IN SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENT

When a student enters Vianney he enters it with the purpose of meeting the academic standards of the school. He realizes that his chief reason for enrolling at Vianney is to acquire knowledge that will be useful to him both in college and in his career. It is because of this understanding by the students that Vianney has gained recognition as a high-level scholastic institution. Evidence of this high caliber of learning can be seen from the increased number of students on the honor roll and in the National Honor Society. Another indication of Vianney's academic excellence is the results from the various nation-wide tests which students engaged in: The National Educational Development Test for sophomores; the National Merit Scholarship Test for juniors; and the Ohio Psychological Test, Scholastic Aptitude Test, and American College Test for the seniors. The outcome of these exams reveal that Vianney students consistently rank in the upper half of the nation. Therefore it is not surprising that a relatively large proportion of the senior class received scholarships to many notable universities. All in all, for all Vianney men this is a time of life in which all Griffins must come of age intellectually.

THROUGH ATHLETIC PROGRAMS

The development of a well-rounded Vianney man comes not only from classroom activities but also from a well-rounded sports program. The players are not, however, the only ones who reap the benefits from the activities. Such a program enables everyone to partake in the triumphs and the sorrows of manly competition whether it be in a gym class or in a varsity football game. Although termed a rebuilding year, Vianney's varsity teams proved that they were already provicient and couldn't be torn down as the varsity football team topped all rivals in the C.A.C. and finished the season as the eighth best area team. The basketball team also came into its own by compiling the best season and tournament records in the school's history. Varsity wrestling, track, golf, and baseball likewise came through with sparkling performances in their always tough schedules. Outstanding records were also prevalent in both B and C team athletics as well, and thus indicates Vianney's dominance for years to come, as in all ranks the Griffin has come of age.

What one characteristic was symbolic of the 1967-68 school year separating it from any otheryear? The one quality that made the past year a year of satisfaction and fulfillment was Griffin spirit. Yes, it was spirit, that school pride, that built up the name of Vianney. It was spirit, that underlying motivation, that united the student body for a common cause. And it was spirit, that intangible force within every student, that made every program and activity undertaken an overwhelming success. The spirit of Vianney was never non-existent. Attendance marks constantly were shattered during the football season both at home and away as St. Louis witnessed one of the largest high school buss caravans ever assembled. When attendence started to lag it was a revived spirit that encouraged the basketball and wrestling teams. For the first time the attitude of the school became positive, one praising Vianney, rather than negative, one cutting down other schools. This family spirit was present not only at athletic events but was exemplified through each student's openness with teachers, in student government, at dances, and at the student-run assemblies. At the heart of all these events was a new, vitalizing spirit announcing to all that the Griffins had come of age.

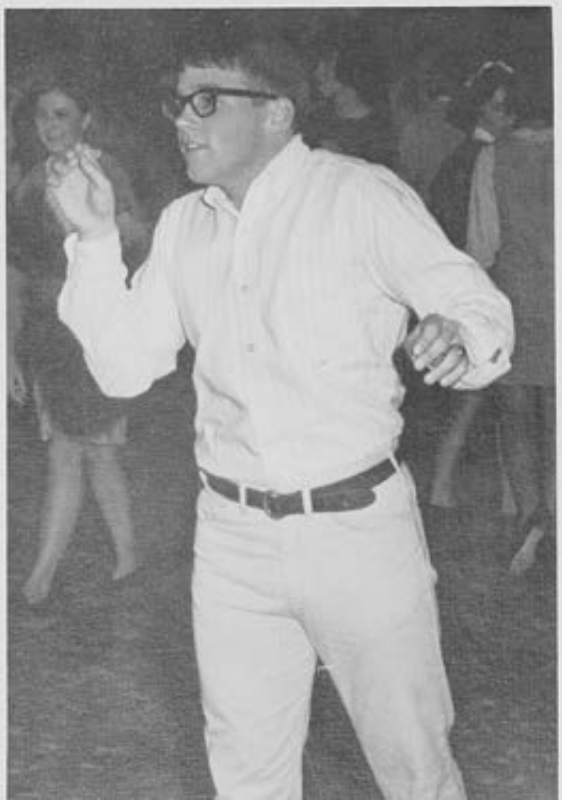

WITH A FAMILY SPIRIT

IN SOCIAL INVOLVEMENT

For Griffins to come of age it is necessary to develop not only their intellectual and physical qualities but also their social aspects as well. To reach this end Vianney has sponsored many various activities ranging from formal dances to the lively May Festival. In its attempt to provide more and better entertainment, the Student Council featured some of the area's best bands and varied dances from the new psychedelic reverberations to the traditional soulfull-sounds. Again Vianney's sock hops were better than ever at providing an informal atmosphere for communication. The unique computer dance proved to be an annual success full of surprises. Even the Home and School Association got into the act by presenting a benefit magic show featuring many top performers trained in the mysterious art of prestidigitation. Nevertheless not all social functions were centered around Vianney. Through the girl reps, Vianney students were kept in touch with the girl's schools and their coming plays, dances, and carnivals. Thus, the many activities presented during the past year played key roles in the formation of the Griffin's whole personality.

It is assumed that every student attends Vianney not only for the purpose of expanding his knowledge in math, English, and history but also for the purpose of increasing his spiritual awareness. Although the practice of one's religion is not confined only to Mass and the classroom, it is there that Vianney men acquire the foundations for their faith. It is because of this fact that the Masses have taken a new twist in trying to appeal to teenagers so that some meaning can be derived for from religion. It is from this same idea that will divisions, not just the seniors, had closed retreats away from school. More and more, religious responsibility is being turned over to the individual, as evidenced by the voluntary Mass program. However, it is exactly this aspect of personality which students most want to ignore feeling that religion is irrelevant to their lives. But it is because of the importance of religion that Vianney was founded, and it seems that before any student of this school can sincerely respect Vianney he must come of age and try to know his religion.

IN RELIGIOUS ACCOMPLISHMENTS

IN CHARACTER

'68

". . . a time to tear down; a time to build up. A time to weep and a time to laugh . . ." Adolescence is many things to many people, but to most Vianney students it represents a time in life in which a boy takes his final steps toward becoming an adult so that when he graduates from Vianney he will leave as a mature man. Throughout the four years of high school life everything points toward the development of a well-rounded character, whether it be an intramural basketball game or a history term paper. Whenever a person undertakes some project or activity he develops ideas and attitudes which make up his personality. Therefore the ultimate purpose of all activities and services of Vianney is to create responsible persons trained through experience and advice to react with correct poise and composure to any situation. Although one's personality is not entirely determined by the school, it is the school that emphasizes the maturation of every aspect of personality so that all Griffins can come age in character.

IN CULTURAL SUCCESSES

It is taken for granted that when any person comes of age he develops further interests in different, broader areas of life. What once seemed "square" now becomes the "in" thing. It is for this reason that during the past school year the Vianney administration and the students presented various, enriching cultural performances.

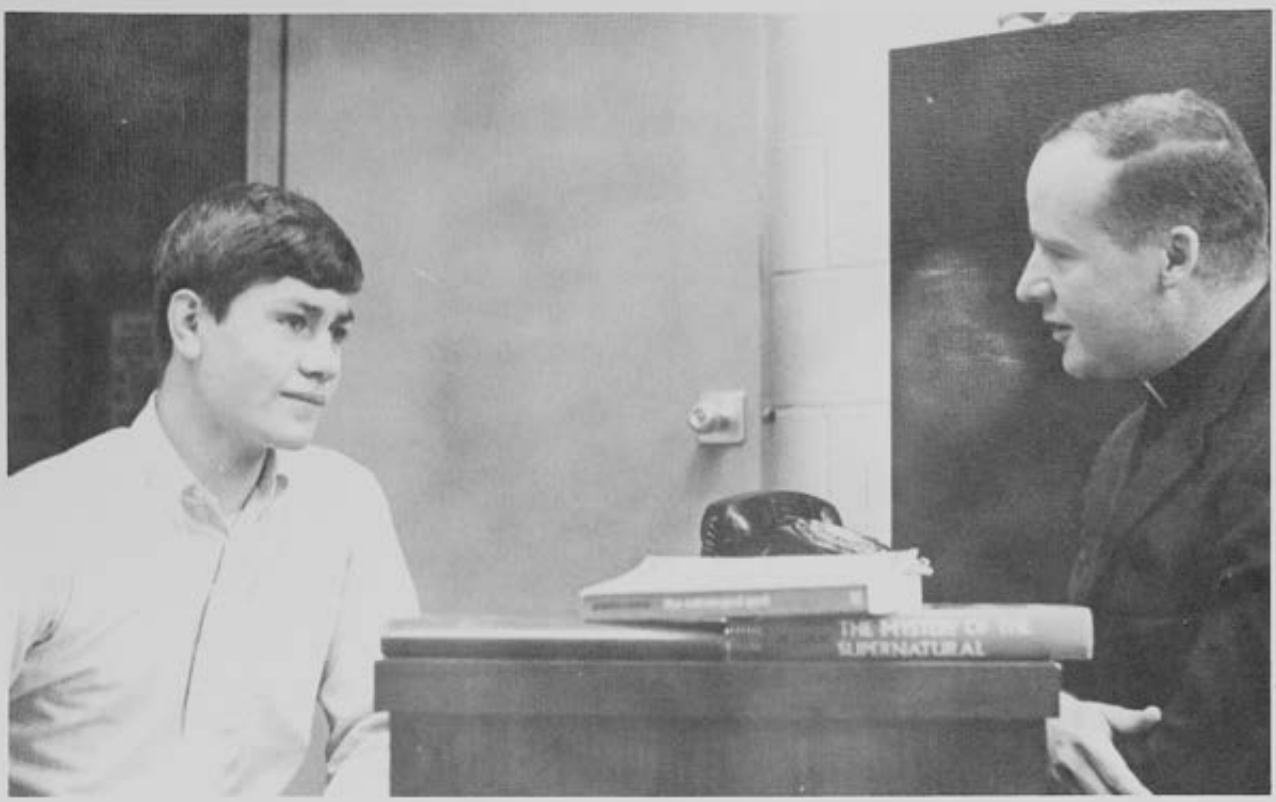

Probably the most publicized of Vianney's cultural events was its annual play which last year was Joseph Kesselring's comedy ARSENIC AND OLD LACE. But an appreciation of the theatre was not the only thing Vianney's fine arts program stressed as it also presented varied musical enjoyment in the form of the Vianney concert band and dance band and the guest appearances by chorals and bands at the cultural assemblies. Furthermore the visual arts department put on an excellent display of exhibits both at the fine arts night and in the main lobby throughout the year.

All in all, Vianney's fine arts program provided many of the year's highlights and proved that the students were interested in the finer things of life.

THROUGH COOPERATION

For any institution to maintain its effectiveness it must engender within its members a sense of cooperation. It is impossible for any organization to operate efficiently if its members constantly disagree and work as individuals rather than as integral parts of a team. Although "two heads are better than one" it is still true of a school such as Vianney and its related activities.

At Vianney the faculty constantly stresses the significance of cooperation and openness with others when discussing both individual and general problems. A realization of this importance the past year allowed students to be freer in their complaints and suggestions to the faculty. The student council and school administration exchanged ideas openly and honestly and created an authentic faculty-student understanding. The O.F.A. (Opportunities For Action) which is founded on the concept that men can cooperate successfully with one another, climbed to exalted heights as its tutoring programs, workshops, and dialogues received area attention.

Ideal collaboration ia always difficult to achieve. Nevertheless, the Vianney family has removed many barriers as it has come of age.

Probably the most influencial body within Vianney is the Student Council. A student-run government such as this gives all Griffins a sense of being a part of something as well as representing an opportunity to gain additional responsibility and leadership experience. Through the Student Council the student body is able to express its feelings to the faculty. It is also the Student Council that coordinates the activities of the rest of the school so that it functions as an united body.

The past year was a year of an active Student Council which both rectified past failures and put new ideas into practice. The most noteworthy accomplishment was the drawing up of the Vianney constitution. Another program that has had trouble getting off the ground in its early stages but which proved successful last year was the parking lot program. Among the other achievements were the famous sky jump, the well-planned sock hops, the May Festival, the Las Vegas Night, the Junior Ring Dance, and the Senior Farewell Dance.

Along with the Student Council the Student Court and proctor system compose the entire student government. These last two organizations act together to strictly and impartially deal out justice. Thus either by participation in or observation of student government all Griffins can come of age.

THROUGH AN EFFICIENT STUDENT GOVERNMENT

BEHIND SENIOR DRIVE

To paraphrase a popular saying it might be said that as the senior class goes so goes the school. This was especially true this past year as the Class of '68 led the school to unprecented heights in spirit.

If there is one thing for which the Class of '68 will be remembered it is its unceasing drive and enthusiasm. Behind the seniors the rest of the school seemed to catch fire and create an unbeatable combination of vigor and Vianney pride. It was the seniors who led many of the fund raising drives and who supported activities even when the going got tough. The bus caravan, spirit day, the pep rallies were all ideas developed and led by the seniors to build school spirit.

The atmosphere that has built up this past year is not one that can easily be dissolved, and it is hoped that this year was but one step in the ascending staircase towards greater Vianney spirit in years to come.

1968— GRIFFIN

COME OF AGE

Vianney is a relatively new school, but already a change has taken place. The first few years were ones of building and ironing out of problems which confront any sizable institution in its infant stages. This past year, however, a new stage of growth became evident as the Griffins came of age in all endeavors.

Truly this year was one of maturity. In sports, Vianney's athletic teams turned over a new leaf by compiling overall their winningest record in history. The O.F.A. and Student Council also took giant strides towards the creation of better publicity and communications. Again the Art Club provided superb scenery for the dances and cultural events and should be congratulated along with the other organizations at Vianney. Likewise, the faculty should be saluted for their patient, faithful understanding they gave all students. Most importantly every Griffin should be proud of what he has made Vianney this past year, for without the unselfish support of all the students this would never have been a year of increased wisdom, knowledge, and maturity. In short, tribute should be paid to everyone associated with Vianney for helping the Griffins Come of Age in 1968.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Under the conscientious direction of Mr. James John, the Vianney math department stressed the importance of college preparatory math all four years at Vianney. When the freshmen enter the school they are introduced to an elementary Algebra course. Depending upon their mathematical ability the students are then placed into a course in Geometry during their sophomore year or the summer of their freshmen year. The students then follow a course of second-year Algebra and Trigonometry followed by an intense course in modern Introductory Analysis usually offered in the senior year as a final step to the vitally important math program offered to all entering college freshmen.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The scientific advancement of the modern young person has become increasingly more vital in our new and ever-changing world. Bro. James Rogahn, as chairman of Vianney's science department, has directed the curriculum to include all four years at Vianney; or three, or even two or one depending on the person's ability and interest. For eligible freshmen the Paterns and Practices of Science course is offered followed by a study of Physics, Chemistry, and Molecular Biology. The biology department covers two basic courses, the aforementioned Molecular course, as well as an elementary study of modern Biology.

RELIGION DEPARTMENT

The Vianney Religion Department is constantly changing. Each year the students of Vianney get very much deeper into understanding of their religion through the religion classes. The classes stress the importance of individuality, identity, society, an honest evaluation of sex, and a deeper understanding of themselves and their personalities in a modern Catholic world. Along with the religion classes are the annual retreats which the Religion Department carefully gives each student the best opportunity to learn and realize the beauty of himself and the people around him.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The Vianney High School English program is a development of the students' ability to communicate in a modern world rather than merely to learn the language. The combined efforts of all the English teachers under the chairmanship of Mr. Charles Eisele teach the students how to write creatively, intelligently, and sufficiently for use in college and later life. As a vital part of the four-year English program, students participate and compete in an intense speech program, during the fourth term of the school year to further their ability to express themselves and to be creative in a modern world.

The modern language department of Vianney High School is on the move. With Brother Alan Byrd as chairman of the department, the students in the French classes have learned the valuable resources of learning the cultures as well as the language of a foreign people. Also under this department is the teaching of Latin. This course is offered as a basis for future study in languages and is a grounds for some of the finest, most cultured elements in literature.

Mr. Oliver Schuchard has proudly displayed the work his students have done from time to time in the many colorful displays in the main lobby of the school building. PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The gym classes at Vianney are geared to creating the physically fit Vianney man. Not to make him a broad-shouldered muscle-man, but rather to develop his sense of co-ordination and ability. The many events featured in Vianney's physical education classes include football, softball, track, wrestling, tumbling, weight-lifting, rope-climbing, trampoline, parallel bar, and of course, calisthenics. For four years, two days a week the physical education classes add another dimension to the eventual Griffin Come of Age.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

The study of government, history, peoples, and cultures is among the most vital elements of a person's education. Brother Urban Naal, as head of the Vianney social studies department, has created the most unique plan of study in this department. The World Cultures course offered to freshmen and sophomores implements the use of the school library as a permanent home for classes. With this source of information at hand the department has in a sense, a social studies "laboratory." With the American History, American Problems, World History and Citizenship courses offered the Vianney Social Studies Department is perhaps one of the most advanced of its kind.

PRACTICAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

To gain an education in basic talents which can be put to use in later life Vianney's practical arts department stresses the importance of engineering drawing, typing, business law, and bookkeeping in the curriculum of the junior and senior year. These courses, under the chairmanship of Brother Eugene Shliecher, give the students a basic understanding of the various subjects taught.

LIBRARY

The Vianney High School library is a valuable resource to the students and faculty more and more each year. With Brother Joseph Conradt as librarian the students and teachers can find their studies a little more easy with the library as a help. This year a new dimension has been added to the school library—the paper backs. Students have contributed their used books to the school until in less than two months Vianney has built a fine collection of novels, plays, and short stories in the convenient paper back style.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

When the students of Vianney graduate each May, the step into the world is perhaps the most difficult and the most unsure that they make. Brother Norbert Grass has made the way a great deal easier for the seniors by his counseling and advice, particularly in matters of college entrance and scholarships. The guidance room is almost always populated by seniors and juniors alike seeking advice and information to help them in the future.

MAINTENANCE DEPARTMENT

The maintenance department of Vianney High School is perhaps one of the most important in the school. Brother Jim Jaeckle can be seen any day working around the schoolbuilding, on the track, the baseball field, or just repairing something around the school. The Vianney campus has also begun to expand this year with the extension of the baseball field on the east side of the campus. Brother Jaeckle has been working on this new aspect of Vianney since the beginning of the 1967-1968 school year.

FACULTY COUNCIL

Within the framework of the Vianney family is an organization consisting of faculty members, called very simply the Faculty Council. The purpose of the Faculty Council covers many areas of the school. These individuals discuss the many problems and assets of Vianney that lie beneath the surface, out of view of the ordinary observer. The council meets regularly to analyze these many problems and strong points and tries to create an atmosphere that Vianney is growing. In the past years the Faculty Council and the jobs undertaken by the members have succeeded in changing the scope of Vianney year after year to fit perfectly into the modern world in which Vianney High School is an elemental part. The members of the faculty who are also members of the Faculty Council at Vianney are: Brother William Chewming, Principal; Brother Jerome Bommer, vice-principal; Brother Eugene Schleicher, treasurer; Brother George Dostal, upperclassmen affairs; Mr. Paul Delanty, underclassmen affairs; Father Robert Osborne, religious affairs; Mr. James John, student welfare.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Not all of the success of Vianney can be attributed to the students only. The Home and School Association contributed more than their share to make the activities of the '67-68 year prosperous. With Andy Buckley as president of the parent organization and head of the executive committee, the Association spent much time and effort in coordinating activities and reviewing the progress of the school. Along with various chairman of the different committees, the executive board worked in cooperation with Principal Bro. William Chewning. Among the Home and Schools greatest accomplishments were the traditional May Festival, the highlight of the social year; Monte Carlo night; the mother-son brunch; Back-to-School Night and Homecoming. Among the new achievements was the unique Magic Show in which many of the nations top magicians performed unbelievable feats of socery. Thanks to the cooperation of all the parents the H. & S. looks forward to another year crowned with success.

CAFETERIA

What is the most eagerly anticipated period of the school day? All students would agree that it is fourth period lunch shift. It is not only a time to relieve school tensions but also a time in which Vianney men are nourished with hot meals and tasty snacks.

Behind the supervision of Mrs. Schuchard, the cafeteria maintains an efficiently run system. All Vianney students are in gratitude to the unselfish contributions of the several mothers who have donated their services.

SOME THINGS
WE WANT TO REMEMBER

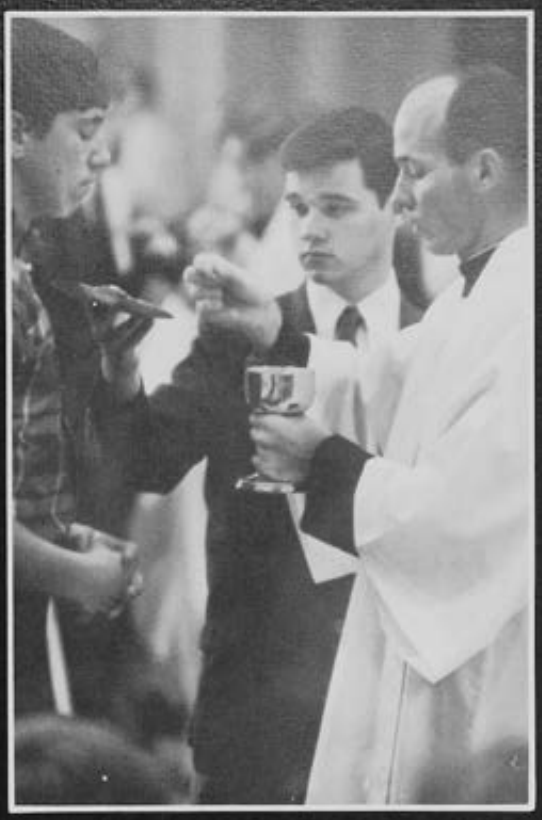

RELIGIOUS

MASSES

RETREATS

Seniors take time for God.

SENIOR RETREATS . . .

The '68 senior retreats held some of the most pleasant and rewarding surprises of the past year. Formerly retreats represented a time of unmeaningful religious discussions followed by Mass, but after these last retreats many seniors acquired new impressions of what a retreat really was. Discussions and debates on relevant topics of special interest to seniors became the focal point of each of the retreats followed by time for recreation, personal meditation, or smaller group discussions. No matter what was going on each member of the Class of '68 could be himself and contribute freely to the informal atmosphere.

Three retreat houses provided suitable topics for six groups of seniors. The Benedictine Monks at Pevely revealed the true meaning of maturity. In the new Marianist Apostolic Center in Glencoe the priests and brothers stressed interpersonal awareness. And in downtown St. Louis at the Communication Center seniors learned their true identity. All in all, the '68 retreats were tremendously successful in giving the seniors some new insights.

UNDERCLASSMEN GAIN INSIGHTS AT RETREATS

This year, all retreats were closed. The freshmen, sophomore, and junior classes all traveled in various groups throughout the month of January to various near-by retreat houses, for informal discussions overnight. Among the places that these students traveled were the Benedictan's Pius X Monastery in Pevely, Mo.; the Christian Brothers Veaugirard; the Passionist's Retreat House in Warrenton, Missouri; the Marianists own Maianist Apostolic Center and of course Maria Vista in Hillsboro. The main emphasis of these retreats was to bring about some new understanding and some fine thought and yet remain on a relaxed, informal level of communication. This new innovation proved very successful to help the younger Griffins come of age.

MASSES CREATE NEW INTEREST

The distribution of communion to the family.

In an effort to bring about a new lou-look upon the religion program, to bring religion a little closer to the life of the Vianney student, the Vianney liturgies have taken on a new and different approach to the Mass. During the religion period the students are given the option of attending Mass one day a week or taking a study period. This has emphasized the students' desire to attend Mass rather than his being forced to go. The assembly Masses pictured on this page are a meeting of the Vianney family together usually once a month. The Masses this year have been celebrated in honor of such events as our homecoming or the beginning of school, or Chaminade day, all tying in the closeness of religion to our lives.

JUNIORS

1969

Much of the success of Vianney may in part be attributed to the support of the entire Junior Class. Foremost in aid and enthusiasm for the programs initiated by the seniors are the juniors who took on more than their share of the job of raising Vianney to its rightful position as one of the best institutions of its kind in the area. This year's Student Council is especially grateful for the help of the Junior lieutenants who were invaluable aids to the Senior Student Council members to whom they were assigned. Undeniably, the basketball team, composed mostly of juniors, proved not too inexperienced for their competition. A strong junior influence was evident in all Vianney sports activities from the football team to the wrestling squad, and most importantly in the stands where Vianney's winning spirit was really put on display for all our opponents to envy.

CHEERLEADERS

When it comes to spirit, Vianney cheerleaders have it. On a rainy or clear day, they keep the fans cheering the team on to victory. On the Basketball court, the cheerleaders lead cheers to encourage the team to success. Led by seniors Pat Sly and Jim Feeney, and moderated by Bro. Alan Byrd, the cheerleaders helped to make Vianney sports better. The B-team basketball team was cheered on by eight sophomores who contributed much time and effort.

PEP BAND SOUNDS SOUL

For the second year in a row, Vianney has featured at all football games and pep rallies, the famous Pep Band. These five students have placed their musical ability of five different instruments and brought them to these games and supplies a unique form of cheerleading and entertainment to the enthusiasm of the crowd. With Jon Pence on drums, Joe Sanders and Pat Tanner on X trumpet, Joe Puff on the trombone, and Rick Ameln on the sax, the famous Virginia Woolf cheer, "Charge!" and The Lone Ranger became favorites of the fans as they cheered their team on to victory, in this now-famous football year.

Last year's sophomores, after coming off a very successful freshman year, wondered if they would succumb to the "soph jinx" which had plagued past sophomore classes at Vianney. Fortunately, no such misfortune befell them although at several times their school loyalty was put to the test. But behind the guidance of such capable instructors as Brothers Naal, Pleva, Rogahn, Plumpe, and Byrd the Spirit of '70 survived and added to Vianney's family spirit. It was the sophomores who initiated such programs as the campus cleanliness drive and headed such organizations as the camera club. The sophomore religion program took on a new perspective as it was organized by the sophs themselves.

Not only were the sophomores' presence seen in the academic activities but also in the various sports, social, and cultural functions. In sports the B football team completed an undefeated season and won the CAC title with little trouble. Also in wrestling the B team proved to be too much for the competition as it compiled a winning record. Not to be overlooked was the actual spirit known as the Spirit of '70 which was generated by the sophomores. Their attendance at all school programs was overwhelming. With this spirit and drive the Class of '70 looks forward to a successful '68-'69 year.

Although they came to Vianney not knowing what to expect, the freshmen managed quickly to get into the spirit of things and contributed greatly to the atmosphere of the Vianney family. Very early in the '67-'68 school year Vianney knew what to expect from the freshmen in the area of athletics as the C-team football came through with a winning season. Following this triumph was a tremendously successful basketball season. With spirits riding high the freshmen gym day could not help being anything but an overwhelming success.

But this enthusiasm did not stop with sports events. Freshmen vigorously supported Vianney's dances and cultural events such as the play and concert. Many frosh showed an active interest in their school paper. Also, it was the freshmen who produced some of the best booths at the Las Vegas Night. Thus, despite their inexperience, the frosh provided Vianney much enthusiasm.

VARSITY RUNS AWAY WITH C.A.C. TITLE

Coaches Heeb and Farrell get their boys ready.

"Isn't a touchdown 8 points?"

FIRST VICTIMS—CODASCO

As the season opened, there was rebuilding in the minds of the coaches, doubt in the eyes of the fans, and hope in the hearts of the players. However, the doubts soon vanished and the hopes quickly rose as Jay Stark scored on the first play from scrimmage. From then on, the ball changed hands many times, but neither team could manage to cross the goal line before half-time. When the Griffs returned to the field, so did the pouring rain. The loyal fans remained, however, as Stark tallied again. Bill Beckett later fell on a loose ball in the end zone and Jim Bommarito kicked the extra point to boost the final score to 20 to 0.

First snap to a Championship.

CADETS EDGE GRIFFINS IN HEARTBREAKER

The scoreboard read 8 to 7 at the end of the battle, but all Griffin fans and quite a few Cadets would agree that Vianney had won the war. That war was, of course, to gain the respect that we had always deserved. The Griffins fired the first shot in the second quarter with Jay Stark supplying the ammunition. C.B.C. used less caliber, but still blocked a quick kick and got 2 points for the safety. There were many heated volleys throughout the rest of the game, but the tough defense refused to retreat, until with 1:34 left in the game, the Cadets hit for 6 points. However, the Griffins present at that game will always remember it as a monumental occasion in Vianney history.

"You'd go farther if you'd use your zip code."

Stark about to enter "Griffin Country."

Bommarito and Hoffman crush a Cadet.

DRAGONS NEATLY TRIMMED

In their first C.A.C. contest of the year, the Griffs were a bit shaky, but still emerged victorious. A long pass from Steve Niewoehner to Mike Leach set up Vianney's only score of the day with fullback Jim Gewinner getting his first 6 markers of the year. Bommarito's extra point was good to make the score 7 to 0. Saint Mary's never gave up, however, and pushed across a score in the final 2 minutes, but that all-important extra point failed and the Griffins held on to a 7 to 6 victory.

Gewinner gives a Mick a face job.

McBRIDE OVERPOWERED

The Micks came on strong, but their spirit was soon broken as Jay Stark ran back a punt 78 yards for Vianney's first score. Lackner and Bommarito again combined for the extra point and from then on, it was obvious that the Griffins were on their way. Jim Sasser and Mike Leach displayed the team's versatility on a 17 yard T.D. pass. Later, Stark again scored producing a final score of 20 to 0.

Sasser passes for a T.D. behind good protection.

DEANDRIES CRUSHED FOR HOMECOMING

Some fans doubted that the grid men had their attention focused on the game, but the score proved them very wrong. The defense started out a little weak but soon retained its integrity by holding D.A. to only 3 points. The Griffins struck back quickly on a 34 yard pass from Sasser to Randy Welker with Bommarito again converting. Stark added two more T.D.'s and Jim Gewinner and Mike Leach each chalked up one. The defense again turned in a fine job by holding the Wildcats to 10 yards rushing in the second half. Despite the rain, the Homecoming weekend was a huge success as the 32 to 3 score would indicate.

Leach outruns the Wildcats.

The screen pass proves to be good for a first down.

"Squeeze!"

MERCY CONQUERED IN KEY GAME

Six-thousand fans were on hand to see the clash between the Bulldogs of Mercy and the Golden Griffins of Vianney in one of the key C.A.C. contests of the year. The defense was the first to strike when Frank Hoffman picked up a fumble and scrambled 12 yards for the score. Jim Bommarito put 3 more on the scoreboard by booting the ball through the up-rights from 32 yards out. The defense grabbed another fumble and Jim Gewinner later carried the ball over to give the Griffs a 17 to 0 lead at the end of the first quarter. Mercy refused to give up, however, and tallied 14 points in the second quarter. Late in the fourth quarter Mercy scored again and their victory looked assured, but the stubborn Griffins would not admit defeat as Bill Lackner blocked the extra point. With a little more than 2 minutes left and the Griffs down by 3, the offense uncorked a 67 yard drive with Sasser calmly lobbing the ball to Welker for the winning touchdown and a 24—20 Vianney victory.

Lackner helps in spoiling Mercy's Homecoming.

ROSARY REDUCED

The next opponents of the Griffins were the surprising Rosary Rebels. The thirteen bus loads of fans that accompanied the team to Rosary were glad they went when the Rebels were put down 14 to 7. Gewinner and Stark both scored with Bommarito providing the extra points. Rosary's only score came on a pass deflected by two Vianney defenders, yet still fell into a Rebel's awaiting arms. Both the offense and the defense turned in one of their best performances with the offense compiling 385 yards rushing and the defense holding Rosary to 33 yards rushing.

Leach takes the hand-off in perfect form.

DEFENDING CHAMPS PROVE NO MATCH

In one of their best all-around performances of the year, the Griffins overwhelmed the former C.A.C. Champions, DuBourg. The defense once again put on a superb show by holding the Cavaliers to 75 yards rushing. They picked up 3 fumbles and 3 interceptions with Nick Davenport accounting for 2 of the snatches. Davenport's first interception set up the Griff's initial T.D., a 24 yard pass from Sasser to Leach. Later in the second quarter when a gaping hole was torn in the DuBourg line, Jim Gewinner took advantage of the situation by breaking off-tackle and rambling 55 yards for a Vianney score. Mike Harris fell on a fumble in the third quarter to set up another Gewinner touchdown. Jim Bommarito converted to run the final score to 20 to 0, and a new C.A.C. Champion was born: The Vianney Golden Griffins.

"The thrill of victory . . .

"Lackner holding . . . Bommarito kicking."

. . . the agony of defeat."

Stark about to boom another punt.

"THE TIGERS WERE TOO MUCH"

In the last of the Turkey Day clashes, the Griffins met the mighty Tigers from Soldan and one small Tiger fan summed the game up nicely, when he said, "The Tigers were too much man, the Tigers were toooooo much!" Soldan coasted along with a 12 to 0 lead until with 1:08 left on the clock, Jim Bommarito fell on a fumble and Jay Stark carried it over a few plays later. The Griffs then attempted an on-side kick which many observers thought to be successful, but after a heated discussion, Soldan was given possession of the ball. With Vianney's last hopes of victory erased, the Tigers scored once more making the final score 19 to 7.

AQUINAS SHADOWED IN THE MOONLIGHT

In their only night contest of the season the Griffins proved that they could perform equally as well at night as in the day. The first score came on a long run with Gewinner firing up the middle and a quick pass to Randy Welker from Jim Sasser produced the second T.D., but the Falcons later retaliated with a score. Stark scored in the third quarter, and a 12 to 7 lead looked good enough for a Vianney victory, but Nick Davenport decided to put a touchdown in his name by grabbing the ball out of the dark and racing into the end zone to complete the scoring at 26 to 7.

Bommarito and Lackner tame a Tiger.

The Griffins recover the fumble against Soldan.

8—0—1 RECORD PUTS B-TEAM IN FIRST PLACE

The B-Team Lions, not to be outdone by the Varsity, also achieved their first C.A.C. Championship by compiling a near-perfect 8—0—1 season. Behind the coaching of Brothers Rogahn and Vuylsteke, the B-Team scored a total of 215 points and allowed only 37 strikes against them. The only flaw of the season was the first game which ended in a 13—13 tie to a tough Chaminade team. After beating Augistinian, the Lions could not be stopped as they went on to conquer all their C.A.C. opponents. With the juniors of this year's Varsity, and the strong sophomores coming up, Vianney should look forward to its second C.A.C. title in 1969.

C-TEAM LOOKS PROMISING WITH 4—2—1 SEASON

In their first year on the high school gridiron, the freshmen put on a good showing by achieving an encouraging record. With the experience of Brother Grass, and the stimulating initiative of Brother Murphy, the C-Team received an almost unparalled experience in coaching. After a slow start and loss to SLUH, the Eagles pushed on beating all their C.A.C. opponents except Rosary. With an impressive 27—0 win over Chaminade, and with the fact that they held a total of five teams scoreless, the Eagles should make for a very good B-Team and Varsity in the future.

VARSITY BASKETBALL COMPILES BEST RECORD IN SCHOOL'S HISTORY

This year's Varsity Basketball Team, geared by a group of strong juniors, compiled the best win-loss record of the school's history. With the coaching of Mr. Boeckman, the high-percentage shooting of Bill Paradowski, and the strong balanced support of the rest of the team, the B-ballers compiled a 17—9 record. The hard work and high team spirit were two of the many factors that made the year so successful. Bill Paradowski put in a terrific effort as did Captain Gregg Kirchhoefer before being injured early in the year. The other players, Willer, Exler, Suda, Denning, Welker, Klipsch, Kessler, T. Shea, Metzger, Cook, and B. Shea also put in fine efforts to make the season what it was.

B-TEAM STRUGGLES THROUGH 6—12 SEASON

The B-Team B-ballers of this year were unable to win a number of consecutive games, and could therefore get no momentum going. Coach John said that the season would probably have been more successful if Bill Shea had not been moved up to the Varsity to take the place of the injured Gregg Kirchhoefer. The team had a number of bad breaks throughout the year and could not seem to achieve a winning season. However, the B-Team players have high hopes for the Varsity next year. Some of the top scorers were Steve Weber (210 points), Len Koenig (179 points), Dennis Barnidge (110 points), and Keven Klipsch (98 points).

C-TEAMERS ACHIEVE GREAT 12—3 SEASON

This year's C-Team basketball team, behind the coaching of Mr. Paul Delanty, proved to be one of the top freshman teams in the history of Vianney. The success of the team was attributed to a good previous basic knowledge of basketball and close-net team work. Of the three losses, two were lost by two points or less. Some of the top scorers this year were Skip Russell (127 points), Gary Hasenmueller (123 points), Bill Dolan (119 points). With all the C-Teams potential, Vianney should look for a strong B-Team next year, and excellent Varsities in the years to come.

LACK OF RETURNING LETTERMAN HURTS WRESTLING TEAM

A lack of returning letterman and not enough depth in the heavyweight divisions, were two of the reasons to account for the Varsity's 9—11 record. The season did however, have some impressive victories over SLUH, Augustinian, and a season-ending 52—0 victory over Zumwalt. This year's Varsity was led by Co-captains Tom Cella (10—4), Mike McMullen (15—4), wrestler of the year, Jerry Ortinau (23—1—2), and Joe Pusateri (20—2—1).

The B-team was outstanding this year with a 10—2 record, only losing to Southwest by one point and to Beaumont by thirteen. They were spurred on by Co-captains Bob Maret (7—2), and Dale Pleimann (11—1).

The C-Team looked very promising with strong victories over Augustinian, CBC, and SLUH. Top men for the C-Team were Co-captains Ron Reyering (11—0), and Bill Hellwege (7—2). Coaches Jim Farrell and Bro. Rogahn did a terrific job with the wrestlers this year, and all the grapplers are looking toward an undefeated season next year.

TRACK TEAM TOPPLES 16 SCHOOL RECORDS

In one of the most successful track seasons ever at Vianney, the Junior division broke 6 records and the Senior division accounted for 10 more new marks. The Junior division, led by leading scorer Len Loenig (104 points) and a host of other record breakers, compiled an unblemished 13—0 record. This was the second year in a row that the Junior division has gone undefeated. The Senior division (12—1) was led by leading scorer Steve Drace (77 1/2 points), Steve McElvain, and Dan Narzinski. Both McElvain and Narzinski, competed in the state meet at Columbia. Overall, the '68 track team was 12—1, with the only loss being to St. Mary's by one point. The Freshman division also put on a fine show by compiling a 4—4 record. Skip Russell was their leading scorer with 63 points.

GOLF TEAM UNSUCCESSFUL ON THE LINKS

Without the help of the "Big Four" or the "Little Three" this year, the young, inexperienced golf team could not compile a very respectable record. There were only 3 returning lettermen and 3 seniors on the team. The year did, however, produce some surprises and good scores, but the team could not get together to improve on their 4—11 season. Steve Gierse led the team with a 39.0 average and was medalist seven times. The promising members of the team, Tom Logger, Jerry Miller, Dan Davenport, Rich Mazur, and Steve Lee now have some valuable experience in their bags and should be able to use it on the course next year.

BASEBALL SQUAD ACHIEVES SUCCESSFUL 12—10—2 SEASON

The '68 baseball team proved to be one of the best squads in Vianney's short but great history. In C.A.C. competition, the team was 8—6, one of their best showings in years. Terry McKenna was the standout player of the year with an amazing .552 batting average, 3 home runs, and 16 RBI's. From the mound, Steve Weber (32 strikeouts and 1.83 ERA) and Gary Metzger (64 strikeouts and 3.22 ERA) were the top pitchers. Many underclassmen will be returning next year, so Vianney should look forward to an even better team next year.

The '68 intramural season was underway in the third week of school. Each homeroom nominated an intramural rep who attended a meeting in the typing room. At the meeting Mr. Hock explained the purpose of the program: to give the homerooms some friendly competition for those students not involved in interscholastic competition. Each homeroom played the other homerooms in their division and by the first week of October the rooms completed their schedule. The first place team in each division advanced to the finals. The frosh champions 124 were beaten by the soph champs 129. The senior champs 135 beat the juniors in a terrific battle. As we look back over these long, hard-fought games, we see the winners cheering and the losers sulking about what they should or should not have done in one or more games during the tournament. After all is said and done this year's intramurals were a big success, and everyone, except the seniors are looking forward to next year when they can try again for the Intramural Basketball Championship.

JUNIOR RING DANCE INITIATES NEXT YEAR'S LEADERS

In the tradition of Vianney leadership, next year's seniors were initiated into the Senior Class at their Junior Ring Day and Dance. As this year's Griffins came of age, so also did next year's seniors as they received their rings, and thus ending three hard years of waiting for the Class of 1969 to finally be on top. The Juniors began their day with a Mass celebrated by Father Osborne. After completing the Mass, the Juniors all enjoyed a chicken lunch which was followed by talks from Ken Cook and Brother Chewning. That evening the Griffins of '69 enjoyed the vibrant sounds of the Impact Soul Review.

INFORMAL DANCES ENTERTAIN

The Vianney Informal Dances are unique in the school social programs, because they provide for an enrichening of the students' social life, and at the same time, give the student a relaxed, casual atmosphere about it. On two occasions, informal dances have been somewhat of a celebration. The Victory Dance after the Aquinas football game fell under this category and of course the ever-popular Computer Dance gave the Griffins a taste of match-making at its finest.

SOCK HOPS EQUAL FUN

"Sock Hops Equal Fun." This statement very adequately describes the situation of the Vianney informal dance that takes place after almost every Friday or Saturday night basketball game at home. After the game is ended, the fans are herded into the lobby and the doors shut, and in the meantime the gym is transformed into a dance floor. The doors are opened and the room begins to rock. The spirit of the Vianney students at these sock hops is one of the finest displays of enthusiasm ever seen.

Graduates, as well, attend the sock hops.

THE GIRL REPS

Of all the factors in Vianney's department of public relations, perhaps the most important is the girl representatives. The girl reps to Vianney this year have reached a new dimension in good public relations, giving Vianney a real, honest image to the surrounding girls' schools. Under the directions of senior Tom Leonard, and working in conjunction with the Vianney Student Council, the girl reps at their monthly meeting with the Vianney Student Council exchange ideas for projects, make suggestions back and forth, and solicit the support of the Vianney men.

LAS VEGAS NIGHT RAISES SPIRIT

Young and old alike enjoy Vianney's Las Vegas Nite.

Of all the Vianney events that take place throughout the year, the most exciting perhaps is the raucous Las Vegas Night. Each year, the twenty homerooms in the school begin to reconstruct the gymnasium into a land of gambling booths, games of skill and chance, and an evening of thrills for everyone, young and old alike. Games such as ring toss, dart boards, horse races, card games, chuck-a-luck, and dice toss make the evening thrill (or sometimes, a disappointment) for every willing and sometimes gullible gambler. The Las Vegas Night is presented each year entirely through the efforts of the students. Each homeroom decides upon a booth and then proceeds to construct it and operate it to rake in as much money as possible to become the "winning" booth.

MAY FESTIVAL GIVES VIANNEY FAMILIES A LIFT

The Midway at Vianny!!

Each year the Vianney Home and School sponsors the Annual May Festival for the families of the Vianney students. One Sunday in May is set aside by each student and his entire family to come to Vianney and enjoy the company of the people there, the rides, games, and the delicious chicken dinner served each year in the cafeteria. This year the May Festival was held on May 19 and a dreary morning turned into a beautiful, sunshine day that promised fun for all who attended the event. A riding lawn mower, a portable color T.V., and a deluxe clock-radio were raffled off toward the end of the day. Other events at this year's Festival were a hole-in-one contest, the Beer Garden, and of course, the evening sock hop for the kids.

That Griffin determination always means a winner.

The younger members of the Vianney family find enjoyment on the merry-go-round.

1967 VIANNEY HOMECOMING AT GRIFFIN STADIUM

On October 16, 1967 at approximately 9:45, a lovely young senior from St. Joseph's Academy stepped on the Vianney stage, escorted by Mike Kopp. Student Council president Mike Buckley placed the glittering crown upon her head as she sat regally in the velvet throne. She was Miss Carol Anne Powell—Vianney's 1967 Homecoming Queen. Her coronation marked the beginning of what may go down in history as Vianney's greatest Homecoming. A feeling pervaded over the loyal Griffin supporters during that famous weekend in October, a certain sense of loyalty that told Vianney's victorious team that no matter what, the spirit would never go down. The fans screamed at the bon fire-pep rally Saturday night, "Our team is red-hot!!" which very 'indirectly' told the team members of the support which would be given them the next day. The game followed, another Griffin victory, to mark a Homecoming no school could ever forget.

Excitement begins as the woodpile grows.

LIBRARY

Vianney's library has a very important function in the development of the Vianney men. Under the competent direction of Brother Joseph Conradt, the library provides the Griffins with outstanding reference facilities as well as numerous well-chosen books covering a wide range of diversified subjects, for checking out. This year, Brother Conradt added to the library an experimental section of paper-backs, from best-sellers to classics. The library also houses several of Brother Urban Neal's progressive World Cultures classes. The library characterizes and further stimulates the mature studious atmosphere of honest endeavor and hard work which permeates the faculty and student body of Vianney.

STUDENT COUNCIL

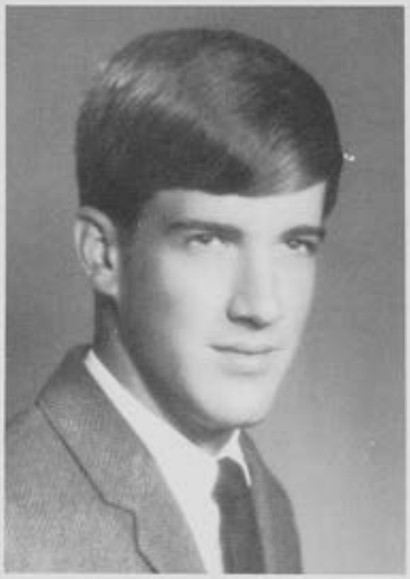

Pictured on this page are the five executive officers of the Vianney Student Council. With the help of moderators, Father Osborne, Bro. Dostal, and Bro. Rogahn, these Griffins are what could be considered the backbone of the Vianney student activities. With Mike Buckley as president, the Student Council led the school in all of the important events of the year. The Homecoming, dances, plays, pep rallies and many many other activities throughout the year start here with President Buckley and his vice presidents Tom Cella, Pat Sly, Steve McElvain, and Pat Lamping, and travel all over the school to enrich it and make it grow.

STUDENT COUNCIL LIEUTENANTS AND REPS REPS BRING NEWS TO . . .

From the start of the year, every homeroom in the school is influenced by the Vianney Student Council. From the executive officers come the ideas, the planning, and the majority of the work, but the important job is taken care of by the individual homeroom reps. The rep is responsible for spreading the ideas and planning into the very heart of the student body and raising the interest level high. The officers, faculty moderators, and students as well rely upon the reps to create an interest, or organize his homeroom and to work with it to bring about the ultimate in school spirit from Vianney.

ART CLUB

The entire Art Club gathers in and on top of the press box.

The Art Club is definitely one of the most useful organizations presently in operation at Vianney. The outstanding decorations which are characteristic of Vianney dances can be attributed to this hard-working group. The Art Club was also responsible for refreshments at all events except football games. The Art Club also turns out hundreds of professional-looking posters on their silk-screening apparatus. All of this is due to the imagination of the moderator, Brother George Dostal, and the determination of about a dozen regular workers. The Art Club will always be ready to devote time and effort for the good of Vianney.

VIANNEY THEATER PRESENTS "ARSENIC AND OLD LACE"

The Vianney Theatre

Mortimer and Elaine discuss their troubles.

To Panama with Teddy!

Charge!!

"Aunt Abby, it's Boris Karloff!!"

This year the Vianney stage boasted of its third three-act play. This year's presentation was the hilarious Broadway comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace." The story concerned two sweet, charming old ladies who very happily poisoned twelve elderly gentlemen and buried them in their cellar. The characters for this year's show were supplied by the talented men of Vianney along with three charming, vivacious high school girls. Senior Tom Leonard captured the leading role of Mortimer Brewster along with John Paulett and Steve Kramer in the roles of Joanathan and Teddy. Miss Pat Gallo of Cor Jesu Academy and Nancy Strohmeyer of Ursuline portrayed the elderly ladies, while Miss Debby Ackermann of Ursuline played the ingenue, Elaine. Others in the cast were Steve Nobel, Jerry Chambers, Jack Stiehr, Steve MacElvain, Mike Browne, Steve Mizerany, Bill Lengfelder, Joe Fehrmann, Bob Maret, and Gary Siegfried. The show was directed by Mr. Charles Eisele and senior Bill Lackner.

ONE-ACT PLAYS EXPAND DRAMA DEPARTMENT

As a part of the ever increasing dramatics department, Vianney presented, for the first time this year three one-act plays. These productions were presented on a special stage platform placed upon the floor of the gym and were perhaps one of the most creative evenings of entertainment Vianney has had. These plays marked a number of Vianney "firsts". "The Glass Menagerie" directed by Bro. Alan Byrd, was Vianney's first drama. "The Diary of Adam and Eve" directed by senior Steve Nobel was the first musical presented at Vianney and senior John Paulett's "The Bald Soprano" written by Ionesco was Vianney's first experimental production. In the future years, the one-acts may become an ever popular attraction.

TALON CAPTURES "GRIFFIN COME OF AGE"

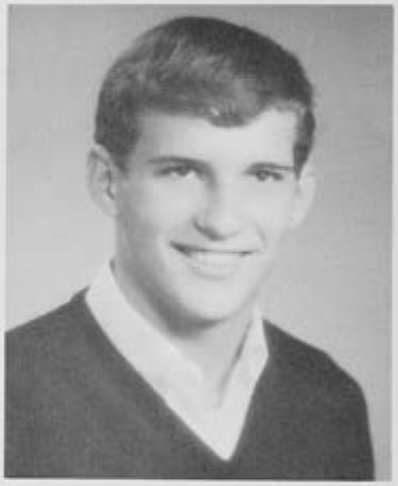

Alan Willer
Editor

To the rest of the student body, room 103 appears to be just an extra room in Vianney. But to the Talon staff it is more than just that. It represents all of the anxieties and frustrations of many Saturday mornings when the yearbook crew battled against time to meet a deadline the following Monday. The determined team, under the capable leadership of Editor-in-chief Al Willer, worked painstaking on every page of the Talon to produce a quality yearbook. Each member, besides seeing that his own job was done, unselfishly came to the aid of other members to help lay out pages, sort out pictures, and type the articles. Truly, more work than first meets the eye goes into the making of the Talon.

NEWSPAPER REPORTS VIEWS OF VIANNEY

The Vianney Griffin is the official newspaper of the school, printing evaluations, reports, and lighter ideas, of various views of Vianney. The Griffin is distributed every term to the student body at Vianney on the last day of the term and is mailed to approximately 250 friends and relatives of the Vianney family. The staff of the Griffin pieces together each issue from the start of the term til the final distribution day. The staff of this year's Griffin included Editor Steve Nobel and the editorial staff consisting of Alan Willer, Steve Werkmeister, Craig Venneman, Tom Hoffman, Mike Browne, Larry Zehnle, and Jim Fleming. With the help of moderators, Brother John Plumpe and Mr. Dan Fuchs, the issues of this year have been most interesting for all interested in Vianney.

The purpose of the photography staff is to supply the yearbook, and the newspaper with the pictures that they need. Also the majority of publicity pictures which appear in the local newspapers are processed by the photography staff. This year the majority of members were sophomores so the future looks bright for photography at Vianney. Next year the moderator, Mr. Schuchard, hopes to be able to obtain some new equipment and improve the present facilities. Presently the photography staff is experimenting in order to find the most efficient method of supplying yearbook and newspaper needs so that more time can be devoted to creative photography. This will hopefully be achieved through the effort and determination of the members.

THE VIANNEY HIGH SCHOOL

VARSITY BAND . . . STRIVES FOR KNOWLEDGE AND MUSICAL EXCELLENCE

This year, the Vianney music department has really outdone itself in overall development and precision in performing its musical arrangements. The band has finally come of age in this the year of Griffin Come of Age because it has achieved a special level which makes it most enjoyable. Perhaps this remarkable renovation is in part due to the dynamic efforts of the new conductor, Mr. Blake. Under his direction, the band has become one unified group and in so doing has produced the most listenable sounds ever heard at Vianney. This is also the year on which Mr. Blake integrated into the band stringed instruments. Thus, the collection of musicians has become a more well rounded group.

PROCTORS KEEP PEACE WITHIN

The proctors this year have done very much for Vianney. They have kept order at assemblies and have directed the students to and from them in an orderly fashion. Disturbances at the assemblies were few and far between. The proctors also controlled unnecessary roughness and enforced the rules in the cafeteria. These monitors appointed students every day after each shift to clean the tables. Under the watchful eye of Bro. Grass and headed by students Terry McKenna and Greg Kirchhofer, they have had a very successful year.

STUDENT COURT KEEPS SCHOOL HONEST

Left to Right: Greg Casalone, Bill Paradowski, Mike Hukenbeck, Bob Ostendorf, Mike Kopp, Jerry Sommer, Joe Sanders.

The culmination of a student run government is found in the student court. Formerly, the student court had been the subject of much abuse and criticism due to a lack of knowledge concerning the court. This past year, however, anyone could observe the proceedings and thus a more efficient and consistent court evolved. Based on the belief that students, rather than the faculty, have a better idea of the difficulties of fellow students the faculty's role in the court was minimized. Therefore this once forgotten activity of Vianney government became a model of what can be contributed by students when the organization is in their hands.

Of the many organizations which respresented Vianney in their various endeavors, none held more prestige or was more exclusive than the National Honor Society.

The Honor Society is designed primarily for the purpose of building an atmosphere for outstanding scholastic achievement, above-average school participation, and noteworthy leadership qualities, and exceptional character development.

The scholastic requirement for NHS election is met by sophomores, juniors, and seniors, who have attained a semester average of 89.5. The activity points earned by a NHS candidate is school activities and organizations provides a basis for the service requirement. Evaluation of leadership and character traits by seven faculty members provides the sufficient information on the qualifications of a candidate in those fields.

According to the demanding specifications of the NHS, sophomores can be admitted to only provisional membership while juniors and seniors become active members. An active member who fails to maintain membership requirements in the semester immediately following his initial election or re-election is automatically placed on probation if, in the following semester he again fails to meet the society's demands; he is never again eligible for membership in the NHS. However, upon graduation, students elected to active membership automatically become NHS graduate members.

LEADERSHIP, CHARACTER, SERVICE

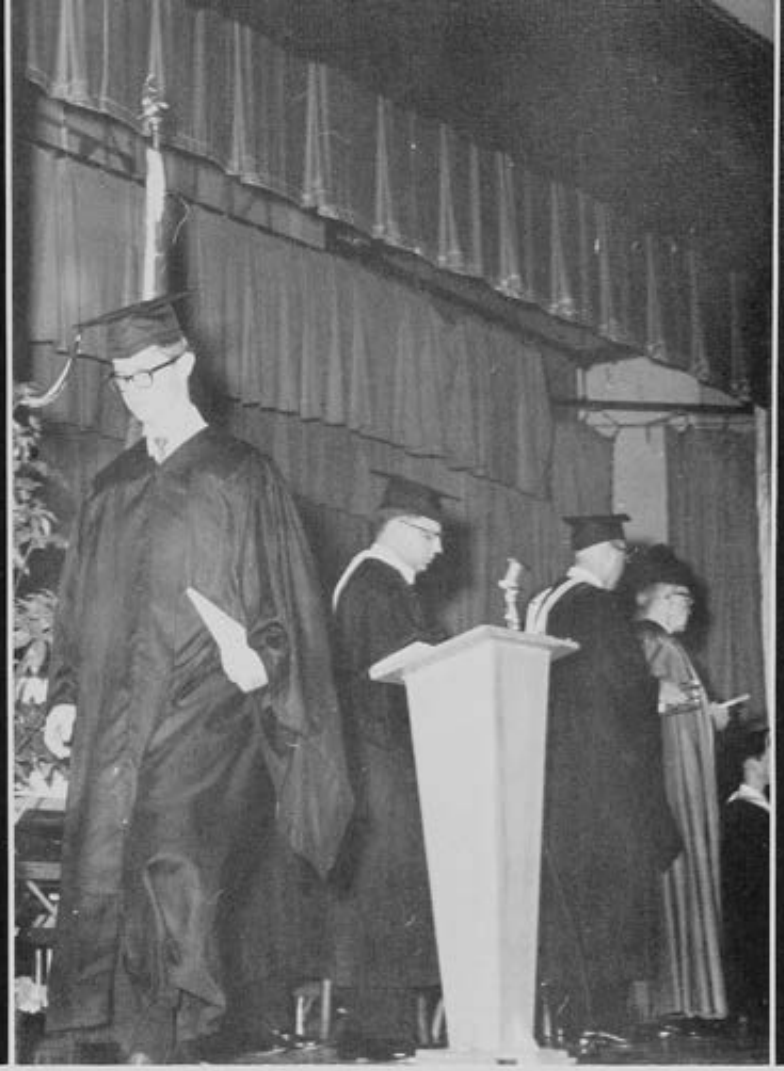

GOLD AND BLACK CIRCLE

GOLD CIRCLE WINNERS: Tony Garofalo (left) and Mike Buckley (right) BLACK CIRCLE WINNER: Al Willer (center).

Whenever anyone reviews a successful year such as the past one—a year in which the Griffin came of age—it is impossible to overlook the outstanding students who through their cooperation and enthusiasm made the year the success what it was. At Vianney, recognition of these exceptional students takes the form of the black and gold circle awards. The awards are based on integrity, scholarship, loyalty, leadership, and generosity, or, in general, distinguished service to Vianney. The ultimate award any Viannet man can receive is, of course, the Gold Circle Award. It is presented in the junior year to students who have accumulated a total of 300 or more activity points in three years. The second biggest award, but just as coveted is the Black Circle Award which is bestowed upon those seniors who fell shy of the point requirement for the Gold Circle Award but still managed to acquire 350 points by the end of the seventh semester or 400 points by the end of the senior year. Besides the prestige accompanying these awards the honored students also are privileged to attend any school sponsored function as guests of Vianney. In this way those who have done the most for the school are repayed in part.

SALUTATORIAN AND VALEDICTORIAN FOR 1969

VALEDICTORIAN

Of all the honors bestowed upon the members of the senior class, the most renowned of all, perhaps, is the title of Valedictorian. The Valedictorian of each class is always selected entirely upon his scholastic ability for four years at school. This person is the one member of the graduating class who has maintained the highest average. This year's Valedictorian from the Class of '68 was Gerald Chambers, a four year Honors Academic student, a member of the National Honor Society, and an active participant in newspaper and yearbook activities. For four active years at Vianney, Jerry has held an average of 92.6, a very deserving individual for this coveted title.

SALUTATORIAN

The Class Salutatorian is known as the person with the second highest average in the graduating class. Around Vianney, this year, the Salutatorian was known as Daniel Narzinski, and he is, no doubt, a very distinguished and deserving recipient of this title. Most of the Vianney students this year identify the name "Dan Narzinski" with matters of height, since Dan is well-known best, perhaps, as Vianney's record-breaking pole vaulter. Beside this tremendous athletic accomplishment, Dan has maintained, over four years at Vianney, a scholastic average of 92.2.
