Ravinia, CSO decline comment on Levine

NYS Met suspends conductor amid sex abuse investigations by James Van Name, Chicago Tribune

James Levine, conductor of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, is seen in a rehearsal room in August.

Both the Ravinia Festival and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra are withholding comment over allegations of sexual abuse by conductor James Levine, amid reports that the conductor is being investigated by the New York State attorney general's office.

Levine, 68, was suspended from his post as conductor of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra in August. The suspension was announced by the orchestra's board of trustees, which also announced that Levine would be removed from his post as artistic director of the Ravinia Festival, a summer music festival in Northbrook, Ill., that is owned and operated by the orchestra.
