

WEBER STATE UNIVERSITY
CONTINUING EDUCATION
CONCURRENT ENROLLMENT

CE Human Development

Human Development is a course which addresses developmental aspects of individuals across the lifespan.

Conception through death is studied and the purpose of this course is to give you a deeper insight into the growth and development of children and adults. This course is also designed to help you better understand yourself and the people you relate with daily.

This course is foundational and is required for an Associates Degree and most Bachelor's Degrees.

*CHF SS/DV 1500 Human Development through Weber State University (3 credits)

&

*Elective Credit for High School (0.5 credit)

We participate in a variety of learning activities, observations, group activities & presentations, and an occasional field trip.

