

Grade	Concepts	Competencies	Character
Kindergarten2	Reading and Listening Learners begin to understand that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • print has organization and basic features • spoken words are represented in written language by specific sequences of letters • words are separated by spaces in print • there is a purpose of words, syllables and sounds(phonemes) • the role of word analysis in decoding words • the context and syntactic information assist in accessing meaning • text has a message and readers use strategies to access the meaning	Learners will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • recognize and produce rhyming words. • count, pronounce, blend and segment syllables in spoken words • blend and segment onsets and rimes of single-syllable of spoken words • isolate and pronounce the initial, medial vowel, and final sounds(phonemes) in three phoneme (consonant-vowel-consonant, or CVC) words, (This does not include CVCs ending with /l/, /r/, or /x/). • add or substitute individual sounds (phonemes) in simple, one-syllable words to make new words • recognize word patterns • demonstrate basic knowledge of one-to-one-letter-sound correspondences by producing the primary or many of the most frequent sound for each consonant. • associate the long and short sounds with common spellings (graphemes) for the five major vowels. • read common high-frequency words by sight (e.g., the of, to, you, she, my, is, are, do, does). • distinguish between similarly spelled words by identifying the sounds of the letters that differ. • begin to read with sufficient accuracy and fluency to support comprehension. • read emergent-reader texts with purpose and understanding. • stop and attempt to self-correct, if what they read does not make sense • make use of the comprehension strategies: prior knowledge, visualizing and asking questions 	Integrity Resilience Reflection
	WRITING and SPEAKING Learners begin to understand: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • through writing they can communicate their own message • there are different writing genres: narrative, informative and argumentative and that each has different characteristics • there are techniques to develop their thoughts under different genres depending on the purpose of their writing and their audience • body language, choice of words and voice affect how well others receive the message 	Learners will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • use a combination of drawing, dictating, and writing to compose opinion, informative and narrative text • participate in simple writing activities to develop awareness of direction and pattern in orthography • practice handwriting pattern for fine motor skills, directionality and basic shape formation • participate in collaborative conversations with diverse partners about age appropriate topics and texts with peers and adults in small and large groups 	Empathy Playfulness

Grade	Concepts	Competencies	Character
Grade 2	Reading and Listening Learners understand that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the structure of a variation of genres (fiction, non-fiction, literature, biography) help interpreting the meaning of written and oral language. the elements of context influence the meaning of the message tone, volume, pace, intonation and gesture affect meaning 	Learners are able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> to read texts of different genres with sufficient accuracy and fluency while reading texts with more complex sentences to support comprehension to read and comprehend more complex content use context to confirm or self-correct word recognition and understanding, rereading as necessary make use of comprehension strategies: using prior knowledge, asking questions, inferring, determining importance, synthesizing. 	Integrity
	WRITING and SPEAKING Learners understand that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> argumentative writing support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts using valid reasoning and sufficient evidence. informative/explanatory writing examines and conveys complex ideas and information clearly and accurately through effective selection, organization, and analysis of content. narratives writing develops real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences. genres have structures that assist us to achieve a purpose when writing. tone, volume, pace and gesture affect the meaning of an oral message. 	Learners are able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> write opinion pieces in which they introduce the topic or name of the book they are writing about, state an opinion, supply reasons that support the opinion, using linking words (e.g. because, and, also) to connect opinion and provide a concluding statement or section write informative/explanatory texts in which they introduce a topic, use facts and definitions to develop points, and provide concluding statement or section write narratives in which they recount a well-elaborated event, or short sequence of events, include some details to describe actions, thoughts, and feelings, use temporal words to signal event order, and provide some sense of closure construct a range of genres orally using familiar topic information participate effectively in a range of conversations and collaborations with diverse partners, building on others' ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively 	Resilience Reflection Empathy Playfulness

Grade	Concepts	Competencies	Character
Grade 3	Reading and Listening Learners understand that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the components of reading and the routines and strategies are the basis for being a good reader the purpose of nonfiction texts is to explain or inform reader about a certain research-based topic authors present problem in a text that needs to be resolved the characters contribute to the text 	Learners are able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> to read texts of different genres with sufficient accuracy and fluency to support comprehension read with sufficient accuracy and fluency to support comprehension to use reading strategies: questioning, reading for details, searching and selecting, synthesizing and paraphrasing use predicting, comparing, connecting, creating images to deepen reading comprehension 	Integrity
	WRITING and SPEAKING Learners to understand that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> argumentative writing support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts using valid reasoning and sufficient evidence. informative/explanatory writing examines and conveys complex ideas and information clearly and accurately through effective selection, organization, and analysis of content. narratives writing develops real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences. genres have structures that assist us to achieve a purpose when writing. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the tone, volume, pace and gesture affect the meaning of an oral message. the development, the organization, and the style of writing is appropriate to the writing task, the purpose and the audience to produce a clear coherent piece of writing the research projects are based on focused questions, demonstrating understanding of the subject under investigation relevant information is found in multiple print and digital sources and requires the assessment of its credibility and accuracy of each source in order to be integrated while avoiding plagiarism writing routinely over extended time frames and shorter time frames for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences <ul style="list-style-type: none"> preparing for and participating effectively in a range of conversations and collaboration with diverse partners enable them to express their own ideas clearly and persuasively 	Learners are able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> write opinion pieces on topics or texts, supporting a point of view with reasons keeping audience in mind introduce a topic and group related information together, include illustration when useful to aiding comprehension. establish a situation and introduce a narrator and/or characters; organize an event sequence that unfolds naturally use dialogue and descriptions of actions. Thoughts, and feelings to develop experiences and events or show the response of characters to situations use temporal words and phrases to signal event order with guidance and support, to produce writing in which the development and organization are appropriate to task and purpose conduct short research projects that build knowledge about a topic recall information from experiences or gather information from print and digital sources write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on one, in groups, and teacher led) with diverse partners on grade level topics and tests building on others' ideas and expressing their own ideas clearly 	Resilience Reflection Empathy

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • finding information appropriate to task, purpose, and audience and presenting information with supporting evidence in a way that enable listeners to follow the line of reasoning and the organization, development and style. • adapting speech to variety of contexts and communicative tasks 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • report on a topic or text, tell a story, or recount and experience with appropriate facts and relevant, descriptive details, speaking clearly at an understandable pace • speak in complete sentences when appropriate to task and situation in order to provide requested details or clarification. 	Playfulness
--	--	---	-------------

Grade	Concepts	Competencies	Character
Grade 4	Reading and Listening Learners understand that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • reading with sufficient accuracy and fluency will support comprehension. • there are common features that make great literature. • the purpose of reading nonfiction text is to explain or inform a reader about a certain topic that has been • authors make stories exciting and capture readers’ interest by creating a story line and developing • the poets use special techniques to create images and feelings in the 	Learners are able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • read on level text with purpose and understanding. • read on-level prose and poetry orally with accuracy, appropriate rate, and expression on successive readings. • use context to confirm or self-correct word recognition and understanding, rereading as necessary • identify and discuss plot • paraphrase text • use reading strategies to interpret character feelings, traits, strengths and motivations • predict, summarize and paraphrase • recognize literary devices used to capture the reader’s imagination, feelings and interest • create expressive poetry by using imagery words, meaning and sounds 	Integrity
	WRITING and SPEAKING Learners understand that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • argumentative writing support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts using valid reasoning and sufficient evidence. • informative/explanatory writing examines and conveys complex ideas and information clearly and accurately through effective selection, organization, and analysis • narrative writing develops real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequence. • the development, the organization, and the style of writing is appropriate to the writing task, the purpose and the audience to produce a clear coherent piece of writing 	Learners are able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • write opinion pieces on topics or texts, supporting a point of view with reason and information keeping audience in mind • introduce a topic or text clearly, state an opinion, and create an organizational structure in which related ideas are grouped to support the writer’s purpose. • provide reasons that are supported by facts and details. • link opinion and reasons using words and phrases (e.g., for instance, in order to, in addition). • introduce a topic clearly and related information in paragraphs and sections; include formatting (e.g., headings), illustrations, and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension. • Develop the topic with facts, definitions concrete details, quotations, or other information and examples related to the topic. • Link ideas within categories of information using words and phrases (e.g., another, for example, also, because). • Use precise language and domain-specific vocabulary to inform about or explain the topic. • Provide a concluding statement or section related to the information or explanation presented. 	Resilience Reflection Empathy Playfulness

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the research projects are based on focused questions, demonstrating understanding of the subject under investigation • relevant information is found in multiple print and digital sources and requires the assessment of its credibility and accuracy of each source in order to be integrated while avoiding plagiarism • writing routinely over extended time frames and shorter time frames for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences is a mode to express one's thought • preparing for and participating effectively in a range of conversations and collaboration with diverse partners enable them to express their own ideas clearly and persuasively • finding information appropriate to task, purpose, and audience and presenting information with supporting evidence in a way that enable listeners to follow the line of reasoning and the organization, development and style. • writers integrate and evaluate information presented in diverse media and formats, including visually, quantitatively, and orally 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • orient the reader by introducing a narrator and/or characters; organize an event sequence that unfolds naturally • use dialogue and description to develop experiences and events or show the responses of characters to situations. • use a variety of transitional words and phrases to manage the sequence of events. • use concrete words and phrases and sensory details to convey experiences and events precisely. • provide a conclusion that follows from the narrated experiences or events. • produce clear and coherent writing in which the development and organization are appropriate to task, purpose and audience • practice and learn to use four basic handwriting joins to write in a legible, cursive script, forming and joining letters correctly. • with guidance and support from peers and adults, to develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising and editing. • conduct short research project that build knowledge through investigation of different aspects of topic • recall relevant information from experiences or print and digital sources; take notes and categorize information, and provide a list of sources • apply grade 4 Reading standards to literature (e.g., "Describe in depth a character, setting, or event in a story or drama. Drawing on specific details in the text {e.g., a character's thoughts, words, or actions}."). • apply grade 4 Reading standards to informational texts (e.g., "Explain how an author uses reasons and evidence to support particular points in a text"). • write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences • engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher led) with diverse partners on grade level topics and texts, building on others' ideas and expressing their own clearly • follow agreed-upon rules for discussions and carry out assigned roles • pose and respond to specific questions to clarify or follow up on information, and make comments that contribute to the discussion and link to the remarks of others • review the key ideas expressed and explain their own ideas and understanding in light of the discussion • paraphrase portions of a text read aloud, or information presented in diverse media and
--	--	--	--

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listeners evaluate a speaker’s point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric • speech can be adapted speech to variety of contexts and communicative tasks. 	formats, including visually, quantitatively, and orally <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identify the reasons and evidence a speaker provides to support particular points • engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on one, in groups, and teacher led) with diverse partners on grade level topics and tests building on others’ ideas and expressing their own ideas clearly • report on a topic or text, tell a story, or recount and experience with appropriate facts and relevant, descriptive details, speaking clearly at an understandable pace • differentiate between contest that call for formal English (presenting ideas) and situations where informal discourse is appropriate to task and situation.
--	---	--	--

Grade	Concepts	Competencies	Character
Grade 5	Reading and Listening Learners understand that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> reading with sufficient accuracy and fluency will support comprehension. 	Learners are able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> read on level text with purpose and understanding. read on-level prose and poetry orally with accuracy, appropriate rate, and expression on successive readings. use context to confirm or self-correct word recognition and understanding, rereading as necessary use reading strategies such as inferring, summarizing, and using text evidence to support opinions summarize text identify themes, conflicts and character development 	Integrity
	WRITING and SPEAKING Learners understand that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> argumentative writing support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts using valid reasoning and sufficient evidence. informative/explanatory writing examines and conveys complex ideas and information clearly and accurately through effective selection, organization, and analysis of content. narratives writing develops real or imagined experiences or events using effective 	Learners are able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> write opinion pieces on topics or texts, supporting a point of view with reasons and information introduce a topic or text clearly, state an opinion, and create an organizational structure in which related ideas are grouped to support the writer's purpose. provide logically ordered reasons that are supported by facts and details. link opinion and reasons using words and phrases and clauses (e.g., consequently, specifically). provide a concluding statement or section related to the opinion presented. introduce a topic clearly, provide general observation and focus, and group related information logically; include formatting (e.g., headings) Illustrations, and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension develop the topic with facts definitions of concrete details, quotations, or other information and examples related to the topic link ideas within and across categories of information using words, phrases and clauses (e.g., in contrast, especially) use precise language and domain-specific vocabulary to inform about or explain the topic provide a concluding statement or section related to the information or explanation presented orient the reader by establishing a situation and introducing a narrator and/or characters; organize and event sequence that unfurls naturally use narrative techniques, such as dialogue, description, and pacing, to develop experiences 	Resilience Reflection Empathy Playfulness

	technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the development, the organization, and the style of writing is appropriate to the writing task, the purpose and the audience to produce a clear coherent piece of writing relevant information is found in multiple print and digital sources and requires the assessment of its credibility and accuracy of each source in order to be integrated while avoiding plagiarism the development, the organization, and the style of writing is appropriate to the writing task, the purpose and the audience to produce a clear coherent piece of writing planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach develops and strengthens writing as needed focused questions, and demonstrating understanding of the subject under investigation <ul style="list-style-type: none"> will conduct short as well as more sustained research projects how to gather relevant information from multiple print and digital sources, assess the credibility and accuracy of each source, and integrate the information while avoiding plagiarism evidence is drawn evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection and research writing routinely over extended time frames and shorter time frames for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences is a mode to express one's thoughts preparing for and participating effectively in a range of conversations and collaboration with diverse partners enable them to express their own ideas clearly and persuasively finding information appropriate to task, purpose, and audience and presenting information with supporting evidence in a way that enable listeners to follow the line of reasoning and the organization, development and style. 	and events or show the responses of characters to situations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> use concrete words and phrases and sensory details to convey experiences and events precisely provide a conclusion that follows from the narrated experiences or events produce clear and coherent writing in which the development and organization are appropriate to task, purpose and audience develop handwriting skills by ensuring consistency in size and proportions of letters and in the spacing between letters and words conduct short research project that use several sources to build knowledge through investigation of different aspects of topic recall relevant information from experiences or gather relevant information from print and digital sources; summarize or paraphrase information in notes and finished work, and provide a list of sources apply grade 5 standards to literature (e.g., "Compare and contrast two or more characters, settings, or events in a story or a drama, drawing on specific details in text {e.g., how characters interact}"). apply grade 5 Reading standards to informational texts (e.g., "Explain how an author uses reasons and evidence to support particular points in a text, identifying which reasons and evidence support which point{s}"). write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher led) with diverse partners on grade 5 topics and texts, building on others' ideas and expressing their own clearly
--	--	---	--

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • writers integrate and evaluate information presented in diverse media and formats, including visually, quantitatively, and orally • listeners evaluate a speaker’s point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric • relevant information is found in multiple print and digital sources and requires the assessment of its credibility and accuracy of each source in order to be integrated while avoiding plagiarism • speech is adapted to variety of contexts and communicative tasks. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • summarize a written text read aloud or information presented in diverse media and formats, including visually, quantitatively, and orally • summarize the points a speaker makes and explain how each claim is supported by reason and evidence • report on a topic or text, tell a story, or recount and experience with appropriate facts and relevant, descriptive details, speaking clearly at an understandable pace • produce complete sentences when appropriate to task and situation in order to provide requested detail or clarification
--	---	--	--