

I want you to know...

I love you and I am extremely grateful for everything you have done for me. So far my Ninth Grade year has been extremely fun and I am really enjoying this school and the classes it has to offer.

I know it is hard to do everything that you're doing. Thank you for always thinking of me and helping me when ever I need it.

You are so inspirational and always push me to the best version of myself I can be! I know I can count on you for anything and I appreciate everything you've done for me and my future so I can have the chance to have the best future imaginable.

I want you to know that I'm fine. Everything is going well. I'm having a great time at the High School lacrosse practices. I'm happy.

I want to be exactly like you when I grow up. You've given me freedom to grow into who I want to be but also given me some fair rules to follow.

Thank you!

Also, take care of your physical and mental health, don't be too tired all day.

From you guys cracking jokes, even when you're preoccupied with other things, or just hanging out with the family, it's always a great time when we're hanging out. The variety and enrichment you have given my life is something I will never forget.

One thing I would want to tell my parents is that online school is really draining. Not being able to see real life faces and interact with people makes days feel longer and longer.

I want you to know that I know that I am your favorite child.

It is so obvious.

I am the best child you can have.

That I am trying my 100% best in school right now because I know that my grades count way more than they did in Middle School towards my GPA.

I like how you are trying to help out my sister and I respect that, so don't worry if your not paying as much attention to me ... It's all fine!

I know as a child I can be a little bit annoying but I thank you for sticking with me and giving me the best life possible.

I am a firm believer that a draconian rule leads to Machiavellian subjects, this would be a welcomed step in advanced towards a future where I will be sufficiently able to handle the requirements of a being a solitary adult, preceding my eventual peregrination to college.

I want you to know that I'm actually doing good right now, but at the same time I need my space.

I want you to know that I'm very thankful for everything you do for me even though I can be extremely impatient sometimes.

You're very understanding, and I'm thankful that I have a parent like you!

I want you to know that even though it doesn't seem like it, I do try. I try everyday just to make you proud.

I also know that you push me so hard because you know I can do it, and I'm glad you never stop trying to get me away from my lazy habits and to get out and experience things.

Thank you for teaching me right from wrong, even though I don't always get it right the first try.

Thank you for being the best parents I could have and giving me food, shelter, and most of all, love. Thank you for bringing me into this world and letting me dream big.

Thank you!
