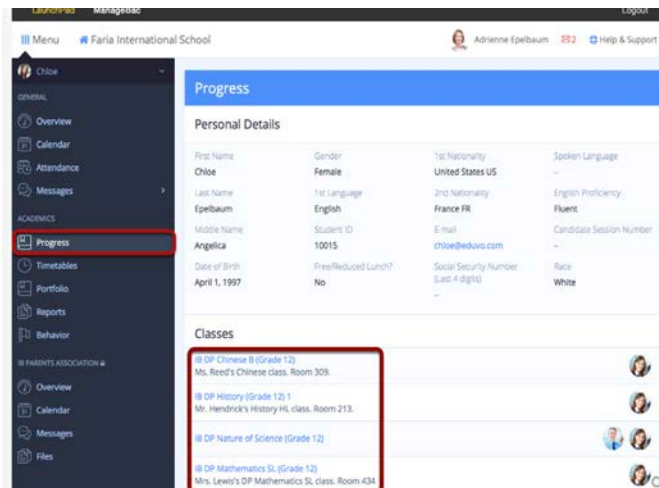

The key to a good arrival is a good departure, no matter where you go in the world.

For questions regarding transitions and getting involved with a program, please contact Andrea Stubbs astubbs@his-china.org, or Karl Suits ksuits@his-china.org.

Safe Passage Across Networks at HIS

The HIS community, students, parents, and faculty, have participated in on-site transitions workshops with Douglas Ota and worked through a book study of his book, Safe Passage. It provides information about students, teachers, and community members' roles in arriving, staying, and leaving international communities. "Moving is one of life's greatest challenges. Firmly grounded in psychological theory and cutting-edge neuroscience, Safe Passage maps the challenges and charts a course for individuals, schools, and accrediting bodies to navigate them. Although primarily focusing on international schools, the hopeful message within this book reaches into any school, university, or organization where human beings come and go." We encourage you to read this book.

TEACHERS COMMUNICATION:

All HIS teachers maintain a digital presence with information about their classes. Upper School teachers rely primarily on Managebac to communicate assignment due dates and student progress. All parents are given access to Managebac upon joining HIS. In the Lower School teachers use WeChat, Email, and ManageBac to give updates about class and share media

HIS DRAGONS WEBSITE:

Announcements will be posted on the website. If there is need for a school closure, families will receive an email sent to their registered email account and a message will be posted on the website. Please check the website if there is a chance of snow or any other major meteorological event. Please take the time to have a look around our website in order to gain a better understanding of our school.

If a class is going on a field trip and you elect not to send your child, then your child will need to stay home for the day. The Upper School organizes overnight trips for every grade level. Generally, the trips last from four to five days. These trips are part of the curriculum and attendance is mandatory.

WELCOME TO THE IB PROGRAMME:

At Hangzhou International School, we are excited about incorporating the International Baccalaureate Programmes in the community. From Early Years to Grade 12, our students are taking part in inquiry learning, applied approaches, and contextualized experiences that will improve their understanding of content. The International Baccalaureate is a program that is recognized around the world and makes it easy for our students to transition into and out of other programs. Universities recognize the rigorous assessment methods and content that Diploma Programme (DP) students are able to undertake in grades 11 and 12, while they appreciate the learning skills and techniques that students in grades 6-10 develop through the Middle Years Programme (MYP). Lower School students inquire and gain new perspectives through the Primary Years Programme (PYP), using a variety of learning methods to achieve strong skills and understanding.

The IB Diploma Programme is an academically challenging university prep program that encourages student growth physically, intellectually, emotionally, and ethically. With six subject areas covered in regular classes, students also take part in Theory of Knowledge courses, Creativity, Activity, and Service elements (CAS), and write an Extended Essay by the time they finish the program in 12th grade. The external assessment practices ensure that there is validity and recognition extended to the students. The HIS average IB score is a 34; above the world average of 29.

The Middle Years Programmes is for all students in grades 6-10. The MYP curriculum framework has eight subject groups that encourage students to make practical connections between their studies and the real world. Using the MYP assessment criteria, teachers are able to provide effective feedback for student development. With an emphasis on skills-based learning and reflection, students have ample opportunities for growth and development throughout the program. The Primary Years Programme carries on the HIS traditions for inquiry learning and student development. Through six transdisciplinary themes of global significance, students learn how to take control of their own learning, and the school-wide community contributes to the learning process. They have a chance to explore and understand local and global issues as they relate to their own lives.

The IB Continuum provides quality training and oversight for faculty and our school in general. Through collaboration, the teachers gain understanding, skills, and knowledge that help them effectively meet the needs of the HIS students.

AN INTRODUCTION TO “BRIDGEU” UNIVERSITY & CAREER GUIDANCE:

BridgeU is an interactive college and career guidance tool. Students in grades 9 through 12 will have access to this user friendly web-based platform. All high school students will receive direct guidance on using this tool in the Fall of 2018. BridgeU offers several tools which allow students to identify interests, research different careers, explore universities, and develop a deeper understanding of the university application process.

BridgeU's Profile Builder provides students with a list of universities that are specifically tailored for them. This portion of the site uses student's projected scores, countries of interests, and other components to suggest reach, match, and safety schools. Students are able to select from a list of countries including Hong Kong, Netherlands, Canada, United States, United Kingdom, and Australia. Soon enough, BridgeU will offer a more extensive list of universities around the world.

Students can access the Shortlist feature once they review their university matches. The Shortlist section of the website is where students store their preferred universities. In the Fall of grade 12, students will have access to their personalized shortlist and decide on the final list of universities they wish apply to that semester. Students can also research and save notes for each university.

In addition, the Writing Builder section supports students with writing personal statements. Students are able to draft their personal statement and have advisors here at school provide guidance. There are helpful exemplar essays written by students who were admitted to renowned institutions. These helpful exemplars are annotated to ensure that students understand the reasoning behind the evaluation of the essay.

Of all the features this platform offers, the Applications section is the most important. Universities and courses marked for applications are saved in this section. Students can view a snapshot of all the universities they have added to their final application list. Application deadlines and required documents are all stored in this centralized location. Students are able to add and remove universities if they change their minds.

Hangzhou International School will use BridgeU to guide students through the application process. In addition, we will use this site to assign tasks to students to ensure they meet applications deadlines, collect and store reference letters, and send necessary documents to universities.

Overall, BridgeU is an outstanding tool that will support all students in the college planning process. We are excited to launch BridgeU and look forward to having our students explore and the site first-handed.

For more information on BridgeU and College Counseling, please contact Rachel Pekin rpekin@his-china.org.

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES:

Student Support Services has some delightful surprises and updates for you this school year. The Student Support Office is located in B009 (through the library). In this space, you will find two study spaces designed for students across both Lower and Upper School divisions. HIS welcomes Nada Werner who is the Director of Student Support Services. The department consists of a school psychologist, a learning specialist, two school counselors, a speech pathologist, and ESOL support teachers. The Upper School counselor works closely with Upper School students to explore post-secondary aspirations, and provides individualized guidance throughout the college application process.

Student Support Services

Learning Support Program

Our learning specialists work closely with students, teachers, and parents to clarify what support students may need in order to achieve their full potential. At times, support might mean finding ways to incorporate classroom strategies that benefit all students. Occasionally, a group of students might need a mini-lesson on “how to convert fractions” using a scaffolded approach, or another small group might work on developing reading fluency by attending to pace and expression. Student Support Services works with Lower School students in all academic areas, aligns service learning opportunities for Lower School students, and coordinates additional services for meaningful cohesion. In the Upper School, Student Support Services consults with faculty members, provides direct support for students in the classroom, and offers after-school tutoring. Teachers and parents can refer students to the learning support program at HIS. Our aim is to optimize learning opportunities for students so they can successfully pursue personal and academic excellence within a caring community.

Counseling

Ms. Rachel Pekin is the Upper School Guidance and College Counselor to HIS. Ms. Pekin is available to support students in Upper School with social, emotional, behavioral, or academic needs. Depending on the specific area of need, she can provide individual and group counseling, cognitive and academic assessments, parent consultation, and support within the classroom. Some students benefit from meeting with a counselor as difficulties arise, whereas others need more ongoing support. Additionally, in order to meet the social-emotional needs of all students, classroom counseling lessons are a proactive way to directly teach the skills needed to develop friendships, cope with stress, handle conflict, and deal with other challenges that may arise at school. sentence structure

Speech Language Specialist

We are also tremendously fortunate to have a speech language specialist available here at Hangzhou International School. Barbara Armstrong can support students with gaining fluency in the English language as related to phonetic pronunciation.

Ms. Armstrong has particular expertise in the areas of:

- Articulation – recognizing placement, voiced/voiceless, carry-over
- Fluency – speech rate, reading and conversational fluency
- Language Acquisition – building vocabulary, Behaviors – associated with learning profiles, self-regulation, and emotions.

For more information on Student Support Services, please contact studentsupportservices@his-china.org

English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL)

At HIS, we recognize that all teachers are language teachers who have the responsibility to facilitate language acquisition and promote communication skills through their grade level and content area classes. In the Lower School, ESOL students who are unable to fully access the academic curriculum receive specialized instruction in English. Ms. Patricia Shomo, and Ms. Lainie Chandler, and Mr. Andrew Lawrence will work directly students in our Primary Years Program. This amazing team will collaborate with faculty members to provide differentiated instruction for our all language learners.

Note: Annual fees for the Learning Support Program are based on the hours of weekly support a child receives to advance educational attainment and/or receive speech-language therapy.

University Guidance

All Upper School students will have the opportunity to participate in several college presentations and fairs. These presentations and fairs offer students the unique chance to learn about the university admission process and all the great programming offered at universities around the world. Students can ask representatives questions to gain deeper insight and share their contact information with representatives to establish relationships. Additionally, HIS will continue our partnership with other international schools in the vicinity to host and attend larger college and university fairs. If you have any additional questions about university guidance this year, please contact Rachel Pekin rpekin@his-china.org.

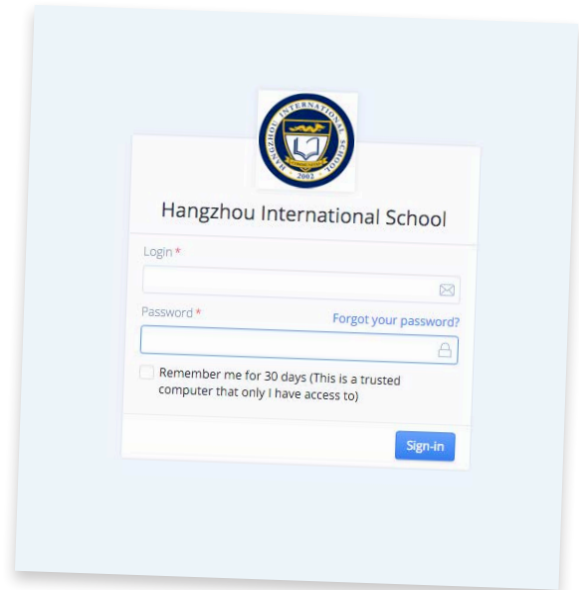

FOLLOW YOUR STUDENT'S PROGRESS:

To gain a better understanding of what your child is expected to accomplish, HIS has provided students, parents, and teachers access to the platform called Managebac. This site is a learning and communication platform that provides students and parents access to calendars, assignments, teacher-generated resources, gradebooks and feedback for student improvement, and an area for student portfolio storage.

To access Managebac, go to:

<https://his-china.managebac.cn>

Managebac Parent Tutorial, go to: <https://www.his-china.org/learn/technology/parent-managebac-tutorial>

The Student View provides access to assignments, calendars, messages, threaded discussions, grades, reports, portfolios, drop boxes, and project development. Students can keep up with what the teacher assigns, discuss questions with classmates, respond to feedback, and interact with advisors on projects.

The Parent View provides access to the student's quarterly reports, attendance, upcoming assignments, messages, and after school activities. Furthermore, parents are able to track student achievement on assessments, and ensure that their child is not falling behind with any missing assignments in a class. Managebac also provides a parent portal for messages, newsletters, PAFA activities, and more.

HIS PAFA (PARENTS AND FRIENDS ASSOCIATION):

All parents and guardians of HIS students, faculty, staff members, administration, and support staff are also automatically members of PAFA.

Together as parents, students, staff, faculty and friends, we will build a solid foundation that unites our diversity and fosters a positive, cohesive community. We all play an important role on the HIS campus.

What is PAFA?

PAFA is a group that builds a solid foundation that unites our diversity and promotes a strong positive community.

What is important?

Parental involvement is extremely important. It not only ensures we have the people power necessary to put on school activities; it also shows our students that they are valued members of our community.

What is our goal?

- Encourage parent and community involvement
- Help coordinate programs outside of the provided curriculum
- Encourage participation by all without discrimination
- Work collaboratively with school leadership (including administrators, teachers, and staff) to foster a positive and productive school culture
- Raise funds to support various efforts that build our community
- Connect parents & the school (especially new families) if parents do not know who to approach for help

If you have any questions please contact us:

Understanding Parent ID Badges

All parents arriving at HIS gates will be required to present their HIS ID card. Anyone who is not in possession of an ID card at the time of entry will be required to sign the Security Log Book and may require telephone approval from the appropriate office in the building. Those without an ID Card who sign in, depending on their business at the school, will be asked to wear a Visitors ID badge while on campus.

You may email the photo and information or send it to school in hard copy. IDs will be sent home with students after the name and photo are processed and the cards printed. ID Cards for immediate family members, legal guardians, or aunts may also be ordered by submitting the above information along with a signed note indicating parent consent. HIS does not issue IDs to drivers.

As a member of our school community, you are entitled to a personalized Parent ID card. In order to obtain your card, please request on the HIS school website ID Card page:

Should you have any questions on this matter; please feel free to contact
