ST. MARY'S
EPISCOPAL SCHOOL
— For Girls. For Life. —

Dear Friends,

This Annual Report of Donors recognizes those who contributed to St. Mary's last year (between July 1, 2019 and June 30, 2020). Whether you made a gift to the annual giving campaign, the Buckman Center, the Endowment, or the St. Mary's Community Fund, we could not be more grateful for your having made the school a philanthropic priority in what turned out to be a year like none other.

Soon after we opened and dedicated the Athletic and Wellness Center and began using the McNeill Family Gymnasium, the COVID-19 pandemic closed campus for the remainder of the school year. Students learned at home from teachers who quickly became expert remote educators. We ended the year with drive-by parades and celebrations, reverse Black Friday, and, fortunately for the Class of 2020, graduation for a smaller, socially distanced audience, but graduation nonetheless!

Everyone worked smarter, harder, and longer under challenging circumstances to ensure the best experience possible for our girls. We couldn't have done it without you. Thank you for remembering St. Mary's in a year that we will never forget!

Light and life,

Angie Gardner Gigi Gould Kendall Rosati Jordan Jenkins

ENDOWMENT

The funds invested through St. Mary's endowment generate annual operating revenue today while helping ensure the school's financial future. A healthy endowment strengthens St. Mary's in every regard, from managing tuition growth and providing financial assistance, to attracting and retaining the very best faculty, and protecting the school for future generations.

Please contact Director of Advancement Angie Gardner at agardner@stmarysschool.org or (901) 537-1421 for more information about how you might structure an endowment gift.

THE RIVER MEANDER: A GIFT TO ST. MARY'S

by Lizzie Apple '14

Art always reaches us. This is why Nancye Starnes funds the arts at St. Mary's. The River Meander, a large-scale fabricated sculpture on the side of the new Athletic and Wellness Center, is her and her daughter Mary Barker Starnes' '95 latest gift. Nancye and I spoke about the River Meander over the phone on a Friday morning—she from the mountains in North Carolina, and I from my apartment in Nashville.

As we spoke, I learned that art suffuses Nancye's life. She loves the arts not only because they can be “uplifting,” but also because they have the power to turn our attention toward the unexplored. “If you want to be reflective—or educated, the arts are there,” she says. “They fill almost every need we have.”

For Nancye, the River Meander communicates something even beyond its beauty. To the girls at St. Mary's, Nancye hopes the sculpture says, “Do everything you can to develop your spirit of creativity. Whatever direction it takes—use your creativity to make your contribution.”

The River Meander is inspired by the work of cartographer Harold Fisk. In the 1930s, Fisk drew a series of maps tracing the meander courses of the Mississippi River. For Maysey Craddock '89, the River Meander artist, Fisk's maps serve as an organizing principle. His work demonstrates how, over geological time, the river has both changed and remained rooted to this land.

Maysey hopes the River Meander encourages students “to forge their own paths in relationship with others.” As an artist, Maysey centers “in-between spaces,” so it is not surprising that the voice of this sculpture speaks to its own in-between. In the River Meander Maysey has drawn the freedom of individuality and improvisation alongside the coursing of community.

“As a group of meanders,” Maysey writes, “the rivers intertwine to tell an intergenerational story of place—of the ways this river has watered and fed this land.” Maysey's sculpture invites us to consider the paths of each St. Mary's student, or each generation of St. Mary's students, as rivers intertwined, telling the story of a place that holds in itself courses beyond those which are synchronous or perceivable. If St. Mary's were a river, its meander courses would map a place that has both changed and remained rooted to the work of watering this land. In some ways, there is no other image.

ST. MARY'S COMMUNITY FUND

The St. Mary's Community Fund is a student-run organization founded in 1998 for the purpose of educating young women about the importance of philanthropy through hands-on fundraising, community service, and grant-making. Since 1998, the group has raised more than $500,000 and funded more than 50 local non-profit agencies that benefit Mid-South children.

In 2019-2020, the SMCF granted $49,000 to the following Mid-South nonprofit agencies: Porter Leath, Thrive Memphis, Memphis Child Advocacy Center, Su Casa, New Ballet Ensemble, Streets Ministries, and Multinational Memphis.
