DEDICATION . . .

Brother Herbert Janson

The Golden Griffins heartily congratulate Brother Herbert Janson, S.M. on the celebration of his twenty-fifth anniversary in the Society of Mary. Brother Herbert became only the second religious teaching at Vianney to ever observe his Silver Jubilee.

As any of his pupils at Vianney will confirm, Brother Janson is never too busy to share his time, effort, and knowledge with an interested student. His service rendered to the Marianists would do honor to founder Father Chaminade.

Whether teaching. . .

. . .or officiating. . .

. . . or conversing at Vianney, Brother Janson is well known and well liked.

GRIFFIN SPIRIT

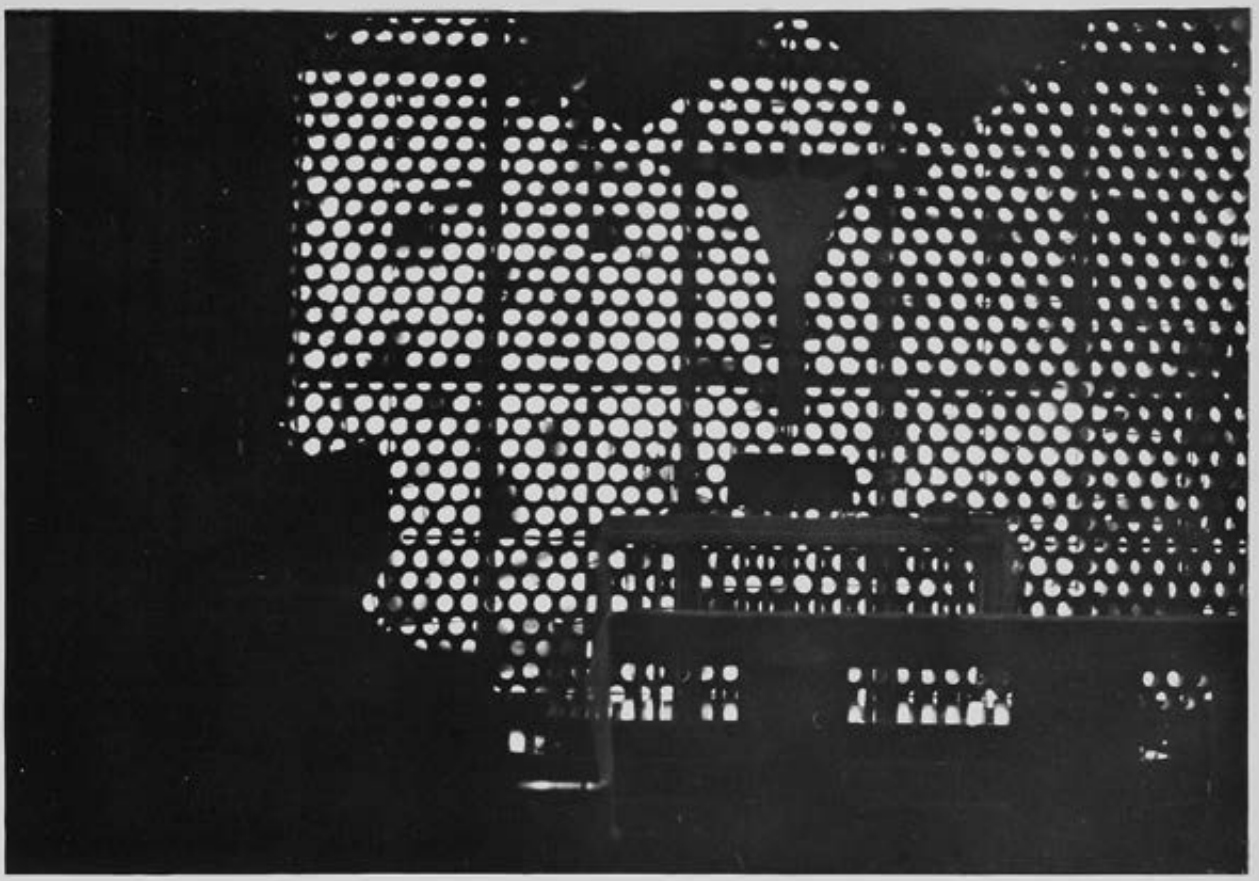

We Griffins can be proud of the short, but excellent tradition for which Vianney is noted. We have proved our talents on the gridiron and in the classroom. In short, we have demonstrated to all that we Griffins are to be respected in whatever endeavor we participate.

Athletically, Vianney, only six short years old, has already participated in the renowned "Turkey Day" football classic. Academically, the Girffins have competed and been victorious in the televised "Scholar Quiz." In addition to this noteworthy achievement, the Griffins have enjoyed more than their share of academic scholarships to excellent universities. Socially, we Griffins host numerous dances in which many other reputable schools are represented. Also, Vianney has become noted for two annual events: Las Vegas Nite and The May Festival. Spiritually, the Black and Gold's sodality has participated actively in various religious projects.

However, these laudable accomplishments are of more significance than their external value would indicate. These "feathers in our hat" are the products of complete unselfishness and determined effort on the part of the student; unselfishness and effort that has come to be known as "Griffin Spirit."

The Griffin team spirit on the Football field is symbolic of Vianney's family cooperation in all endeavors.

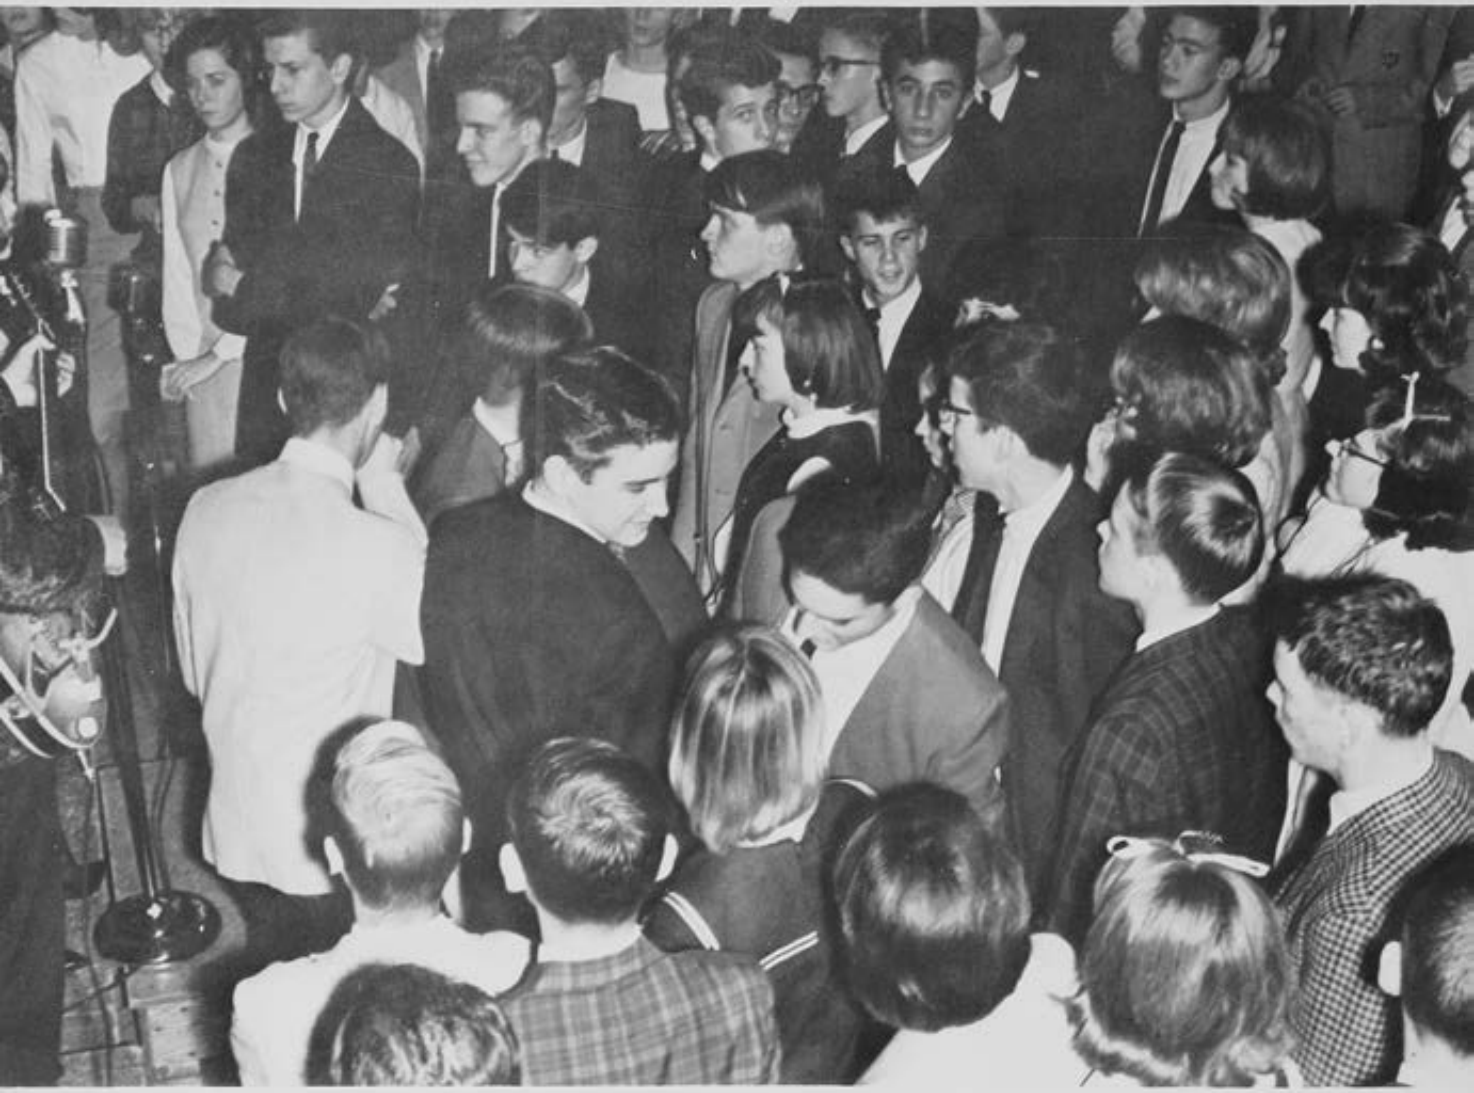

The serene setting of the Vianney chapel provides the perfect atmosphere for the Griffins' spiritual uplifting.

One of the most important aspects of the Griffins' development is the academic. Here (at left) a Griffin racks his brain for the answer to a baffling test question.

A GRIFFIN'S LIFE...

The social aspect of the Griffin's development is a requisite to the formation of the complete "Vianney man." The Griffin is exposed to the social atmosphere through various informal gatherings such as dances (as pictured above), May Festival, and Las Vegas Nite.

...IS A "VIANNEY MAN"

We Griffins take pride in our athletic accomplishments.

As enjoyable and thrilling as it often is, the physical aspect of the "Griffin" is also a necessity for the development of his whole character.

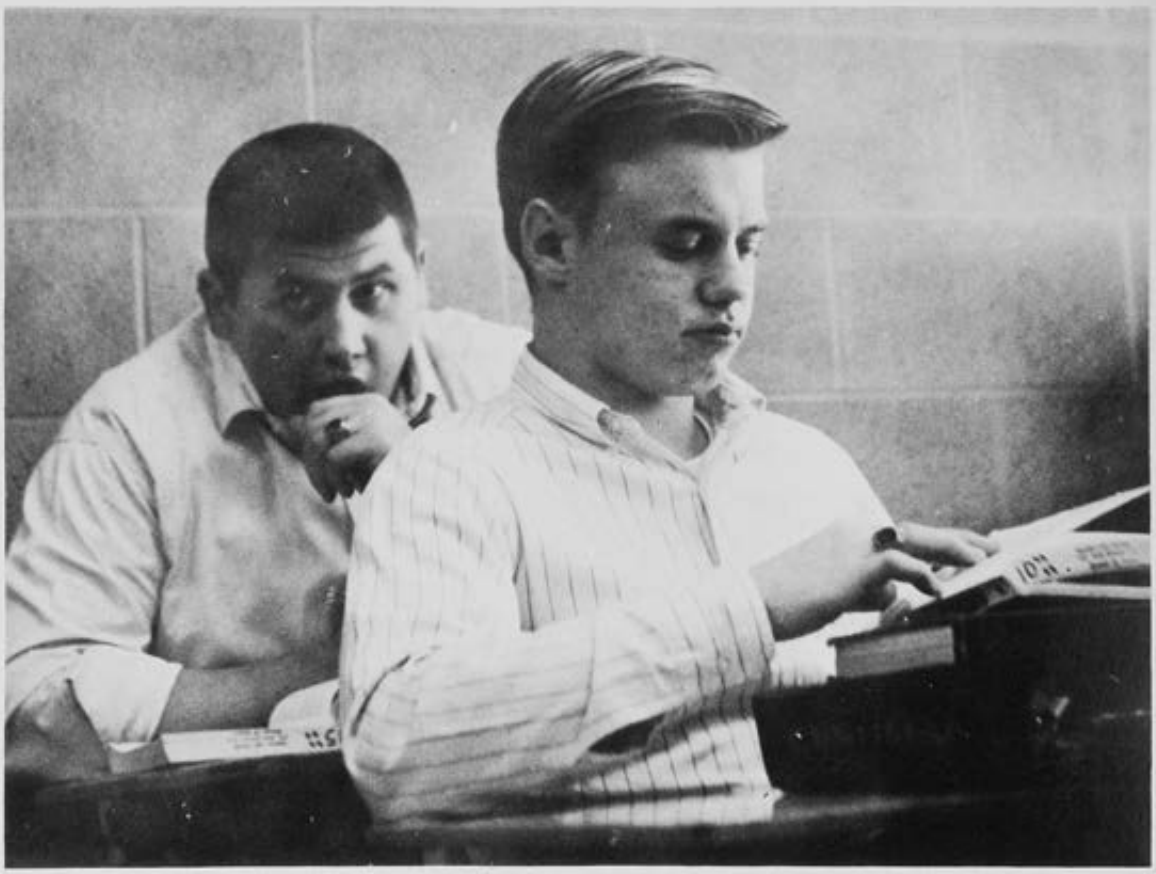

Just as the Griffins back their fine athletic teams, they support all school functions in the true "Griffin Spirit."

1966 SCHOOL YEAR

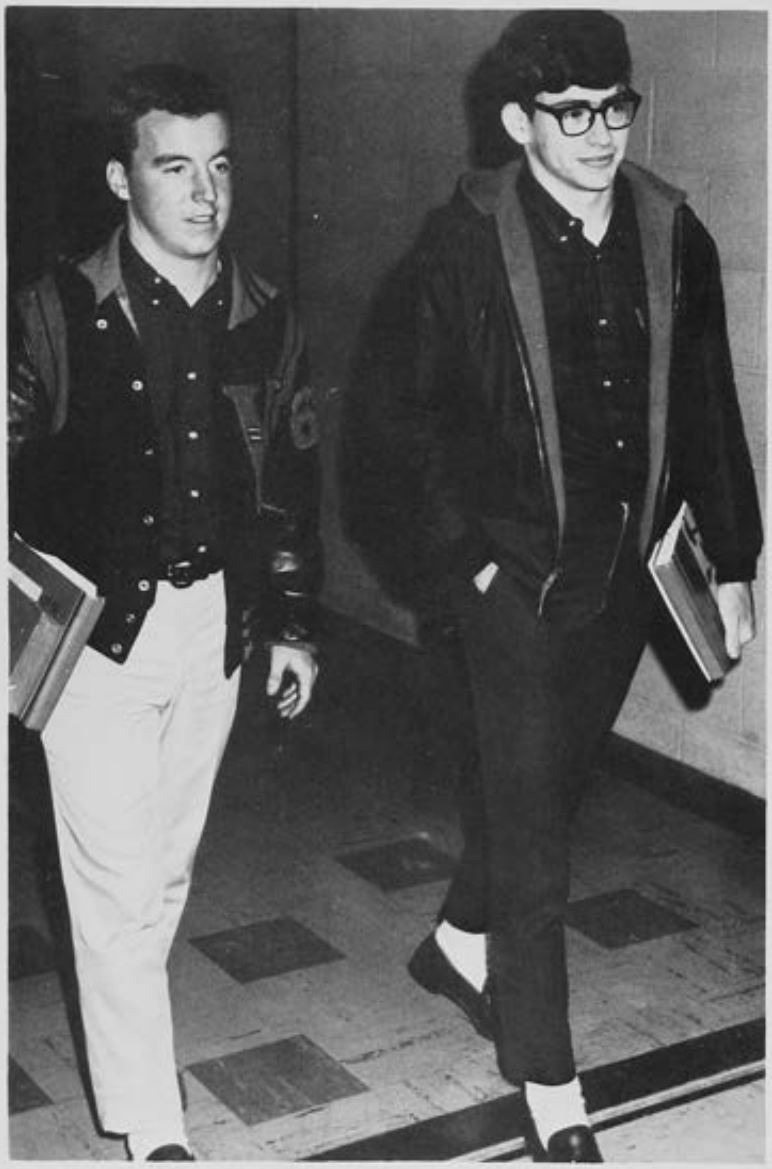

The talk around school is generally of football, basketball, or some outstanding extracurricular activity. But, where does the Griffin spend five days out of each school week, six hours out of each day? The answer is not the football field or the basketball court.

In Vianney High School itself the Griffins find a common bond; here they learn, play, and pray together. As the school year wears on, friendships grow stronger, school spirit enrichens, and together the Griffins mature as Vianney men.

ORIENTATION

The long mysterious hallways of an unfamiliar building can be quite confusing to a new student. Each year the incoming freshmen are subjected to just such a test; this is the first step in the forming of the Vianney Man.

The students shown on these pages have mastered their "orientation" task. However, still to come are some 225 first-year men who must duplicate previous accomplishments.

Vianney's expansive frame will become a friendly one. New doors will open to the resources available in the library, the nourishment in the cafeteria, and the knowledge to be found in the fine laboratories.

As the graduating students look back upon their experiences at the "home of the Griffins," they can remember fondly the trying, but rewarding challenge of conquering the corridors.

Students stroll to morning classes.

Seniors casually head toward homerooms.

A DAY AT VIANNEY

A Vianney student's activities on any given school day are quite diversified. Even before classes officially begin, he can be found in the chapel where Mass is offered daily. From chapel he proceeds to his homeroom where he has a chance to further prepare for his morning classes. After the homeroom period is completed, the remainder of the morning is spent in attending his first three classes. At the culmination of the morning classes, the student takes a break to eat lunch. This small pause in the day's occupation is followed by the afternoon session of classes. After the final period, the students are dismissed; however, dismissal does not mark the end of the Griffin's day, because usually he is a member of some extracurricular activities, such as Sodality, Art Club, Intramurals, or Varsity Sports, which meet after school. Having completed his daily activities, he heads home, looking forward to the next "day at Vianney."

ASSEMBLIES

Students offer gifts at altar.

Throughout the year, the entire student body is periodically called together for assemblies, which deal with subjects ranging from honoring Varsity athletes at Award Assemblies, to honoring Our Lord at Holy Mass. The most outstanding function of these gatherings is that they instill in the student the family spirit which holds the Griffins together.

UNDERCLASSMEN RETREAT

Attentive underclassmen listen to Father Rollins.

On September 30 and October 1, the underclassmen of Vianney put aside their textbooks and in a fervent religious spirit, entered their annual retreat. Father Rochon of Chaminade and Father Rollins of Vianney were the retreat masters. Father Rochon inspired the Juniors with his interesting and very educational talks, while Father Rollins attended to the religious needs of the Sophomores and Freshmen.

The entire two days were spent attending conferences with the retreat masters, participating in Holy Mass, joining in homeroom discussions, and most of all, just meditating. During the retreat, many of the students took advantage of the opportunity to go to Confession and to receive Holy Eucharist. The retreat closed with Benediction and the Papal Blessing, which were administered by Father Rochon. As the Griffins departed, it was evident that they were enlightened and strengthened in their faith.

HOMECOMING DANCE

On November 5, Vianney held its annual Football Dance, the Griffin Gala. At this dance, the Homecoming Queen and her court were introduced. This year's Queen was Miss Judy Stone. Pat Riley, Barb Trunko, Linda Smilee, and Cindy McDonald comprised her court. Each member of the royal party was escorted by a member of the Vianney football team.

FANS IN THE STANDS

Festive fans follow lighthearted leaders

Every weekend during the football season, a mass phenomenon occurs. While the Golden Griffins of Vianney do battle with their gridiron opponents, a giant throng of loyal Vianney fans engulf the stands and with vociferous cheers, support their Griffins.

These fans are a hearty group, who brave freezing cold, sweltering heat, and even a Vianney defeat, and never lose their spirit. These staunch supporters have backed Vianney teams in many a tight situation, and with their aid, most of the time, the Griffins have emerged victorious. Truly these fans are the core of Vianney's family spirit.

GIRL REPS

Few schools can boast of the innovation which Vianney has recently been enjoying; namely, the "Girl Reps." For the past several years these "good will ambassadors" have been representing the girl schools' opinions on matters ranging from the Homecoming Dance to public relations with other schools.

The primary purpose, however, of this new organization is to make the spirit and name of Vianney known throughout the Greater St. Louis area.

Thanks to moderator Brother James Donovan and the Student Council, who, together, synchronize the meetings and events of the "Girl Reps.," this new organization has met with overwhelming success.

HIGHLIGHTS

The school year would be pretty dull without several of the annual "highlights" everyone looks forward to. Events such as the Prom, Retreat, Awarding of Athletic "letters,"and, of course, Graduation are anxiously awaited by all.

These "highlights" seem to spotlight the general spirit of accomplishment and activity shared by all loyal Griffins. Among other rewarding moments, the "highlights" make worthwhile all the trials and tribulations of daily school work.

MISS GRIFFIN 1966

This year's Miss Griffin Kay Hartman hails from Notre Dame High School in Lemay where, as a senior, she engages in many activities. These include the Pep Club, the Glee Club, and the Daily World Mission. Her main interest is swimming and she actively particpats in the social functions of her parish, Seven Holy Founders.

BUILDING LEADERS . . .

Even Brothers must probe the library to discover new sources for baffling their pupils.

Th library is one of the most important educational facets of Vianney. Here Griffins flock to seclude themselves from the outer world and become enveloped in an atmosphere of serious and studious work. To assist these students in their quest for knowledge, Bro. Middleton and his assistants are prepared to offer their services at any time and try to comply with the students' wishes which are frequently quite demanding. Despite these demands, however, the library is quipped with a large supply of the most needed books and magazines with new literature arriving daily. The library also is the location for many social meetings and activities; including sodality, chess, college discussions, and faculty meetings. Truly, the Griffins possess a most popular and practical function which serves Vianney men unceasingly.

ATHLETIC AWARDS . . .

Just as the Griffin scholars are praised for excellent achievements by means of the posted honor roll and school-wide assemblies, so the Vianney athletes too are recognized publicly.

The football players', however, is a once-a-year commendation; thus, it takes on an air of uniqueness. The grid stars receive not only an honorary card signifying their accomplishments as do the members of the honor roll, but also the treasured Vianney athletic "V". This school letter, indicating to all observers the wearer's prowess in tough high school competition, can be worn proudly. Satisfyingly the Griffin can remember all of the long hours of work-outs and the consequential determination necessitated in his acquiring this, the school's most admired symbol of accomplishment.

WRESTLING FINALS

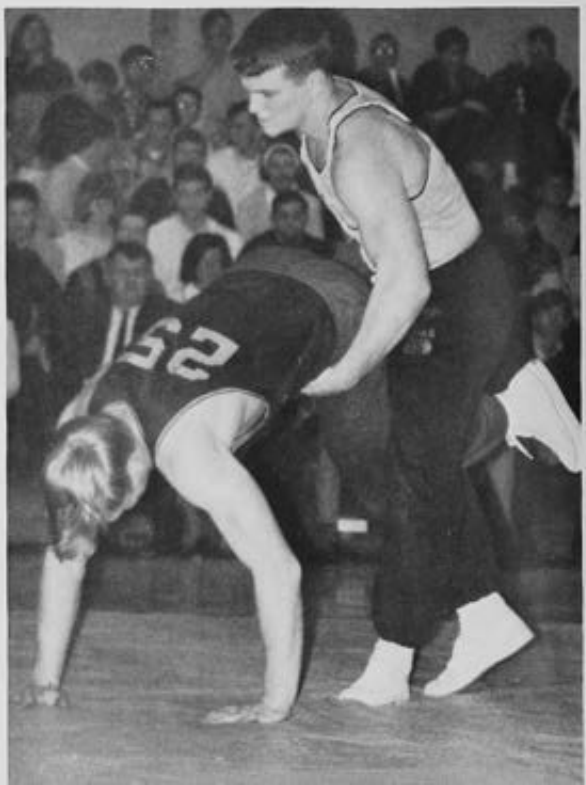

The Wrestling Finals was the first attempt at a public display of the Griffins' agilities in that particular sport. In response to the wrestling premiere, Vianney men and other avid supporters streamed into the Vianney gym to suport the sport. The attendance was so large that some people were forced to view the spectacle from the hall, and by this attendance Vianney was encouraged to seek a berth in C.A.C. wrestling for the coming year.

LEADERSHIP

Anyone can be a follower, but it requires a certain innate ability to fulfill the responsibilities of a leader. Generously offering his time and effort for the betterment of his school, the leader is one to whom glory is secondary and completion of duties primary.

Here at Vianney we are fortunate to have many capable and enthusiastic leaders; heading a list of many is Student Council President Mike Mullen (pictured on previous page). Thanks to our fine leaders, beginning with none other than our excellent faculty, Vianney enjoys one of the finest reputations in the area.

The Art Club has adroitly taken on such demanding tasks as planning, preparing, assembling and dissembling dance decorations. Working long, arduous hours nearly every afternoon following school, the Art Club members seek not to gain letters of recognition, for there is no formal award to the deserving members. Rather, these generous Griffins comprising th Art Club entreat only the self-gratification found in a job well done.

SPORTS

An interest of nearly every student, sports is as much a requisite for the well-balanced Vianney man as any other aspect of the Griffins' basic make-up. While not all students can participate in varsity athletics, all can enjoy them.

Supporting the team is an area in which the Vianney Griffin can indicate his school spirit, while enjoying the fiery competition of the game. Based upon the fine turnouts for previous games, it is safe to say that the Vianney sports program has been well accepted.

To both the fans and the Griffin athletes we would like to say that it's been a job well done.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

GRIFFINS DOWNED IN FIRST TWO BATTLES

As the Griffins took on two of the best teams in the city for their first encounters, the expected happened. In the opening clash against S.L.U.H., the Black and Gold halted Billiken progress up the middle, but they were not able to stop a superb series of end sweeps. The final gun found the Griffs stopped, 18-0. Against C.B.C., the taut Vianney defense held in the initial quarters, but lost its grip in the closing periods. Unfortunately, Griffin quarterbacks repeatedly found purple-shirted receivers, who were more than willing to accomodate our generosity. Again the Griffins failed to locate their opponent's goal line and were swamped, 39-0.

FIRST WIN — FIRST LOSS

Superior ball control and the backing of the fans enabled the Griffins to overcome the formerly undefeated Chaminade Flyers.

Taking off behind a terrific running game, the Vianney Griffin soared to its first victory of the season. The Flyers couldn't get off the ground as a more than adequate defense began to approach its potential. Time and again, the steady rushing of Senior Fullback Tom Rolfes saved the Griffins from being forced to punt. This all-round display of grid talent promised an interesting season for the Vianney partisans.

MICKS-MASTERS

In their first C.A.C. battle of the season, the Black and Gold of Vianney were overcome by the Green and Orange of McBride. A costly fumble early in the first quarter set the Griffins behind by seven. Vianney missed with a long field goal and, as the half ended, was still trailing by one score. Scrambling in the second half, "Johnny Vianney" again failed to hit paydirt. A fourth quarter 3-pointer by McBride put the game on ice. The Micks won, 10-0.

First quarter viewers saw Vianney's powerful defense push Rosary beyond the Rebels' own goal for a safety. However, a long touchdown pass, on which our North St. Louis foes made their only score, kept the Griffs on their toes. The rest of the game was all Vianney. The Black and Gold penetrated Rosary's goal line twice, as McMullen took an 11 yard pass from Leach, and Ortinau grounded out seven more yards for our second period scores. Halftime found the Golden Griffins on top 15 to 6. Again in the third quarter, our grid men hit paydirt. Ortinau repeated his second period effort, this time on a 52 yard gallop. Capping the third stanza scoring, defensive safety, Bob Hughes, intercepted on the Rebel 43 and went all the way. Russ Nicosia closed Vianney's scoring with a three yard plunge, the Griffins drubbing Rosary, 34-6.

WHITE KNIGHTS SPEAR GRIFFS

It was an ill-fated wind that blew across O'Fallen's field one Sunday when our Black and Gold were confronted by the Cavaliers of DuBourg. Capitalizing on the first Griffin goof, DuBourg picked up a blocked kick in the opening quarter and ran for their first TD. Goof No. 2 came when the Cavaliers kicked off, beginning the third quarter, at which time, we fumbled to our red and white opponents. DuBourg was quickly on top by 14. Later, in that same perior, Russ "Back of the week" Nicosia swept the end for a 27 yard touchdown run, our only tally of the game. In the final round, Cavaliers were once again trespassing in a Vianney end zone. Though our Griffins put on a fine defensive show, they wound up on the wrong end of a 20-6 score.

DRAGONS SLAIN

The Dragons of St. Mary struck first with a 22 yard TD pass. The point after was foiled and it took a field goal to put us on the short end of a 9-0 halftime total. In the second half, after an exchange of punts, Vianney had the football. A good, late running attack, featuring Russ Nicosia and Jay Stark, placed us o nthe Dragon 3-inch line. Quarterback Pat Leach went in to score on a keeper. John Selari booted the extra point and our Griffs were down by only two. Later, with St. Marys forced to punt, Nicosia pulled the play of the game, blocking the kick! Mike Kopp grabbed the loose pigskin and galloped 20 yards for the go-ahead 6-pointer.

GRIFFINS DEVOUR DE ANDREIS

Many say this was our finest game of the year. A penalty called back an early De Andreis score. That was the closest the Wildcats of DeAndreis came to a Griff goal line. The rule of the day was rushing and when our opponents violated this rule, the penalty of interception was carried out by Hugh McMullen, who catches passes on offense and defense. Prior to this, however, the ultimate penalty of defeat was assessed by judge and jury, Russ Nicosia. The flashy fullback feinted, dodged, and sprinted through the middle of the Wildcat line on a tremendous 54 yd. touchdown run. Solari's conversion was icing on the cake in a 7-0 Vianney victory.

ALL THE WAY TO TURKEY DAY

In our final C.A.C. contest, the Golden Griffins battered the "Baby Blue" Falcons. On the first set of downs, Hugh McMullen raced 65 yards for the lead-taking touchdown. With the score tied, "Hugo" did it again, this time from 75 yards away! Prior to the halftime gun, a well-organized Aquinas running attack once more tied the score. Both teams were repeatedly forced to punt in the second half. On one occasion, though, our Black and Gold drove deep into St. Thomas territory, where quarterback Leach tumbled into the end zone. A charged-up Griffin defense, halting further Falcon asaults, insured Vianney a place in the Turkey Day Game, 20-14.

TURKEY DAY

The Vianney Griffins vs. the Soldan Tigers

OF WISHBONES AND CRANBERRY SAUCE

If some of us had a slight problem digesting our turkey dinners, it's not surprising. The boys from Soldan showed much disrespect to a team with a 4 and 2 league record. It was a season that saw the Black and Gold stack a 21 point deficit on their league opponents.

"Hugo" McMullen grabbed a stray Tiger pass, his 4th of the season. Later, Bob Hughes picked off his 4th interception of the year. Zorba Nicosia was his usual ground-gaining self, eating up a considerable amount of high-priced Washington Campus real estate.

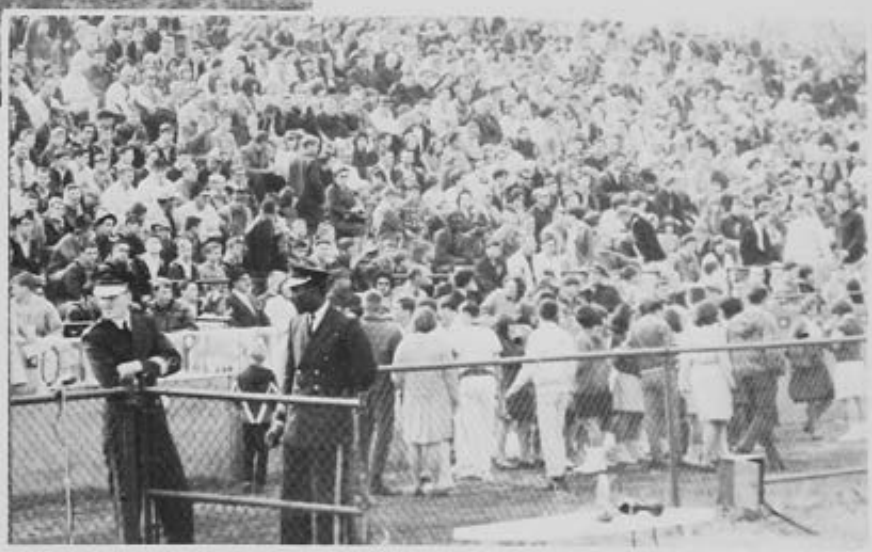

The yearbook extends its congratulations to the Varsity football squad on a season well-played.

Here, Bill, you take it!!!

TOURNEY—TRIUMPH—TROPHY

The Griffin basketball had been bouncing in the wrong direction. With a few breaks, Vianney could easily have had a much better record. Until the Duchesne Tournament, our squad hadn't won a game.

To open this tourney, Vianney beat Rosary, soaring to a season high of 85 points.

Duchesne proved to be a tough competitor, but with a resounding 16-point margin over St. Dominics, we managed a third place finish and a trophy too large for our trophy case.

Braving the depths of the biggest snowfall of the winter, the Griffins ventured to Kiel Auditorium for, perhaps their biggest game of the year, against the DuBourg Caveliers. As the game opened, the Griffs pulled ahead by a small lead, which they maintained for the first half. In the second half, tension mounted as the lead tottered to and fro between the two teams. The final score, after many moments of spirit and suspense found the Griffins on top by a close score of 43-41.

Following the game, St. Louis U battled Louisville in a Missouri Valley Conference game. In another close contest St. Louis U conquered 64-61.

THE STUDENT BODY

With all that is said about Griffin spirit and the "Vianney reputation," one often forgets that it is, in actuality, the student body that comprises all of Vianney High School. Regardless of how one dresses up the fact, Vianney High is now, always was, and always will be a group of individuals; a group of spirited and united individuals, but a group of individuals.

It is these outstanding individuals who work together to improve their school; these individuals play together to improve Vianney's athletic record; these individuals cheer together to help their team. Thus, it is only right that each one be individually recognized, as on the following pages.

The composition of a freshman is a perplexing combination of timidity, resourcefulness, admiration, loyalty, courtesy, and reverence. His great capacities for energetic activity are eminated throughout the school by the frequent outcomes of the numerous Vianney drives which put a burdening demand on his skills in selling products and which usually place a freshman room on or near the top in sales. Although the freshman is quite confused at the beginning of school, he soon adapts to his previously unventured surroundings. Athletically, the freshman, straight from grade school, does not actually show his potentials until he acquires experience. However, in the academic field, experience is not needed, for he has already had eight years of valuable training. Overall, the freshmen are a group who possess the potentialities to become true Vianney men.

Dan Ruderer works on an Art Club masterpiece.

With one year of high school having passed, the Vianney man becomes more dedicated to the school and receives some privileges which a year before he was denied because of his lack of experience with and knowledge of the affairs of the school. One of the sophomore's privileges is participation in the religious and social activities of the sodality. If his talents prove to be exceptional in the field of athletics, he may be placed on the respective varsity squad. Scholastically, the sophomore has become familiarized with the "grind" of high school work and is more capable of attaining a higher scholastic status in his subjects. The end of the sophomore year places the student closer to the end of the high school rainbow—graduation and completion of the true Vianney man.

Junior year at Vianney marks the Griffin's first recognition as a celebrated "upperclassman." It is during this, his third year at the home of the Black and Gold, that the Vianney student realizes a chance to exercise a degree of influence in his school's affairs: he is an active participant in the Student Council as a Lieutenant, he is frequently represented on the varsity athletic teams, and most importantly he finally develops the complete Griffin Spirit, which is nurtured only through the years of exposure to and experience with the Vianney Griffin attitude as an underclassman. ....

In such an atmosphere how can we lose?

Seniors Leach and McMullen team to artfully elude oncoming Soldan bruiser.

The seniors of '66 had an outstanding year despite difficulties coming from unforseen circumstances. On the athletic field, the senior grid-iron players led the varsity squad in a second half splurge to grab second place in the C.A.C. and give them the rights to play in the Turkey Day bowl game against Soldan, a team polled among the Top Ten in the St. Louis area.

In contrast to the football team, the basketball team which had lost four out of their five first string players from the preceding season began slowly in their grueling schedule. However, they showed signs of last year's impressive scoring power by placing third in the Duchesne Tournament.

An innovation in athletics was intramural wrestling. Because of its overwhelming acceptance at the Finals Matches, wrestling might very possibly become a sport of varsity stature.

The Student Council managed to introduce a new social improvement to Vianney: the Senior-Junior dance sessions. This was representative of fine work, as indicated by the comfortable margin of the officers' re-election at the semester break.

Scholastically, Vianney again proved quite competent. With a fine showing at the "Scholar Quiz" and an even more impressive illustration of academic abilities on the last term honor roll, the seniors brought to a close an impressive and rewarding school year.
