JOB SHADOWING & ON - THE - JOB TRAINING

BY CHESLEY GRAHAM

As we approach the end of the Fall semester, now is the time to consider utilizing the skills and knowledge gained in class in a workplace setting. As a student, you have two options: Job Shadowing and On - the - Job Training (OJT).

Job Shadowing involves observing a professional in their work environment. You have the opportunity to witness a typical workday in your industry and gain valuable insight that will prepare you even more. Job Shadowing is not a paid opportunity; it is for experience only. If you are interested in a paid option On - the - Job Training may be for you.

On - the - Job Training involves working alongside industry peers to expand your skillset and prepare you to enter the workforce after program completion. OJT requires that you be ready to contribute and meet the business's needs on day one. The pathway to employment is achievable through OJT if you complete all the requirements of the program. Last but not least, OJT is a paid opportunity.

I encourage you to consider either one of these work-based learning pathways to enhance your education while attending GPTC. If you are interested in more information, visit me in Student Services, Building 100, Room 107.
