

HOME QUARANTINE PROTOCOL

For families who have members traveling and returning to the household, please know that AISK will follow 14-day quarantine guidelines at this point whether or not it remains a Jamaican Government expectation.

For AISK students to continue to come into school and learn face-to-face, it is important to plan and think through this scenario intentionally and carefully set up a situation at home that allows for 14-days isolation from others in the house or at another location after travel.

For in-home isolation this includes, but is not limited to:

- the household having no common domestic staff that will mix between the traveler and the family
- the traveler is able to self-isolate to a separate guest suite with its own en-suite bathroom
- the traveler being able to collect food at the door without personal contact, using disposable plates, cups and cutlery
- the household is able to isolate traveler's laundry from the rest of the family

As long as the AISK student does not show any flu-like symptoms (during the 14 day period) and is healthy to come to school, the student would be allowed to do so. If at any point in time the student shows symptoms, we would like him/her to stay at home and follow the HLP for (an additional) 14 days.
