PHS Awarded 15 Commended Students in the 2021 National Merit Scholarship Program

Dear Parents:

Academic excellence is always something special to celebrate and this year Parkland High School students Susan Ahmed, Anam Ali, Jane Cho, Avimukta Dokuparthi, Benjamin Esquieres, Aditi Jasapara, Raviteja Kanthamneni, Samin Latif, Tanya Mehta, Ee-Ning Ooi, Sanjiv Parthasarathy, Benedict Pursell, Aishani Ramoju, Mustapha Salau, and Dharshan Tharumia have been named Commended Students in the 2021 National Merit Scholarship Program. Each of these excellent students has received a Letter of Commendation from the school and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. They represent a select group of 34,000 Commended Students across the nation who scored among the top five percent of the more than 1.4 million students who entered the National Merit Scholarship Program. The administration, faculty, and student body congratulate these Commended Students and their parents for these outstanding accomplishments.

Through many challenges and tribulations for students, staff and families, the school year has kicked into high gear as we near the completion of the first marking period on November 5. Marking period grades will be finalized and made available to families on November 19. I am very impressed by the cooperation and resiliency demonstrated by our students and staff as they overcame many hurdles in the new learning environment. As a staff, we are continuing to streamline some instructional practices and procedures to ensure a more efficient learning process. I would like to thank you for your continued support and the productive feedback you have provided. As the pandemic impacts our community, we will need to remain flexible as we adapt to pending changes in our daily schedule and instructional practices, depending on short- or long-term school closures. If and when we transition into these new modes of educating, parents and students will be provided with expectations about what the virtual environment will entail.

We were thrilled to celebrate our annual Homecoming Week (October 26-30) and recognize Humza Imam and Kyleigh Duff as King and Queen respectively. I also want to give huge thanks and congratulations to all the thespians who participated in our first virtual play, All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten. Our fall sports teams have battled through this pandemic adversity to enjoy extremely successful seasons. Several teams are continuing their play into this year's playoff format and we wish them continued success!

On Thursday, November 12, the Parkland Education Foundation has brought JC Pohl of Teen Truth to virtually present about developing mental health traits to build resilient students. Below is the Zoom link to the presentation: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/82812055309?pwd=eEQ1OGluL3l3NWpOR3hZSi9aO2pmdz09>. Last month's "Post-Secondary Planning Workshop" was postponed until Wednesday, November 18. I hope the Financial Aid presentation was beneficial to all who attended the October Parent Forum.

Please note on Tuesday, November 3 and Wednesday, November 25 we are dismissing at 1 PM. On these days, PHS will operate on a "C" schedule. I hope everyone has a safe and Happy Thanksgiving!

Sincerely,

James E. Moniz II

VISUAL AND PERFORMING ARTS

As the trees begin to shed the remainder of their leaves and the days get shorter and the evenings chillier, November starts and the countdown to the official end of autumn is around the corner. The A-wing is doing its part to help keep everyone safe while still creating art. Everywhere you look there is something going on.

The Marching Band has been attending Friday night football games in groups of about 50, and those band members play their hearts out and fill the air with the traditional sounds of the high school football experience. Senior night was held on October 30 and it was great to see our seniors on the field in their uniforms for one last time. A big thank you to the seniors for their years of participation in the Parkland Band program.

The premier of the Fall Play "All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten" was shown on the Parkland TV and Film YouTube channel and will continue to be available at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=u602UmfYDNQ>.

The Dance Team is hard at work preparing for the upcoming basketball season. At this point, we are not sure at which games they will be performing, but we will get the word out as soon as that is decided.

The Parkland Color Guard has been practicing basic moves and building up their skills with outside evening rehearsals. They are utilizing this unique time to focus on the individual growth of their members so that they are ready for the opportunity to perform again.

The Trojan Art Gallery will feature the 3D crafts and quilts of Sarah Locke during the month of November.

All of our music and theater groups are busy honing their skills and are hopeful that their hard work will pay off as we continue to do everything we can to bring live performing arts back into the school. Look for future announcements about virtual auditions or performances.

FLU SEASON

The Flu Season occurs from October through April. With the COVID-19 Pandemic, it is more imperative to get the flu vaccine. Check with your doctor about getting the flu vaccine for your student. To help stay healthy and decrease the spread of illness in the school, we are encouraging all families to adhere to the following guidelines for sending your child to school.

Please keep your child home from school if he/she is experiencing any of the following symptoms:

- fever of 100 degrees or more

- persistent cough
- severe sore throat

It is advised that a student should be fever free for twenty-four hours, without the use of fever reducing medications, before returning to school.

PHYSICAL REQUIRED

All eleventh grade students should return their completed physical form to the Health Room as soon as possible. Forms are available on the PHS website.

IMMUNIZATION REQUIRED

The meningitis vaccine is required on or after the day your student turns 16 years old. STUDENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (SAP) can irritate respiratory tissue.

2. Cannabis smoking can have negative impacts on lung health. It is related to a greater incidence of chronic cough and phlegm production. Other respiratory symptoms, include wheezing, sore throat, chest tightness and hoarse voice. Long Coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) is a infectious respiratory illness first identified in humans in December 2019. It is caused by the severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2) infecting the human respiratory tract. SARS-CoV-2 originates from mammals other than hu-mans. SARS-CoV-2 causes mild to moderate respiratory illness in the majority of people. There is an increased risk of more severe symptoms and deaths in vulnerable people with compromised immune systems. COVID-19 and

With the growing attention being given to the medical effects of cannabis, there is a good deal of inaccurate information circulating on the Internet about the potential positive effects of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) and cannabidiol (CBD), the two major compounds in cannabis, on COVID-19. There is no scientific evidence that demonstrates the benefits of either THC or CBD in preventing or treating COVID-19. On the contrary, the evidence shows that inhaling cannabis smoke, as with smoke from other sources such as tobacco, can have negative effects on the respiratory system. A compromised respiratory system might, in turn, increase susceptibility to COVID-19 and worsen the respiratory symptoms of the disease among those infected. A recent study evaluating the risk factors leading to COVID-19 complications in 78 cases of COVID-19-induced pneumonia showed that people who smoke were 14 times more likely to develop COVID-19 complications such as pneumonia compared to people who do not smoke. Here are four important things you need to know about cannabis vaping:

1. Cannabis smoke contains many chemicals and fine particles that are known to be toxic and carcinogenic, and to cause genetic mutations. These chemicals are known to cause cardiovascular and respiratory diseases and cardiovascular morbidity and mortality. When smoking cannabis, using either a joint, a bong, or pipe, individuals tend to inhale more deeply and to keep the smoke in their lungs longer. These behaviors are intended to expose greater quantities of the psychoactive ingredients in cannabis, but also result in greater exposure to toxins and chemicals that cannabis smoking and vaping can worsen respiratory symptoms and lead to more frequent episodes of chronic bronchitis. There is evidence that quitting cannabis smoking can reverse some of the negative respiratory symptoms associated with its use.

3. THC from cannabis smoke or in other forms can inhibit the ability of the immune system to protect the body from foreign pathogens, thus increasing susceptibility to infections. Studies have shown that THC can inhibit the functioning of several types of immune cells in the lungs, an effect that has been suggested to alter the immune system defenses of lungs and increases susceptibility to infections. The large body of evidence supports that THC has a potential affect on immune functioning.

4. Vaping of unregulated cannabis extracts can lead to severe lung and pulmonary illnesses. Cannabis vaping products that were mostly purchased on the illegal market have been associated with severe pulmonary illness, which in some cases resulted in death. While it is unknown which substance or substances in these products led to these outcomes, the primary agent appears to be vitamin E, which is used as a thickener in cannabinoid-infused oils. A recent study has shown that heating vitamin E acetate can produce carcinogenic alkenes, benzene and toxic ketene gas chemicals that potentially played a role in the pulmonary illnesses associated with vaping unregulated cannabis extracts containing high levels of vitamin E acetate.
