READY'S BLOG

by April Tamayo-Alatorre

With all the new changes that have been presented to us this year, READY has been looking for various ways to stay in contact with our students and families. From using various forms of technologies we are continuing to reach out with activities and information to help us all stay connected.

The blog will be updated weekly with friendly challenges, videos, and lessons from myself and the rest of the team. We hope that you enjoy the activities presented and join in on the fun.
