

NEWSLETTER

How your generosity helps Millfield School change lives

SCHOOL NEWS

CELEBRATING 85 YEARS

This year, Millfield is celebrating its 85th Anniversary. Millfield was founded by Boss Meyer in 1935, following his return from India with seven Indian boys, six of whom were princes. Boss Meyer’s philosophy at Millfield was to nurture talent by providing the very best facilities and opportunities to young people, and to give awards to those in financial need. 85 years later, and the school’s values remain the same. Millfield still aims to help every individual child to achieve their full potential. Millfield has always had a very proud tradition of philanthropy. Today, 50% of Millfield students are on some form of Scholarship or Bursary, costing £9 million. The school is rightly very proud of the Millfield Mix, which has always been a defining feature of Millfield, and our aim is to offer more assisted places so that a greater number of children can experience a Millfield education. Thank you for your continued support, it is invaluable for talented students who might not otherwise be able to attend Millfield.

SIR GARETH EDWARDS SCHOLAR STARTS IN SEPTEMBER

We are delighted to announce that in September we have the first Sir Gareth Edwards scholar joining Millfield. This has only been made possible through the generosity of many donors like yourself. We look forward to sharing more with you as the scholar progresses through the school.

Hear from our RJOM scholar

“ I am a lower sixth student who joined Millfield at the beginning of this school year. I am currently studying maths, economics and psychology whilst doing an EPQ. I have also just begun the process of applying to Oxbridge. Since being at Millfield, my teamwork and sociability skills have improved vastly due to the highly immersive and accepting culture. My father attended Millfield for sixth form, so I feel honoured to be able to follow his legacy and be a part of this community. I would not have had the chance to attend Millfield if it wasn’t for your generous donations.”