

2019-2020 Prize Night Award Winners

Wellesley Prize Book

Presented by the Wellesley College Alumnae Association of New Hampshire to honor a young woman in her junior year who has made an outstanding contribution to her school in terms of leadership, citizenship, and scholastic achievement.

Awarded to: Alexandria Garside

The Smith College Book Award

Presented by the Smith College Club of New Hampshire to an outstanding junior who exemplifies academic achievement, leadership qualities, and concern for others.

Awarded to: Sointu S. Ahola

The Wells College 21st Century Leadership Award

Awarded to a member of the Junior Class who embodies the spirit, integrity, and intellectual qualities of a strong future leader, and who has been recognized for academic excellence, community involvement and leadership ability.

Awarded to: Megan M. Gates

The Harvard Prize Book

Awarded annually by the Harvard Club of Boston in the leading secondary schools of the country to a member of the junior class who best combines excellence in scholarship with achievement in other fields.

Awarded to: Elizabeth M. Field

Female Athlete of the Year

Awarded by the Athletic Department to the girl who has contributed the most to athletics at Tilton.

Awarded to: Alyssa M. Moreland

The Hosea B. Burnham Prizes

These prizes, the gift of Dr. Hosea B. Burnham of the class of 1850, are awarded to students who excel in Mathematics and in the Sciences.

The Burnham Prizes in Mathematics are awarded to students who have demonstrated outstanding creative problem solving abilities in the core mathematics program. Awarded this year to three students;

Awarded to:

In Algebra 1

Clara F. MacDow

In Geometry

Sara J. Thibeault

In Algebra 2

Joyce Jiang

The Burnham Advanced Math Prize – is awarded to a student in an Advanced Mathematics course who demonstrates a superior level of creative problem solving in mathematics and a passion for mathematical analysis and abstract thinking.

Awarded to: Minhao “Howard” Yin

The Burnham Prizes in Science are awarded to students who excel in science and who demonstrate a strong interest in the application of scientific skills and knowledge to solving real-world problems in the global community. Awarded to three students;

Awarded to:

Day

In Biology

Jayden J.

Li

In Physics

Hengcheng “Wilson”

In Chemistry

Sointu S. Ahola

The University of Rochester Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science

Award

Symbolizing its commitment to discovery, analytic thought, and scientific progress, the University of Rochester makes this Award to a student in the Junior class who demonstrates exceptional promise in the sciences.

Awarded to: Yin “Amy” Lu

The Donald Robert Dowling Prize

Established by Robert A. Dowling, in memory of Donald Robert Dowling of the class of 1926, this prize is awarded to the student who leads the Freshman Class in scholarship for the year, demonstrating excellence in critical thinking, communications, and creativity working hard on behalf of the community, and always showing good character.

Awarded to: Madison F. Stephen

The Holton Prize

Founded in 1927 by Mrs. Sallie K. Holton, this prize is to be awarded to a member of the Freshman Class who possesses the following qualities: maturity, helpfulness, good sportsmanship, scholastic ability, with special reference to effort made and improvement shown, and lastly and especially, dormitory spirit.

Awarded to: Kai A. Tsoar

The Scott R. Selvin Scholarship Award

Established in memory of Scott Selvin, the son of Robert a member of the Tilton English Department from 1950-1967, who though basically shy, possessed unproved qualities for leadership, was compulsively generous, and unusually kind and thoughtful. His love for Tilton was open and sincere. The award is made to a freshman or sophomore day student who possesses the important characteristics of thoughtfulness and kindness and should be a person who has helped the School by concerned participation in some way other than on the athletic field.

Awarded to: Sophie M. George

The Erik Jacobsen Memorial Prize

Established in memory of Erik Jacobsen '74, this prize is awarded to a junior who has shown exceptional versatility and spirit in the performance of school activities, has been loyal and encouraging to fellow classmates, and has exhibited an unusual tenacity in the pursuit of a goal.

Awarded to: Mackenzie G. Saunders