

Please read the following information and conditions for participating in virtual class sessions:

- No other siblings should be allowed to participate.
- All children must have an adult in earshot of the meeting, with the device they are using in a communal space in the house. However, parents should not be in view of the screen.
- Parents must not use this as an opportunity to ask teachers questions or advice. These sessions have been set up for the children. If parents require any advice or information, then they must contact the teacher via the class email address.
- All precautions have been made to make this a 'safe' platform – as such we insist that you do not share the invite with anyone else and you do not swap invites with anyone else in the class. Children will wait in the virtual waiting room and unless they have been invited for that session, they will not be allowed to join.
- If possible, could the name of the attendee be your child's name as opposed to your name - again this helps us keep a control over who is allowed to join the session.
- All children should be fully and suitably dressed for the session.
- Screen shots of the meetings must not be shared, including on any form of social media platform.
- Parents must not record the session, forward the link to anyone or involve outside participants in any way.
- Children should log on with cameras on (where possible) to support engagement and interaction with the session. Microphones should be muted.
- Children should attend the whole session.

By joining our virtual class sessions you are agreeing to the above conditions.
