Happy New Year!

It's a greeting I have offered to many in our school community last week, as July 1 marks the beginning of a "new" school year. I find that I am optimistic every New Year's Day about the future and I am certainly optimistic about the future of our beloved Villa. Better days have to be ahead — don't they?

These past few months certainly have been anything but the usual, and each and every Villa (and world, for that matter) family has been significantly affected by the triple crises of Covid-19, its economic impact, and the ignition of the effort needed to create substantial change to combat the systemic racism in our society. In my own home, we have faced job loss, the sudden loss of a senior's Spring semester and graduation, the inability to visit grandparents or attend weddings and funerals, the alteration of job and graduate school plans, and, very recently, the notice that our youngest daughter's senior year of college will be taught online. Nothing is as we had hoped it to be.

These challenging times have prompted me to take stock of the good things we DO have in our lives. And I am SO very thankful that I get to call Villa "home." This community has proven its resilience (we DID have a graduation ceremony!) and an agility and competence that was able to respond to the challenge of continuing our Jems' education while nearly all were in their homes rather than in the building (special shout-out to Mrs. Carr and our faculty and staff for "making it happen").

This New Year also brings a new Board Chair to Villa, Mary Smithson. If you have been to any of Villa's celebrations, fundraisers, or Masses, I am sure you have seen her in attendance. Her unwavering support of our Mission and our girls is an inspiration, and her gift for fostering meaningful relationships will assist all of us in our simple goal of helping each and every student to pursue the life to which God calls her. Mary, and the entire Board, are driving Villa towards a more just and equitable community, which is certainly in the spirit of our mantra, "Always more, Always better, Always with love."

I am pleased Mary is guiding us to live out the examples of Mother Maria and the Sisters of Saint Casimir as we strive to address the racial inequity in our community and in our world. I would encourage all of those interested to watch the State of the School address on our website — www.vjmhs.org/aboutvilla/stateofschool — where I lay out the steps we are taking to move Villa forward. Already this summer, we have made significant progress in all of the initiatives laid out. Since the tragedy of the George Floyd killing, I have been especially heartened to have personally engaged many Alumnae and current students, listened to their views, concerns and suggestions, and been inspired by their passion for change.

As I have said to all who reached out, I count on you to keep us accountable as we move forward. I would continue to encourage each of you to please reach out to me directly; I'd love to hear your thoughts and would welcome the opportunity to share with you all that is happening here on Holland Road.

I wish you all good health and peace. I find it so very helpful in facing the challenges of the day to return to our Mission for comfort and direction, and I remain forever grateful to have Villa as a safe home to return to each day in these troubling times.

I truly can't wait to see you again here on our beautiful campus.

Love and prayers,
Tom Kardish
President

Dear Villa families,

It's July and we are in full planning mode for our Fall reopening. We have been provided with numerous guidelines to adhere to for the safety of our students and our staff. We have been diligently adjusting classroom layouts to spread our students' desks apart and have been ordering ample supplies to keep us disinfected and ahead of the curve upon reopening.

Our plan at this time is a full opening for our students. Studies show that students need in-person schooling, not only for academic purposes but also for socialization and mental health. We want you to be sure that Villa will do everything in our power to keep our families up to date on changes in protocols and guidelines.

A few items that you can count on in the Fall:

- continuing small class sizes to maximize the distance between desks in each room
- independent symptom screenings at home
- temperature checks upon arrival for students and staff
- mask wearing on district buses and upon arrival, but not mandated within the classroom setting
- backpacks permitted to reduce gathering at the lockers
- pre-ordering (using a website/app) of cafeteria food with boxed style meals
- enhanced cleaning and sanitation of the entire building
- adjusted daily bell schedule to permit staggered dismissal times both in between classes and at the end of day

Please keep in mind everything mentioned above is where we are thinking right now. This situation has remained fluid since day one and will continue to be for the foreseeable future. If studies or mandates are provided that guide us to adjust some of the recommendations, we absolutely will do so.

We will be inviting the families of our current students to attend an in-person or online update of our plans. Multiple dates and times will be sent out later this month. An exact replica of the presentation, as well as our Health and Safety Plan, will be posted to our website. We want everyone to have the opportunity to hear the many ways we will educate our girls this upcoming school year amidst this global crisis.

As you know, many of our Spring events had to be altered and, in some cases, postponed or canceled. The students scheduled to participate in our summer Haiti trip will have the opportunity to attend our next one in its place. Our prom was postponed to June, and then postponed again. At this time, we are not able to find a venue that could feasibly and safely welcome our students and their guests, either with or without mask wearing as part of both the attire and the meal portion of the night. Our goal is to continue to reimagine this event and plan for a large gathering when possible. Our Legally Blonde: The Musical performance that was scheduled for this past Spring will now be the feature production this Fall in our Performing Arts Center.

While the past few months may have looked and felt a little different, please know that we are still Villa. We still have our traditions — both old, like Spirit Days and the Feast, and new, like our "Be the Light" car parade — that make being in person at Villa that much more special. We are beyond excited to see our Jems back in the building, cheering each other on, celebrating accomplishments, and supporting one another always.

STRATEGIC PLAN

Villa's Strategic Planning Committee completed and shared our new strategic plan for the school after almost a year of development and research. The full plan is available at www.vjmhs.org/strategicplan if you'd like to read the specific goals that were set, spanning six different areas: development, education, enrollment, finance and facilities, governance and mission, and marketing. We expect to update this document yearly, with progress updates and additional plans. Our first update to the plan is the revision of our school's Mission Statement.

NEW MISSION STATEMENT

Villa Joseph Marie High School is a Catholic college-preparatory school committed to helping young women discern who they are and grow into the disciples God calls them to be, as revealed by the life and teachings of Jesus Christ. The legacy of our foundress, Venerable Mother Maria Kaupas, and the Sisters of St. Casimir inspire the dedicated faculty and staff to provide a challenging environment and nurturing community which celebrates the dignity and uniqueness of each student and empowers young women through faith, education, and service, doing so in the spirit of "Always more, Always better, Always with love."

ALWAYS JEMS

Congratulations to our Jems for these special achievements — and so much more — that occurred during the 2019-2020 school year.

Autumn Andrejczak '22 and Allison DeFriece '22 were selected as Semi-finalists of a poetry competition, which had over 500 poetry submissions, that took place at the 36th Annual Poetry Festival at De Sales University. Allison received an Honorable Mention, placing her in the top five of submissions for her poem "7th Floor Musings."

Olivia Glunz '20 and Jenna Pintimalli '19 (represented by her Reel History teacher, Maggie May) were honored as essay contest winners for the Holocaust Remembrance Program following Mr. Danny Goldsmith's visit to Villa last Fall. Thank you to the Levittown Post 697 of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States for a beautiful dinner celebration! Olivia and Jenna were presented with citations from both the Senate of Pennsylvania and the United States House of Representatives. Thank you to U.S. Congressman Brian Fitzpatrick and State Representative Frank Farry for their support.

Sabrina DiNofa '20 (clarinet) and Dakota McNally '22 (baritone saxophone) were selected for and performed with the 2020 All Catholic Concert Band at Bishop Shanahan High School. Also, Sabrina was acknowledged for being selected for four years consecutively. Thank you to Mr. Facenda for his constant dedication and mentoring of our musicians!

Grace Matwijec '21 and Gabby Lyons '21 were selected as Diocesan Scholars for the 2020-2021 school year.

Cait Carolan '20 and Olivia Glunz '20 were named as National Merit Finalists, and Shannon Henes '20, Madeline Marriott '20, Jillian Reifsnyder '20, and Greta Wilkinson '20 were named as National Merit Commended Scholars.

The English Department's 2020 Poets Laureate were Allison DeFriece '22, Anna McCarthy '21, and Maddie Marriott '20. The VJMHS 2020 School Laureate was Maddie Marriott '20. We also acknowledged all of the submissions received this year from our Poet Laureate Medalists: Autumn Andrejczak '22, Valarie Rubinstein '22, Lia Caucci '21, Jillian Reifsnyder '20, and Gabriella DaPrato '20. Check out the Villa website — www.vjmhs.org/academics/poets — to read poems from our Poets Laureate and selections from our Poet Laureate Medalists.

Villa students completed 5,353 hours of service this year, contributing $124,000 in economic value to the community. This is an especially impressive number, because it's equivalent to last year's total, even though this year was hindered by almost three months of the quarantine. We are so proud of our Jems' dedication and commitment to service!

PIAA

Sabina Hartman was awarded the 2A third place medal for the 100 Yard Breaststroke.

Although the race was canceled, the 22nd Kiwanis Sesame Place Classic Scholarships were awarded to 34 top scholar-athletes in Bucks County high schools, including Lily Dineen '20.

VILLA ATHLETICS

BASKETBALL

The team started their season 2-0, with a big win over Nazareth, and later advanced to the championship game in the Christmas tournament. After key wins against St. Hubert, Merion Mercy, Nazareth, and Boyertown, the team made it to the district playoffs, beating Lower Moreland to advance to the District Championship for the first time in nine years. They made it to the first round of States, ending a very successful season and leaving the expectations for next season even greater.

SWIMMING

The "Aqua Jems" grew their (still) small but mighty team both in size and in pride. Leading the team to Districts were senior captains Jillian Reifsnyder and Caitlin Whalen, who celebrated Villa's 12 All-District awarded events across six swimmers. A new accomplishment this year was having two relays qualify for States (Corino, Hartman, Iannacone, Patrick, and Whalen). In addition, new record times were set by Megan Iannacone, Sabina Hartman, and Caitlin Whalen, securing individual event qualification to States. Unfortunately, the Covid-19 pandemic left this event canceled, but the girls hope to make a splash of a comeback next season, kicking all the way back to States in 2021.

TO OUR CLASS OF 2020 SPRING ATHLETES

We were looking forward to seeing you shine for one more season, and we want to thank you for your hard work and dedication. Although your preparation and time spent at practice won't get the recognition you deserve in competition this Spring, it's important to know that the athletic department and entire school is proud of what you've accomplished. We are incredibly thankful for how you've represented Villa Joseph Marie and everything that you've put into your program. Lacrosse, Rowing, Sailing, Softball, and Track & Field Seniors, we applaud you.

WHAT'S HAPPENING ON CAMPUS

“The self is not something ready-made, but something in continuous formation through choice of action.”
- John Dewey

This past school year was certainly one for the ages; it will be remembered as much for what was canceled or rescheduled as for what transpired. Throughout the successes and struggles of distance learning, an outdoor graduation, virtual college tours, and countless other accommodations, Villa experienced a real breakthrough this year as a school community. For not only was this the year of Covid-19, it was also the year that Growth Mindset came to Villa Joseph Marie High School.

The issue of student mental health has struck a chord with schools across the globe in recent years, forcing leadership to examine the role of schools in supporting a student's social-emotional well-being. In response, Villa leadership supported the formation of a committee to explore ways Villa could respond to the crisis in a meaningful way that aligns with our school Mission. After researching a variety of programs, the committee decided to partner with the Bucks County Intermediate Unit to bring the Growth Mindset curriculum to our school.

Based on numerous psychology studies and grounded in neuroscience research about brain plasticity, Growth Mindset is a program developed by Carol Dweck, Ph.D., that reevaluates how we think about how we think. Essentially, our brains have the ability to physically grow as we learn new things, creating new connections between neurons that enable us to learn and grow academically, socially, and emotionally as we experience success and failure. In short, by teaching students to embrace a Growth Mindset, they can become better learners and reduce their stress levels and anxieties.

To launch the Growth Mindset program, the committee decided to implement some “stress-reduction” days beginning in January with an adjusted school schedule to allow students to participate in a variety of activities. Students were asked to leave their phones in homeroom and sign up to participate in everything from yoga to art therapy to comedy improv and even an open gym. The goal was to show the students ways to release their stresses that could be replicated at home with the long-term goal of eventually blending the fun with some learning about Growth Mindset. Unfortunately, the closing of school interrupted our plans, but student feedback during distance learning reinforced how Growth Mindset was helping them get through the new challenges. And, of course, the ideas of Growth Mindset were artfully woven into our Valedictorian Address at Villa's Senior Recognition Ceremony out on the soccer field.

As we look to the next school year, Growth Mindset will be even more important as a support for students and faculty, and the committee has an eye on how it will be implemented in the new year. As Carol Dweck says, “If parents [and teachers] want to give their children a gift, the best thing they can do is to teach their children to love challenges, be intrigued by mistakes, enjoy effort, and keep on learning.”

GROWTH MINDSET

With the recent curriculum and campus updates, it's certainly an exciting time to be a part of the Villa community, and it's especially thrilling if you are passionate about science and STEM. Over the last two years, the science department has integrated engineering and technology into the current curriculum. The first phase of our curriculum improvement plan involved converting all current content to inquiry-based learning with more STEM-based projects implemented throughout the year. The second phase saw the creation of three STEM-based clubs — Robotics, Rocketry, and Girls Who Code — that experienced the highest levels of success right from the start in 2019, including both Robotics and Rocketry's advancement to the finals of national competitions and Girls Who Code's participation in a national conference. The final phase of the plan included the launch of a full engineering curriculum that would allow all students the opportunity to participate, enabling them to stand out when applying to college for engineering or other science programs. After years of research on high school engineering programs, Villa chose Project Lead the Way.

Project Lead the Way (PLTW) is a non-profit organization that is revolutionizing the way science and engineering should be taught; it is the number one program for students PreK-12 in America. During the 2019-2020 school year, the Engineering pathway, one of three offered by PLTW, was officially integrated into the science curriculum for Villa students to take as an elective. The first class in the Engineering pathway (of a total of ten classes offered) is Intro to Engineering and Design (IED). This class had two sections of students totaling 27 in the program at launch. In this class, students used their creativity and imagination to learn and perfect skills like technical sketching, problem solving, working in team settings, and presenting solutions to problems, while utilizing CAD software and a 3D printer.

Even though year one of the program was altered, the class continued to advance their skills and have fun with the help of the Disney Imagineering Project. A culmination of the skills learned during IED gave students the ability to design their own theme parks. This included everything from the landscapes, buildings, smells, colors, restaurants, maps and sights to roller-coaster design and character development. The final ten weeks of virtual learning saw the creation of great theme parks dedicated to Avatar: The Last Airbender, Narnia, The Office, Aladdin, Frozen, and Inside Out, among many others.

Overall, the PLTW Engineering program at Villa was a huge success and has already experienced growth moving into year two. The IED class will have 33 students and the next PLTW class running is Environmental Sustainability. With the new STEAM hallway expansion on the horizon, Villa's engineering program has the potential to include classes like aerospace engineering, civil engineering and architecture, and computer science. Stay tuned to hear much more about this exciting new venture for our students!

Villa is empowering the makers of tomorrow, TODAY.

Marie Politowski was a teacher in Villa's Science Department from 1990-2012 and served as Science Department Chair. Through her efforts, Villa's Science Department grew and thrived thanks to events such as the Sciathlon, which Marie was instrumental in bringing to the school and continues to be a Villa tradition today. Marie regularly returns to campus and acts as a judge at Villa's annual Science Fair. It is fitting that she is inducted into our Wall of Fame at this time in Villa's history, as we are on the verge of a new STEAM hallway expansion, which will allow young women to continue to make advancements in the field of science, something to which Marie was dedicated during her time at Villa. We are grateful to Marie for her efforts to cultivate a love for the sciences in young women and are honored to induct her into Villa's Wall of Fame for 2020.

WE WELCOME YOUR PERSONAL TRIBUTES!

ALL ABOUT ALUMNAE

Maureen R. McGrath Devlin '66

shares, "It constantly amazes me how often my Villa education comes into conversation. I am so grateful to my parents and the sacrifices they made so I could attend. Over the years I've talked with other alums and always we end with fond memories. I'm especially grateful to Sodality and a weekend retreat we made in Senior year. We each received a crucifix which is always on my night table."

Jeni Massi '78 shares, "I'm a licensed psychologist in private practice. I am currently posting "flash tips" of less than 2 minutes on how to get through the quarantine. Look my channel up on YouTube under "Doctor Gemma". It's free and it's my gift for mental health at this time. Love to all my sisters!"

BethAnn Campbell Crilly '83 shares, "Sadly I lost both my mother and my father in 2019. Dr. Neil Campbell on June 25th and MaryAnn Campbell on October 7th. Happier news, our daughter Kate Crilly '12 became engaged to her boyfriend Chris. A 2021 wedding will be in Cape May, NJ!"

Members of the VJM Future Business Leaders Club recently attended a Business Leadership Workshop for high school girls hosted by the Widener University School of Business. The highlight of the day was the Keynote Address by Villa alumna, Jeanne Frawley '94. The day concluded with a guided tour of the University's campus.

ALL ABOUT ALUMNAE

Briana Hocker '17 shares, "I am a current junior at Alvernia University where I am a double major in biology and theology with a minor in forensic science. This past summer, I conducted research on Photodynamic Therapy in cholangiocarcinoma patients at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital. In February, I was accepted to present on the social injustices of InVitro Fertilization at the Macksey Symposium at Johns Hopkins University. For this summer, I received a grant to conduct my research on the religious background of physicians and how it impacts their opinions on the lack of insurance coverage for InVitro Fertilization."

Emma Kern '17 currently attends Purdue University. She is involved in the PUDM (Purdue University Dance Marathon) and is a Membership Exec in charge of Development. She has been involved since her freshman year and each year interviewed and took on new roles. PUDM is the largest philanthropic organization on Purdue's campus. They run an 18-hour dance marathon each fall that supports Riley Hospital for Children in Indianapolis, which is part of Children's Miracle Network/FTK. Emma's participation in and love for Mini-THON at Villa spurred her involvement in PUDM at Purdue. She is thankful for all that she learned at Villa and has been able to take to Purdue.

Alexa Bannon '18, currently attending La Salle University, was awarded a 2020 Newman Civic Fellowship. Congratulations, Alexa!

Katherine Mangione '18 recently represented Gettysburg College at the Centennial Conference Indoor Track & Field Championship.

Emily Roth '18 shares, "I was offered an internship at a Civil Engineering firm! My second one since starting college. My first one was an amazing opportunity and I can not wait to see what this new one brings!" Congratulations, Emily!

On March 5, Samantha O'Hara '19 visited Villa to speak to current students.

Villa was proud to host the first Women Today Leading Tomorrow Symposium on February 22, 2020. Thank you to the 10 sponsors that made this event possible
