College compare averages are for students from your high school that have been accepted to that particular college from 2015-2018. Averages have a green checkmark when your number is higher and red "x" when your number is lower. Your PSAT score, if available, has been converted to the equivalent SAT score and compared to the average single SAT score of an accepted student. The column labeled "Acceptance" shows the number of students accepted out of the number of students that applied.

Careers: Explore Career Clusters

Find Clusters and Pathways

Career clusters are a way of grouping careers with common features and skills. Careers grouped into the same cluster typically require similar education and training. Exploring clusters can be a useful way to find a good career match, especially if you have general areas of interest but are not sure what specific careers match those interests. Career clusters can also help you better understand how your coursework in school can prepare you for certain types of careers

Overview

There are many challenging educational and training opportunities within the high-skilled world of Business Management and Administration. Learners need a solid background in math, science and technical skills. Education and training can be obtained in high schools, technical colleges/institutes, and universities. Along the way, career guidance professionals assist learners in assessing their educational goals, interests, abilities and skills to facilitate a good match to the cluster's many pathway options. Learners participate in relevant educational opportunities framed in the context of the cluster. They gain knowledge and skills through coordinated workplace learning experiences such as site visits, job shadowing and internships. If they choose, they may achieve valuable skill certifications that lead to employment. Colleges and universities offer advanced degrees and industry certifications that prepare learners for professional and technical careers. The Business Management and Administration Cluster prepares learners for careers in planning, organizing, directing and evaluating business functions essential to efficient and productive business operations. Career opportunities are available in every sector of the economy and require specific skills in organization, time management, customer service and communication.

This Cluster Contains the Following Pathways

- General Management
- Business Information Management
- Human Resources Management
- Operations Management
- Administrative Support

Employment Outlook

Nearly half of all jobs are in managerial and professional occupations, and nearly one-fourth of all workers are self-employed. The business management and administration services industry is one of the highest paying industries. Most job openings in the business management and administration cluster are projected to be in occupations assigned to the administrative support pathwayÑincluding customer service representatives, the occupation expected to have the largest number of job openings in the cluster.
