All About the Auction | Mrs. Droste

Auction held in Fall 2019

How is the auction going to look like with Covid-19 restrictions?

This year, the auction will be completely online to make sure that nobody is stepping in our bubble. The students can access the auction online, but only their parents can register and bid on items. The auction will be opening for a week, starting on October 18th. There will be a silent auction throughout the whole week, and the auction will end with a big auction show on Saturday, October 24th. There are new items added all the time as if people are unlocking certain items as the week goes on, so the week of bidding will not feel so static. On Saturday morning, October 24th, during parents weekend, there will not be any parents, teacher conferences during that time so everyone will be able to watch the show that is broadcasted to their dorm. Before then, a good way to start the auction process for students now is to get on cardigan.org/auction and check out the items available. Then talk to parents about what is exciting for both of them and communicate with parents about what they are going to bid on for you.

Visit us on cardigan.org/auction!!

What will the off-campus trips of the auction look like?

We have no idea what the spring will be like, but we are hopeful that maybe we can make the events happen the way they are supposed to. I believe that the whole community and especially the faculty offering the trips are willing to be flexible. For example, the fishing opportunity, instead of happening elsewhere off campus, we can go to the waterfront or take a boat out on the lake, and fish in a safe way that is still on campus and in our bubble.

Why does the auction matter to us as students?

The auction directly feeds into the annual fund which determines everything we can offer for students. It allows Cardigan to be the amazing place it is and contributes to the programs at Cardigan. Especially this year, the auction contributes to all the changes made this year to make sure what is happening is still the cardigan way.

The ChaD Hero Event-Mrs. Escalante

Reporter | Harold Kim

Athletes start running for the 5k fundraiser

What is the event and who organized it?

The fundraising event is called the “CHaD Hero Event.” It included all types of athletic events including a half marathon, 5K, bike race, hike, and more. All proceeds benefit the Children’s Hospital at Dartmouth Hitchcock Medical Center. At Cardigan, our National Junior Honor Society is organizing the event.

How will the raised money be spent and who will it help?

Funds raised from the event will go directly towards the care of pediatric patients at Dartmouth Hitchcock Medical Center. In addition, funds will also be used to support families and patients through the difficult trials of medical treatment.

Why should students participate?

This is a great cause and every minute that you spend sweating for the cause is considered community service! It’s also going to be a blast - what better way to celebrate the health of young people than to get out and get active! So join your Cardigan Community this week to fundraise and FUN-raise :-)

How can students participate at Cardigan?

- A. Run in the 5K on Saturday October 10, the XC team will open their 5K course to anyone who wants to join (faculty included). If you are in sports and can’t make it, you can still run a 5K independently and send a picture to someone on NJHS.
- B. Run “Quarters for Quarters” - stay tuned for times when you can run laps around Marrion in honor of a generous donation from the parents of Jeff Lei to CHaD. For every lap, you earn money towards the Cardigan Snack bar for yourself AND money for the kids at the hospital! Thank you Lei family!
- C. Participate in the 3vs3 B-ball tournament on October 12 - it only costs $1 per person!
- D. Making a donation - if your parents want to donate, they can donate to our Cardigan Team online (search “CHaD Hero 2020”. The name of our team is Cardigan Cougars. If your parents want you to donate a small amount, Cardigan can make a small withdrawal from your student account. Just let Ms. Fedele or Mrs. Escalante know.
- E. Cheer for fellow cougars while they “move for the movement”!!!!
