Secondary World Languages: Digital Instructional Resources

These learning resources are intended to serve as division-level, approved instructional resources at the secondary level. Per School Board Policy IIAA, school and division-level staff have reviewed these materials and deemed them suited to the specific curricular goals within the Albemarle County's revised world languages curriculum.

This is Language (Approved in 2015) is a digital resource of intermediate level, authentic videos featuring native speakers and interactive language exercises in French, Spanish, and German. Schools may purchase teacher accounts and student accounts that allow for instructors to monitor students' progress and differentiate assignments based on students' language levels. The content of the videos is also aligned with Virginia's Standards of Learning in World Languages as well as the American Council for Teachers of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) standards: <http://www.thisislanguage.com/> (Approved in 2015)

Middlebury Interactive (Approved in 2015) is a digital language learning program provides language instruction for Spanish, French, German, Latin and Mandarin. <https://www.middleburyinteractive.com/digital-courses/digital-k-12-world-language-learning-courses>

TPR Storytelling (Teaching Proficiency through Reading and Storytelling or TPRS) (Approved in 2011) is a method of teaching foreign languages. TPRS lessons use a mixture of reading and storytelling to help students learn a foreign language in a classroom setting. The method works in three steps: in step one the new vocabulary structures to be learned are taught using a combination of translation, gestures, and personalized questions; in step two those structures are used in a spoken class story; and finally, in step three, these same structures are used in a class reading. Throughout these three steps, the teacher will use a number of techniques to help make the target language comprehensible to the students, including careful limiting of vocabulary, constant asking of easy comprehension questions, frequent comprehension checks, and very short grammar explanations known as "pop-up grammar". ## Secondary World Languages: French

In addition to This is Language and Middlebury Interactive (listed on the Secondary World Languages Digital Instructional Resources page), these learning resources (below) are intended to serve as a central text for French classes. They have not been adopted by the Virginia Department of Education. Per School Board Policy IIAA, staff has reviewed materials currently adopted (2005) by the Virginia Department of Education and have deemed these suggested resources to be better suited to the specific curricular goals and needs of Albemarle County Schools.

French, Levels 1-3

Bien Dit! 1, 2 and 3, Holt McDougal Publishing,

<http://holtmcdougal.hmhco.com/hm/wl.htm>

These resources are intended to be a central tool for Levels 1-3 French classes. They can be purchased in a traditional print format or in a combined traditional print format and digital subscription format.

Bien Dit! blends culture, instruction and interaction so that students are motivated to be successful in their language learning. The multi-level approach provides students with the tools they will need to build a solid foundation in both French language and culture as they move up through the levels of French instruction.

Bien Dit! provides on-line resources for students and teachers to support their communication and collaboration. There is a virtual one-to-one environment where students can respond to written and spoken activities. Grammar tutors, self-assessments and interactive map tours all are available on-line for students to access. Finally, they have included interactive white board lessons to support teacher instruction.

French, Levels 4-5

Imaginez, 2nd Edition VISTA Publishing <http://vistahigherlearning.com/>

Imaginez is intended to be a central resource for Level 4 and 5 French classes. The resource can be purchased in a combined traditional print format and digital subscription format.

Reviewing teachers found that Imaginez presents topics thematically; thereby supporting the current World Language teaching and learning research. Thought-provoking content is connected to thematic, cultural and grammatical concepts.

All of the lessons begin with the students' own experiences. The target language vocabulary is then connected with the students' own context and authentic media is used to then connect students to similar experiences of the target-culture speakers. Finally grammar is presented as a tool for more effective communication and all skills are applied in context through extended reading, writing, listening and speaking activities.

Imaginez also provides on-line resources for students and teachers to support their communication and collaboration.

French, AP Level

Face-a-Face, 2nd Edition VISTA Publishing <http://vistahigherlearning.com/>

Face-a-Face is intended to be a central resource for French AP classes. It can be purchased in a combined traditional print format and digital subscription format.

Reviewing teachers found that Face-a-Face presents topics thematically; thereby supporting the current World Language teaching and learning research. The units focus on the themes and recommended content from the College Board's AP French Language and Culture Curriculum Framework.
