

What C.H.A.M.P.S. Need to Know

Community Helpers Achieving Much in our Public Schools

To help things run smoothly and safely, all volunteers must:

- Find out all the important details about your volunteer job.
- Sign in and out at the school office and write down your hours every time you volunteer.
- Wear your name tag each time you volunteer.

Schools are zones free of:

- Drugs, alcohol (including alcohol influence) and weapons.
- Violence (including corporal punishment)
- Any volunteer violating these rules will be excluded from the program.

Volunteer rights/What you can expect:

- Courteous treatment, a suitable assignment, appropriate information & instructions.
- Recognition for service.

Volunteer responsibilities:

- Each school volunteer must be provided a copy of Procedure 5253 and maintain appropriate staff/student boundaries.
- Keep quiet about confidential information seen or heard at school.
- Show up ready to volunteer as scheduled.
- Call the school if something unexpected interferes with volunteering.
- If violence or disciplinary issues arise do not get involved - notify school personnel immediately.
- Volunteers must refrain from taking photos of students or using social media.
- Do not share personal contact information or contact students outside of school.
- Do not feed students food brought from home.
- Volunteers will be supervised at all times.
- Provide a caring, respectful role model; maintaining proper adult-child relationship.
- Cooperate with the school staff.
- Respect schools as drug-, alcohol-, violence-, and weapons-free zones.

Three simple steps to help prevent the spread of diseases:

- Wash your hands carefully, thoroughly, and often.
- Refrain from coming in contact with another person's body fluids.
- Have students clean and treat their own conditions involving blood, feces, urine, vomit, saliva, mucus.
- Always consult with school staff of any illness or injury as well as report any exposure to body fluids.

C.H.A.M.P.S. are important partners:

- Students receive more individual attention.
- Students have more good examples of caring and citizenship.
- Parents learn more about the schools and their child's education.
- Parents can spend more time with their children.
- Teachers can help more students.
- Teachers learn more about parents and their interests.
- Community members learn more about young people and schools today.
- Community members help invest in the community's future.

The Longview School District is an equal opportunity employer and is in compliance with state and federal anti-discrimination regulations and other requirements. We care about the dignity of all individuals and assume the responsibility for providing an environment that is free from all types of discrimination and sexual harassment.

Sexual harassment is defined as verbal, visual, or physical advances at work (or volunteer setting) and unwelcome by the person for whom they are intended. An informal and formal complaint process exists for employees and volunteers and can be outlined by the principal at your school or by the office of communications and volunteers.

Interactions and relationships between staff members and students should be based upon mutual respect and trust, and an understanding of the appropriate boundaries between adults and students in and outside of school. Volunteers should also maintain appropriate boundaries and should discuss any concerns about adult-child interactions with the building principal or the office of communications and volunteers.
