Show Some Spirit

Fall spirit week leads up to victorious football game Friday night

Senior Steve Schenck runs the StuCo obstacle course as fellow classmate Kevin Connors coaches him along.

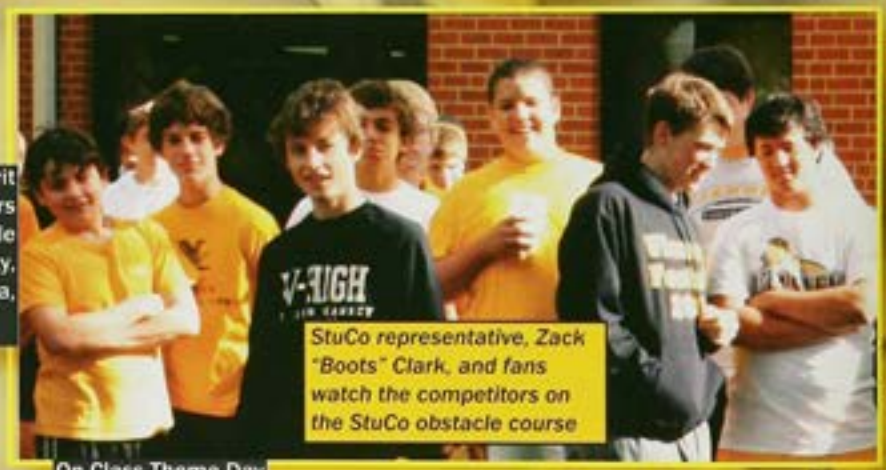

Ryan O'Fallon, junior, stands before the crowd of students trying to get them pumped up before the pep rally

Spirit Week Schedule:

* Tuesday - Class Theme Day
* Thursday - Liturgy for the Feast of St. Luke
* Friday - Pep rally and StuCo Obstacle Course

On the Friday of Spirit Week, StuCo members put together an obstacle course which tested agility, accuracy, speed, stamina, and overall strength.

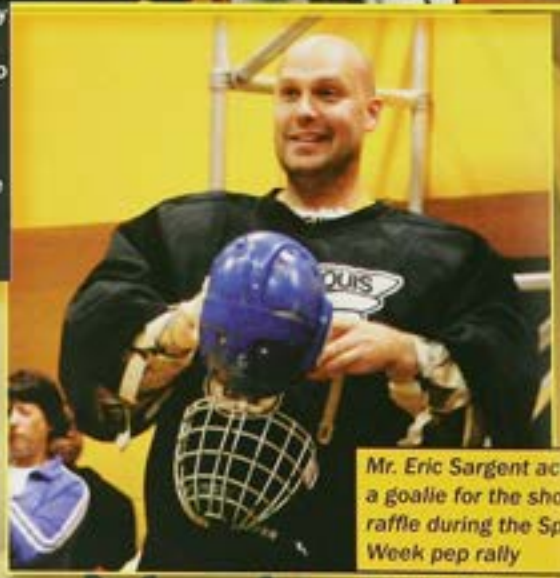

StuCo representative, Zack "Boots" Clark, and fans watch the competitors on the StuCo obstacle course

Toga! Toga! Toga!~ Senior Steve Schenck goes about his normal school day in a toga for Class Theme Day

On Class Theme Day
* Seniors wore togas and superhero costumes
* Juniors wore white- Tee's
* Sophomores were dressed as bums
* Freshmen were NASCAR fans

Mr. Eric Sargent acts as a goalie for the shootout raffle during the Spirit Week pep rally

Chase Kaczmarek shouts out to the crowd as he stands upon other Griffins in the pyramid.

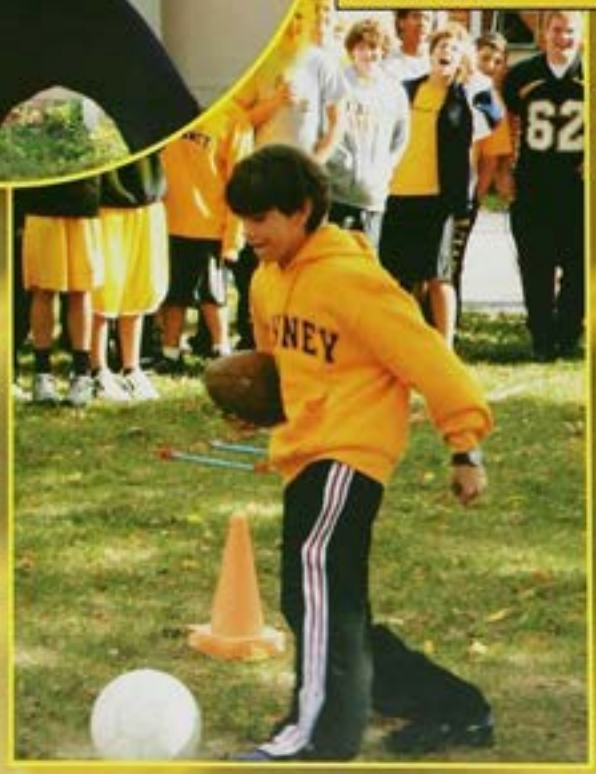

Senior Jeff Nowak shows off his "dankness" as he flashes the peace sign

The Victorious- V, originally known as the Flying- V, was the creation of a superhero for Vianney by Collin Cunningham who now wears his costume with pride

It's a bird! It's a plane! It's the all powerful Victorious- V (Collin Cunningham)

Gus Cappiello, freshman, weaves his way through the StuCo obstacle course

Junior Steve Kowalczyk shows off his hockey moves after the junior class rallies for him to use his skills to score on Mr. Eric Sargent
