

Beacon Heights Library 4th Annual Unusual Reading Spot Contest

The Beacon Heights Library is excited to host our Fourth Annual Unusual Reading Spot Contest! Students have their picture taken while reading in an unusual place or pose and enter their picture in our school-wide contest. Students might be found reading near an important landmark, in a basketball hoop, or any place your imagination takes you. Our students read EVERYWHERE!

In the photos, students should be visibly reading a book – and we should clearly be able to see the book cover (see examples below). The 10 winning images will be enlarged to 12"x16" for display in our Beacon Heights Library during the 20-21 school year and on the school website! And the winners will receive $10 to the school book fair!

Who: Any student attending Beacon Heights! (Only one entry per student, however students are welcome and encouraged to include siblings in a joint photo!)

When: from NOW until Monday, November 2nd, 2020

Contest Rules: Participating students submit a FULL SIZE image to beaconheightslibrarycontest@gmail.com. Please send the image in the highest resolution possible. Additionally, please do not Photoshop or otherwise edit the photo in order to superimpose parts of the image – we want it to be as authentic of an image as possible.

Please note these additional guidelines: Your book must “match” the unusual reading spot, and the cover of your book must be visible in the photo. In one example below, a student is reading "Stuck in the Mud" while being stuck in the mud. In another example a student is reading a book about "West Africa" while visiting West Africa!

Is your family traveling somewhere special in the next year? Bring a book with you that “matches” your location, grab your camera, and think of a creative reading spot along the way to enter in our contest! Happy Reading!

- Mrs. Emily DeJong

