

Virtual Where Fashion Design Begins Camp for Students...

Based on the overwhelming success of our Virtual Summer Camps for 2020, Banson NYC is excited to offer a Virtual Fashion Design Camp for high school and college students. The week-long session will be dynamic, interactive and fun. Students will experience the very first step of fashion design: finding inspiration. Throughout the week they will learn about inspiration and how to create a mood board. The week will simulate how a designer finds inspiration and brings it to life using visual imagery of color, shape and form. Upon completion, students will have an original mood board of their own creation. Tuition includes the following:

- 10 hours of live instruction by two industry professionals, now university professors + offline hours
- Access to professional fashion resources
- Professional guidance
- Professional Portfolio Piece

June 28, 2021 – July 2, 2021

The cost is $375.00 per student but use code STAYWELL to receive 20% off due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
