

Where to Care

A Comprehensive Resource of Information for Teens About Volunteering

Introduction

This guidebook was created to give you, teens on the Eastside, a comprehensive resource of information about volunteering in your community. We hope that this guidebook will get you on the right track to finding your ideal volunteer experience.

Why Volunteer?

Volunteering is a good thing. It takes time and you probably are required to complete a certain number of hours for school. But what can it do for you and why do you have to do it? Community Service is a great way to get work or career experience and exposure that you normally wouldn't get. Frequently volunteer work can be the key to getting your first paying job. Colleges are also looking for people who are involved with and care about their community. Believe it or not, volunteering will make you feel better. Helping people, animals, your community, or the environment will also build your self esteem and you will meet new people!

How Do I Start?

The best way to ensure that you have a good community service experience is to find an organization that offers opportunities in an area that interests you. Make a list of things that you are willing and interested to do. This guide contains 10 areas of interest: Animals, Arts & Museums, Children & Families, Civic, Disabilities, Environment, Health, Older Adults, Poverty & Homelessness, Unique to Teens, and Violence Prevention. Information listed for each of the included organizations follow the same basic format:

- Organization Description — what they do, areas of interest/focus, mission statement, etc.
- Contact Information — title of person(s), address, phone number, fax, email, web site, business hours, and hours of operation.
- Volunteer Opportunities — positions available within the organization.
- Volunteer Requirements — minimum age, time commitment, and training provided/needed.

Be sure to read all of the information carefully to make sure it's something you want to and are qualified to do. The information included is intended to save you time by directing your efforts toward your interests and organizations that you are eligible for.

Once you have found a handful of opportunities that look interesting to you and that you are eligible for, make a list of questions you want to ask the contact person. These questions should help you determine what it is like to work for the organization and if it is a good fit for you. You may even want to do a site visit to take a look around before committing yourself. If you like what you see, make plans to start volunteering! On your first day, be sure to dress appropriately, arrive early, and be ready to work.

The Where to Care Guide is just the tip of the iceberg. There are thousands of other volunteer opportunities out there. Many organizations may have seasonal opportunities during the summer months or for special events only. If you don't find what you are looking for here, think about contacting businesses, organizations, companies, etc., that specialize in your interest area. Make contact to find out more about the company/organization and how you might be able to fit into their existing structure. If you are offering free help, they probably will be interested in hearing what you have to contribute! Be prepared to propose ways you can and are willing to help.

Best of luck to you and we hope that your volunteer experience is a good one!

Animals

Eager Eye Guide Pups

Eager Eye Guide Pups raise puppies, bred by Guide Dogs for the Blind, for 12-15 months in preparation for becoming guide dogs. Puppy raisers love pups, teach them basic obedience, and take them on outings to public places. The green coats they wear are their "press passes" allowing them into places other dogs can't go — restaurants, grocery stores, movie theaters, etc.

Volunteer Opportunities: Volunteers are needed to raise and train puppies in their homes. After training, a puppy will live in the home for approximately one year.

Minimum Age: 9 with parent permission and assistance

Minimum commitment: Puppy training takes place every day for one year. Volunteers are also required to attend at least two meetings and one outing per month.

Pet Partners

Pet Partners, formerly Delta Society, is an international non-profit organization that helps people live healthier and happier lives by incorporating therapy, service and companion animals into their lives. At the heart of all of Pet Partners' programs is a research foundation which demonstrates that when animals are around, people's blood pressure goes down, stress and anxiety levels are reduced, people feel less lonely and less depressed, and they tend to be more social and community oriented.

Volunteer Opportunities: Volunteers are needed to assist in the front desk/reception area. Duties include answering and routing calls and emails and greeting office visitors. Individuals who are pet owners are also invited to become Pet Partners.

Minimum Age: 16

Minimum Commitment: Office work — 6 months, 3 hrs/wk

Pet Partners — Flexible

Other Notes: Pet Partner volunteers must complete handler workshop, pass team evaluation, and be cleared by a veterinarian.

EarthCorps

EarthCorps' mission is to build global community through local environmental service. We do this by training young adults, from all over the US and the world, in environmental restoration. We also accomplish this by leading over 10,000 volunteers in projects ranging from Tacoma to Everett.

Volunteer Opportunities: Most events are forest restoration (invasive plant species removal, planting native trees/shrubs and restoration site maintenance) projects that take place in various parks and natural areas. Most events take place on Saturdays.

Minimum Age: No minimum

Minimum Commitment: 4 hours

Other Notes: To participate in any of our volunteer events folks MUST sign up ahead of time at <http://www.earthcorps.org/volunteer.php>.

EarthCorps supplies gloves, tools, water, light refreshments and volunteer education that covers safety, information on the park you are working in, forest health, environmental restoration and the overview of the project. We suggest that volunteers dress in layers of older clothes that include long pants, long sleeve shirt and a jacket. Durable footwear such as work boots, hiking boots or running shoes are recommended for these events.

Our events take place rain or shine so please come prepared for the weather. Bring a lunch/snack if you would like as well as a water bottle and a coffee cup/travel mug for refreshments.
