

Overview

Those who work in these fields provide direct or indirect care for patients through planning, managing, and providing therapeutic services, diagnostic services, and business operations and support

Potential Careers

home health aide - certified nursing assistant occupational therapy aide - physical therapy assistant dental assistant - medical equipment preparer pharmacy technician - veterinary technician surgical technologist - massage therapist medical assistant - medical transcriptionist medical coding and billing - ultrasound technician phlebotomist

Local Postsecondary Degrees

Associate's Degree

Associate of Applied Science Degrees in Nursing or Respiratory Care, Rock Valley College

Bachelor's Degree

Bachelor of Science Health, Information Management, Northern Illinois University

Master's Degree

Master of Public Health, Northern Illinois University

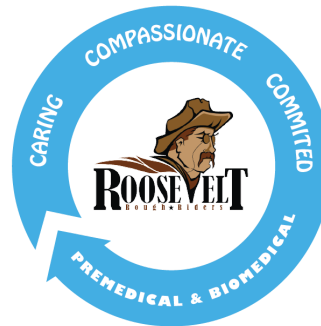

Pathway Lead Teacher:

Ariel Anderson

ariel.anderson@rps205.com

Premedical & Biomedical Pathway

Inclusive, Adaptive, Individualized

Pathway Coursework at Roosevelt

Intro to Health Care Occupations

Medical Terminology

PLTW Intro to Biomedical Science

PLTW Human Body Systems

PLTW Medical Body Systems

BIO 103 - Introduction to Life Science*

Rock Valley College Dual Credit*

Pathway Certifications at Roosevelt

CPR and First Aid

Pathway Clubs

Roosevelt Blood Drive

