Is there a statute of limitations for filing an alleged incident of harassment or discrimination?

Consistent with the School’s Uniform Complaint Procedures policy (“UCP”), any parent, guardian, individual, organization has the right to file a written complaint of discrimination, harassment, intimidation, and/or bullying on the basis of a protected characteristic within six months from the date the alleged incident occurred or the complainant first obtained knowledge of the facts of the alleged incident. The UCP sets forth procedures regarding whether a complaint can be filed beyond the statute of limitations.

How are discrimination complaints investigated?

Complaints filed with School are conducted pursuant to its UCP. Under School’s UCP policy, School has 60 calendar days from office receipt to investigate the complaint and to send a letter with findings to relevant parties.

During the investigative process, School shall contact complainant and other applicable parties to request documents and information. School provides an opportunity for the complainant to present evidence or information to support his/her allegations.
