ROAD SAFETY WEEK

Year 1 spent lots of time looking at how to cross the road. They talked about where was best to cross and how they should hold an adult's hand. How lucky they were to be visited by a stormtrooper, who came to help them cross the road. He showed the children how to do it properly and then he helped everyone to cross in pairs. The children had lots of fun and learnt lots on the way. See more pictures here. Year 2 have been discussing how we can stay safe on the roads and have started to make a road safety vest. The children were very patient while sewing, with only a few pricking their fingers.

SUPER SCIENTISTS

This week, Year 1 started a topic called 'It's Shocking'. They started by learning about static electricity, using balloons. They found out that by rubbing the balloons on their hair they could create static electricity and stick their balloons to the wall. Next, they discovered that static electricity can make their hair stand on end. They looked so funny and all laughed a lot. Finally, they took part in a scientific investigation to see what else the balloon could pick up. Their balloons picked up pieces of paper and tissues, but not plastic cubes or metal spoons.

TADPOLES

TRAFFIC COOKIES

After making some tasty traffic light cookies, the Tadpoles went for a walk to practise their road safety skills.

ODD SOCKS DAY

3

The children wore odd socks to school on Monday in support of Anti-Bullying Week, raising awareness to be kind.

PERFECT PIZZAS

In Pre-School, the Frogs always learn a sound each week. This week it was 'P'. Whilst thinking of things that begin with a P - pirate, parrot, pig, Percy - Stan said plums and then Lucca said pears, which got everyone thinking of different foods that began with a P. The children came up with pineapple, pie, pasta, pizza, popcorn, peas, pickles and, Mrs Cocks' favourite, pomegranate! Everyone decided to take a vote and see which food they would like to cook. Making pizza was the overall winner, though we did have a discussion about not being able to vote for two things and only having one vote! So the children made pitta pizzas and they looked and smelled amazing. Great choice, Frogs!
